Nimbusters Ham Board is being re-done this weekend and many DNS will be locked out so all you folks in RRAP - RRAM and RRS be prepared for an utter explosion of cow crap all over UseNet as the usual bunch very-well-known commensurate asswipes that R. Hollingsworth cleaned off of 20 40 and 75 Meters looks for a new "home" to call their own. Remember be nice to them, they can't help themselves you see.

The sysop of the Nimbusters Ham Board has grown tired of their 24/7 bullshi+ and announced he will be pulling the Ham portion of Nimbusters down this weekend, therefore as can be expected the usual bunch of assholes will be migrating here and in a few other Usenet Newsgroups in a very short time. Pathetic is it not? Well ad-least we know these well-known group of 5 or 6 nitnoids are 100% predictable and as long as these 5 or 6 retards are busy behind their keyboards we neednt worry they are behind the wheel of an automobile putting themselves and the general public at risk or worse, luring boys into their filthy ham shacks.

We have DeLorean to thank for forcing Mark off Teranews and into Google.
Thanks to DeLorean, Mark has nowhere else to turn. DeLorean has rendered Mark impotent in that Mark can no longer post 1,500 times or more per month.

Thank You, DeLorean. I tip my hat to you.

You've been rendered ineffectual for all intents and purposes.

You can no longer flame via Teranews.
Your 12 or 14 blogs (who knows how many?) are not visited and garner no interest.
Google limits your per diem posts, though you use several Google accounts to flame Usenet and thereby skirt their daily limits.
DeLorean slapped the snot out of you by having your Teranews account canceled and he did it rather quietly and behind the scenes. And you are still in the dark as to who DeLorean is.

Now, like the dummy you are, you are making a lateral shift and have decided to attack Dan, W4NTI.
Your stupidity never fails to astound me or others.
Are there no limits to your crass ignorance????

A soldier who attacks from the front and the back, is more of a concern than a dedicated rear gunner. At least you know where a rear gunner is! As long as your botty guard is in place,you're safe.

First, let's lay some ground work.
Mark, KB9RQZ, admits that he is bisexual. His blogs attest to that. No other Hams in this group do so.
Secondly, Mark, the greatest abuser of this group, takes umbrage when he is referred to as being "gay". Mark, while admitting to male-male sexual liasons in which he has participated, seems to draw some sort of "line" between bisexual and homosexual relationships.
Mark resents being referred to as being "Gay". He has, after all, some sort of strange pecking order priority in which bisexuals stand a rung or two above the lowly gay guys. Or so he sees it.

You figure it out.

You are nobody's boss, apparently you have a misconception that Government employees somehow work for you or the public. Nevertheless,
RH has done a great job when compared the state of affairs of the ARS
10 years ago. Once again you prove your stupidity and show how little you know. Considering that LE won't act on your bogus complaints show that they are doing a great job and they don't answer to YOU, I commend them.

No you are not minding your own affairs, you are attempting to meddle in the affiars of Roger and the FCC, mind your own business Fatty.
BTW where have I ever said anything about who you sleep with, I don't care and I am repulsed by even the thought of all that blubber flailing around. From your appearance, I don't think anyone is sleeping with you, unless they are heavily sedated.

You are nobody's boss, apparently you have a misconception that Government employees somehow work for you or the public. Nevertheless,
RH has done a great job when compared the state of affairs of the ARS
10 years ago. Once again you prove your stupidity and show how little you know. Considering that LE won't act on your bogus complaints show that they are doing a great job and they don't answer to YOU, I commend them.

THE ORIGIN OF THE WORD AVIATOR

This explains it all. As aviators, we come from a long line of a secret society, formed around one thousand years ago. We are warriors, and here is the proof! Ground pounders can read it and weep!

A little known fact is the origin of the word, "Aviator." In the immortal words of Johnny Carson: "I didn't know that."

Phu Khen (pronounced Foo Ken) 1169-? is considered by some to be the most under-recognized military officer in history. Many have never heard of his contributions to modern military warfare. The mission of this secret society is to bring honor to the name of Phu Khen.

A 'Khen' was a subordinate to a 'Khan' (pronounced 'konn') in the military structure of the Mongol hordes. Khan is Turkish for leader. Most know of the great Genghis Khan, but little has been written of his chain of command.

Khen is also of Turkish origin. Although there is not a word in English that adequately conveys the meaning. Roughly translated, it means, One who will do the impossible, while appearing unprepared and complaining constantly."

Phu Khen was one of ten Khens that headed the divisions, or groups of hordes, as they were known, of the Mongol Army serving under Genghis Khan.

His abilities came to light during the Mongols' raids on the Turkistan city of Bohicaroo. Bohicans were fierce warriors and the city was well fortified.

The entire city was protected by huge walls and the hordes were at a standoff with the Bohicans. Bohicaroo was well stocked and it would be difficult to wait them out. Genghis Khan assembled his Khens and ordered each of them to develop a plan for penetrating the defenses of Bohicaroo.

Operation Achieve Victory (AV) was born. All 10 divisions of Khens submitted their plan. After reviewing AV plans 1 thru 7 and finding them all unworkable or ridiculous, Genghis Khan was understandably upset. It was with much perspiration that Phu Khen submitted his idea, which came to be known as AV 8. Upon seeing AV 8, Genghis was convinced this was the perfect plan and gave his immediate approval.

The plan was beautifully simple. Phu Khen would arm his hordes to the teeth, load them into catapults, and hurl them over the wall. The losses were expected to be high, but hey, hordes were cheap! Those that survived the flight would engage the enemy in combat. Those that did not? Well, surely their flailing bodies would cause some damage.

The plan worked and the Bohicans were defeated. From that day on, whenever the Mongol Army encountered an insurmountable enemy, Genghis Khan would give the order, "Send some of Phu Khen's AV 8-ers." This is believed, though not by anyone outside our secret society, to be the true origin of the word Aviator (AV 8-er).

Phu Khen's AV 8-ers were understandably an unruly mob, not likely to be socially acceptable. Many were heavy drinkers and insomniacs. But when nothing else would do, you could always count on an AV 8-er. A Phu Khen Aviator.

Denied, perhaps rightfully so, his place in history, Phu Khen has been, nonetheless, immortalized in prose. As the great poet Norman Lear never once said: "There once was a man named Phu Khen, Whose breakfast was whiskey and gin. When e'er he'd fly, He'd give a mighty war cry: "Bend over, here it comes again." (BOHICA)

Consider it an honor to be a Phu Khen Aviator. Wear the mantle proudly, but speak of it cautiously. It is not always popular to be one of us.

You hear mystical references, often-hushed whispers, to 'those Phu Khen Aviators.'

Do not let these things bother you. As with any secret society, we go largely misunderstood, prohibited by our apathy from explaining ourselves.

You are expected to always live down to the reputation of the Phu Khen Aviator...a reputation cultivated for centuries, undaunted by scorn or ridicule, unhindered by progress.

So drink up, be crude, sleep late, urinate in public, and get the job done.

When others are offended, you can revel in the knowledge that...

YOU are a PHU KHEN AVIATOR!

What does this have to do with "HAM RADIO" - ABSOLUTELY NOTHING, but it is better than the other garbage that has been posted in here the last week!!!!!

John was a salesman's delight when it came to any kind of unusual gimmick.

His wife Marsha had long ago given up trying to get him to change. One day, John came home with another one of his unusual purchases. It was a robot that John claimed was actually a lie detector.

It was just about 5:30 that afternoon when Tommy, their 11 year old son returned home from school. Tommy was over 2 hours late.

'Where have you been? Why are you over 2 hours late getting home?', they asked.

'Several of us went to the library to work on an extra credit project' said Tommy.

The Robot then walked around the table and slapped Tommy, knocking him completely out of his chair.

'Son, this robot is a lie detector, now tell us where you went after school.'

'We went to Bobby's house and watched a movie.'

'What did you watch?' asked Marsha.

'The Ten Commandments.' answered Tommy.

The Robot went around to Tommy and once again slapped him, knocking him off his chair.

With lip quivering, Tommy got up, sat down and said, 'I am sorry I lied. We really watched a tape called Sex Queen.'

'I'm ashamed of you Son,' said John. 'When I was your age, I never lied to my parents.'

The robot then walked around to John and delivered a roundhouse right that nearly knocked him out of his chair.

Marsha was bent double laughing, almost in tears.

'Boy, did you ever ask for that one! And you can't be too mad with Tommy. After all, He is your son!'

The Robot immediately walked around to Marsha and slapped her three times.

On a bathroom wall at Wal-Mart stores in Ohio, Texas, Montana, Illinois, Maine, Oregon, Peking, Istanbul, and Tokyo.
There used to be one in a Wal-Mart store in northern Michigan, but somebody scribbled out N9OGL with a Magic Marker and wrote KB9RQZ over it instead.

Broadband service over power lines in Texas to shut down
May 7, 2008 (4:47p CDT)
By PETER SVENSSON (AP Technology Writer)

NEW YORK - Goodbye, broadband over power lines. We hardly knew you.

Once touted as a possible third option for home broadband that could compete with phone and cable companies, the idea of providing Internet service over power lines now looks like it has died in infancy.

A Texas utility company said last week that it is taking control of the equipment that was to be used in the largest planned U.S. deployment of broadband over power lines, or BPL - and won't be using it to provide Internet service.

Oncor Electric Delivery Co., the Dallas-based distribution arm of former TXU Corp., said it will buy the network from BPL technology provider Current Group LLC of Germantown, Md.

The network was to offer Internet service to 2 million electricity customers through their wall outlets. Instead, Oncor will use the data capabilities of the network to monitor the electric grid.

"Our business is delivering electricity, not being an Internet provider or a television provider," said Oncor spokesman Chris Schein.

Other BPL trials have met with similar fates, though a few are still in operation. Compared to coaxial cables and copper phone lines, power lines are poor conduits for data. Some deployments also met fierce legal resistance from ham radio operators, who found that BPL created radio interference.

The Federal Communications Commission was a booster of BPL. FCC commissioner - now chairman - Kevin Martin said in 2004 that the technology had the potential to become an Internet solution "throughout the United States."

Yet the FCC found only 4,776 BPL subscribers in the country at the end of 2006, the latest figures it has published.

Not suprised. A failed technology before it even got started that could never compete with more advanced technology like DSL, Sat,

Cable, and Fiber.

Gender Education & Media, Inc. (GEM) has released its second GenderVision program, "Being Transgender • Myths & Youth Issues". This second entry in the ongoing production focuses on the meaning and experience of being Transgender.

GEM has also released a DVD of its first GenderVision program, "Sex & Gender", including a performance by Esther Morris Leidolf of her "Missing Vagina Monologue". The DVD can be purchased at http://www.gendervision.org/

Then Nancy and Gordene interview Grace Sterling Stowell, director of BAGLY, the Boston Alliance of Gay, Lesbian Bisexual and Transgender Youth. They discuss the services provided by BAGLY, as well as some of the issues that Trans youth face. Then Nancy, Grace and Gordene expose some of the most popular myths about Transgender people.

Gordene O. MacKenzie, PhD. is a long-time gender activist and author of "Transgender Nation", who serves as an associate professor and director of the Women's and Gender Studies Program at Merrimack College. Nancy Nangeroni is a long-time Transgender activist, founder of GenderTalk Radio, and current co-chair of the Massachusetts Transgender Political Coalition (http://masstpc.org/). Today is International Disturbed People's Day

Please send an encouraging message to a disturbed friend... just as I've done.

I don't care if you lick windows, take the special bus
or occasionally pee on yourself..
You hang in there sunshine, you're friggin' special.

Every sixty seconds you spend angry, upset or mad, is a full minute of happiness you'll never get back.

Today's Message of the Day is:

Life is short, Break the rules, Forgive quickly, Kiss slowly, Love truly, Laugh uncontrollably, And never regret anything that made you smile.

Send to all the people you love and don't want to lose in 2008, even me.
If you get 3 back, you are a great friend.
Life may not be the party we hoped for, but while we're here we should dance.

NASA is inviting everyone to send their name to the moon on board the Lunar Reconnaissance Orbiter.

Right now you can log onto a special NASA Web site that is collecting names, which will be put on a microchip that will be integrated into the LRO.

The LRO mission is the first step in NASA's plans to return humans to the moon by 2020.

The deadline to add your name to the microchip is June 27.

I'd love to have heard Mark's CW operation during a

Of course that's where your are wrong again.

Just because a "HAM" chooses not to post under his own call sign, doesn't mean that there aren't any hams other than YOU in this NG. We are many.

I did post using my call a couple of years ago, and YOU and YOUR SCREWY bunch of friends caused me problems.. therefore I use what I use.

As to why you should copy to the NG when you send your email to RH, so that we can all see what you have written and that It goes thru reality and not just your head!

In actuality, I don't think that its any of your business, or anybody's else's business as to what RH does or does not do, and how long it takes him to do what he needs to do. Government takes its time on a lot of things and I am sure that this is not the highest priority at this time.. If your buddy hadn't screwed around then we probably wouldn't be having this conversation about his problems with the FCC.

Why should I lie? And why am I gutless?

Why did you cut off the rest of the conversation - it appears that you are afraid of the truth! So be it - Apparently you don't have the social skills to carry on a decent conversation with someone..
All you seem to be able to do is SPAM the group with your nonsensical garbage "FAKE & etc." in everything that you post!
That really shows the sign of an individual lacking the correct use of his brain, you have made a mockery out of everything.
You keep telling me that I post OT - I guess that you don't think that your POOP don't stink - and that you are above everybody here in the group - guess again POOPER - it stinks worse than everybody else's and you are lower than CRAB POOP on the bottom of the ocean!

Amazing how Nimbusters Ham Board goes away and all the clowns and shitheads come right back to Usenet, although two of them are QRM'ing the Great Liberty Net as I type this. (you know who you are in the midwest - same shit different day - I hope RH nails your pathetic asses to the wall)

The Board Op of Nimbusters finally got fet up with their homo-erotic bullcrap and kicked all of their sorry asses off of the Nimbusters Ham BBS last week and shut it down, so as a result they are moving back to Usenet mostly on the Rec.Radio.Amateur.Policy NG. They can't help themselves it's too deep in their heads and they cannot stop themselves, sortal like the junkie on smack or the boozer on cheap beer & gin. Same pathetic scenario.

know who they are as they came from Nimbusters and are pissed off since it's gone and they can't hold their pissing

Yet, oddly, Mark will challenge some of us on Usenet to post our names and calls. He tells us that we are "coiwards".
The odd part of this is that Mark himself knows well what it is like to be targeted by stalkers such as Woger. Mark has received harassing phone calls, has had his email Inbox flooded, has been the victim of anonymous snail mail letters, and has, according to Mark, been threatened on more than one occasion.
And all of this happened to Mark because he, the Dummy that he is, was stupid enough to post his name and call. And, additionaly, because Mark is still so stupid as to flame various groups and make a general pest of himself, his tribulations will not soon cease.

By refusing to post his home phone number on the CCRAA site, so what? If you ask around I am sure that Roger can post the number for you. Roger has done this in the past, much to Mark's chagrin.

Yes, Mark is indeed a POS, but he is not a "chicken". Stupid? Yes.
Borderline psychotic? Yes.
Sexually confused? Yes. Societally acceptable? No.

All in all, when you look at Mark and his disjointed musings you just can't help feeling sorry for the clown.

As Jesus once prayed, and I paraphrase, "Father, forgive him, for he knows not that which he has done."

New Releases from Gender Education & Media at http://gendervision.org/

Gender Education & Media, Inc. (GEM) has released its second GenderVision program, "Being Transgender • Myths & Youth Issues". This second entry in the ongoing production focuses on the meaning and experience of being Transgender.

GEM has also released a DVD of its first GenderVision program, "Sex & Gender", including a performance by Esther Morris Leidolf of her "Missing Vagina Monologue". The DVD can be purchased at http://www.gendervision.org/
, as well as http://amazon.com/ .

In this second GenderVision program, Gordene O. MacKenzie, PhD, carefully explains the difference between sex and gender, as well as some of the basics of gender identity and expression. Then Nancy and Gordene interview Grace Sterling Stowell, director of BAGLY, the Boston Alliance of Gay, Lesbian Bisexual and Transgender Youth. They discuss the services provided by BAGLY, as well as some of the issues that Trans youth face. Then Nancy, Grace and Gordene expose some of the most popular myths about Transgender people.

Gordene O. MacKenzie, PhD. is a long-time gender activist and author of "Transgender Nation", who serves as an associate professor and director of the Women's and Gender Studies Program at Merrimack College. Nancy Nangeroni is a long-time Transgender activist, founder of GenderTalk Radio, and current co-chair of the Massachusetts Transgender Political Coalition (http://masstpc.org/). They are also life partners who have been working together on gender education and advocacy since 1998; they co-hosted the renowned GenderTalk radio program (http://gendertalk.com/) for over 9 years. They produce and co-host GenderVision, which is taped at BevCam cable access studio in Beverly, MA.

Gender Education & Media (GEM) is a Beverly, Massachusetts-based non-profit organisation formed to support educational media work promoting inclusive understanding of gender issues.

It is just another one of dumb Fatty's mutilation of someone else's past response to him. You see. Fatty does not have an original idea floating around in that fucking empty space that he calls a skull. And if you watch Fatty's postings for a while, you will learn what Fatty likes to do is rip of other folk's lines and such becuase he can't come up with anything on his own. For an example, when you use somthing for a while, such as telling fatty to get a life, and then stop using it, Fatty will begin a little while latter to start telling you and everyone else to "gte a life" but of course he fucks it up everytime with his misspellings.

In this case Woger used to tell Fatty "PKB" all of the time on the Nimbusters ham board. which means "Pot, Kettle, Black (Usenet shorthand for 'Look at the pot calling the kettle black)" but of course once again our local idiot fucks up by posting "PBK"...LOL! Our Morkins...always good for a laugh if you know about his lies about having three College Degrees. I love it Morkie, your stupidity is always good for a gut busting laughfest at your expense. The only thing I have not figured out is whether you are uglier than stupid, or is it the other way around.

Your are really a SICKOOOOOOOOOOO!

"and you are making death threats fool" - and just where does your sick FRIGGIN mind come up with this POOP! I wrote the following "and cousin Guido MIGHT pay you a visit" look at the word in large type [MIGHT] - nothing here saying anything about any kind of threats - physical or otherwise!! your such a stupid and ignorant idiotic NUTCASE that's has escaped from some NUTHOUSE and the folks in the little white coats haven't caught with you

"that I am into shit for one that I am behind the many nyms you citied in

That big PIMPLE that you refer to as a head on your shoulders must be full of POOP instead of the proper gray matter that the rest of the world has...
and then again your POOP filled PIMPLE must be starting to shrivel in size to that of a small speck of a seed feeding you POOP abt something someone else said about you and blaming me for your stupidity! You should better have your eyes checked - you probably have too much POOP in front of the lenses....

RH is not cheating anyone, unlike you he has a real job, one that he must be very good at considering all of the speaking engagments he is invited to attend by various ham clubs around the nation. RH deserves a promotion and a big raise for the good work he continues to provide to the ARS.

Get a life Fatty, get a real job.

So? He also has a real ham ticket, unlike that fake one that you have.

Dan also has way more intellegence than you, and unlike you he has a verifiable proven record of military service to this country, not the fake fantasy that you make up about your life.

But I will admit that you do have somthing that Dan does not, a mental defect.

In other words, this guy's project is to: i) disrupt the newsgroups, ii) attract people to his personal blog, iii) censor in any way he feels fit to censor, and iv) maybe collect into his own personal "spy" database a collection of information, data, dossier, whatever, on anyone who responds to him.

There is a lot of this trash on the internet these days.

Yeah, I noticed the spelling, grammar, sentence structure, and thought structure in his -- what is it? -- big long sentence (was that a sentence)?

A parallel bastardisation of "marinate" (a cooking term) but emphasizing the root word "moron".

You have to become an amateur psychiatrist to figure out how these guys' (scatter/scattered) brains work, and in the end maybe you don't have much choice but to give up.

Yeah, I'd say he's a troll. Not even a good one, either.

A good troll would stimulate discussion, stimulate the brain, cause focused, purposeful, useful discussion and otherwise be good for something.

ZCZC AX04
QST de W1AW
Special Bulletin 4 ARLX004
From ARRL Headquarters
Newington CT May 12, 2008
To all radio amateurs

SB SPCL ARL ARLX004
ARLX004 Ronald A Parise, WA4SIR, SK

Dr Ronald A. Parise, PhD, WA4SIR, passed away Friday May 9, 2008 after a very long and courageous battle with cancer. He was 57.

Parise flew as a payload specialist on two space shuttle missions: STS-35 on Columbia in December 1990 and STS-67 on the Endeavour in March 1995. These two missions, ASTRO-1 and ASTRO-2 respectively, carried out ultraviolet and x-ray astronomical observations, logging more than 614 hours and 10.6 million miles in space.

Parise was one of the first astronomers to operate a telescope from space, making hundreds of observations during the mission. Amateur Radio on the International Space Station (ARISS) Chairman Frank H. Bauer, KA3HDO, said Parise's personal contributions to these two missions provided scientists with "an unprecedented view of our universe, expanding our understanding of the birth, life and death of stars and galaxies."

First licensed when he was 11, Parise kept Amateur Radio at the forefront of everything he did, including his operations from space. During his two shuttle flights, he spoke with hundreds of hams on the ground. He was instrumental in guiding the development of a simple ham radio system that could be used in multiple configurations on the space shuttle; as a result, his first flight on Columbia ushered in what Bauer called the "frequent flyer era" of the Shuttle Amateur Radio Experiment (SAREX) payload.

Parise was the first ham in space to operate packet radio. "His flight pioneered the telebridge ground station concept to enable more schools to talk to shuttle crew members despite time and orbit constraints," Bauer said. "In his two shuttle flights, he inspired countless students to seek technical careers and he created memories at the schools and communities that will never be forgotten. Ron was also the ultimate ham radio operator -- in space and on the ground."

Bauer said that Parise's love for Amateur Radio and his love of inspiring students continued well beyond his two shuttle flights: "During the formation of the ARISS program, Ron was a tremendous resource to the newly forming international team. I know of many instances where Ron's wisdom and sage advice was instrumental in helping our international team resolve issues when we reached critical technical or political roadblocks. He was a key volunteer in the development of the ham radio hardware systems that are now on-board ISS. The ARISS team is deeply indebted to WA4SIR for his leadership, technical advice and tremendous vision."

Parise worked hand-in-hand with the students at the US Naval Academy and Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University on the development of their student satellites. He helped develop Radio Jove, a student educational project to listen to the radio signals emanating from Jupiter. Parise spoke at numerous schools over the years, inspiring students to pursue careers in science, math and technology.

"Ron Parise was--and continues to be--an inspiration to countless students, ham radio operators, and friends the world over. His accomplishments were many, including space explorer, pioneer, astrophysicist, pilot, ham radio operator, avionics and software expert, inspirational speaker and motivator, student satellite mentor, husband, father and friend. While he certainly did some truly extraordinary things in his lifetime, Ron Parise is best known and cherished for keeping family and friends first, and for this, we will miss him most," Bauer said.

In an effort to continue Parise's work to inspire the next generation, his family has set up a scholarship fund in Parise's honor for students pursuing technical degrees at Youngtown State University, Parise's alma mater. In lieu of flowers, those interested are welcome to send donations to the Dr Ronald A. Parise Scholarship Fund, Youngstown State University, One University Plaza, Youngstown, OH 44555.

While I am not impressed with the site either, there is a term in technical English: "granularity" (think if a grain of sand). It means the smallest division in data or an adjustment. Today's technician or engineer would call it "resolution". In engineering, up until 15 or 20 years ago, the popular term in engineering was granularity - not to be confused with jocularity). Anyway - it is clear in that quoted phrase that the meaning is something like "fine-tuning knob".

The Day the Penis asked for a Raise

I, the Penis, hereby request a raise in salary for the following reasons:
I do physical labor.
I work at great depths.
I plunge headfirst into everything I do.
I do not get weekends or public holidays off.
I work in a damp environment.
I work in a dark workplace that has poor ventilation.
I work in high temperatures.
My work exposes me to contagious diseases.
Sincerely,

P. Niss

The Response

Dear P. Niss:
After assessing your request, and considering the arguments you have raised, the administration rejects your request for the following reasons:
You do not work 8 hours straight.
You fall asleep after brief work periods.
You do not always follow the orders of the management team. You do not stay in your designated area and are often seen visiting other locations..
You do not take initiative - you need to be pressured and stimulated in order to start working.
You leave the workplace rather messy at the end of your shift.
You don't always observe necessary safety regulations, such as wearing the correct protective clothing..
You will retire well before you are 65.
You are unable to work double shifts.
You sometimes leave your designated work area before you have completed the assigned task.
And if that were not all, you have been seen constantly entering and exiting the workplace carrying two suspicious-looking bags.
Sincerely,
V. Gina

The Profit is pretty cool. I like listening to these fire and Maybe for everyone's benefit, everyone (at least the "good" guys here) should realize something that Jack (above) made a comment about. We're all benefitting by these free and open (unmoderated) newsgroups where you have as free speech as free speech can be free. Over the last 10+ years or so, all manner of commercialization has invaded the internet and quite a bit of it has been aimed at getting people to come over to website chatrooms where the censorship, stealing of authored ideas, creation of databases to invade your privacy, throw "in-your-face" advertising, and exploitation of vulnerabilities in your web browsers to place malware, spyware, rootkits, keystroke loggers, etc., onto your boxes (you gus do have your browsers configured to decline cookies, disable java/javascript/pop-ups, auto-anything, right?).

Fine, owners of websites can run them the way they want. Next time these cheap trolls come on here and try to suck/cajole/entrap/entice an audience over to their website chatroom, go and see if you can play the game with them (make a post there and invite people to come back to these really free, open old-fashioned newsgroups and see how long it lasts). As far as I'm concerned, all these guys running censored chatrooms or whatever and constantly coming to newsgroups to suck away "victims" are a bunch of parasites.

Otherwise, we're living in a world where "power" games are being played on us...everything from telemarketing calls to our home telephones to chatroom trolls.

Does the ARRL'S FD rules allow an operator to operate on two different FD sites? There is a club in my town and another 100 miles away. I plan to travel on that day so it is possible for me to be at both site during the FD08 for few contacts...

Well, Girl Potato and Boy Potato had eyes for each other, and finally they got married, and had a little sweet potato, which they called 'Yam.'

Of course, they wanted the best for Yam.

When it was time, they told her about the facts of life.

They warned her about going out and getting half-baked, so she wouldn't get accidentally mashed, and get a bad name for herself like 'Hot Potato,' and end up with a bunch of Tater Tots.

Yam said not to worry, no Spud would get her into the sack and make a rotten potato out of her!

But on the other hand she wouldn't stay home and become a Couch Potato either.

She would get plenty of exercise so as not to be skinny like her Shoestring cousins.

When she went off to Europe, Mr and Mrs. Potato told Yam to watch out for the hard-boiled guys from Ireland.

And the greasy guys from France called the French Fries. And when she went out west, to watch out for the Indians so she wouldn't get scalloped.

Yam said she would stay on the straight and narrow and wouldn't associate with those high class Yukon Golds, or the ones from the other side of the tracks who advertise their trade on all the trucks that say, 'Frito Lay.'

Mr. and Mrs. Potato sent Yam to Idaho P.U. (that's Potato University) so that when she graduated she'd really be in the Chips.

But in spite of all they did for her, one-day Yam came home and announced she was going to marry Tom Brokaw.

Tom Brokaw!

Mr. and Mrs. Potato were very upset.

They told Yam she couldn't possibly marry Tom Brokaw because he's just.....

""Strong earthquake hits China, all ham radio operators stand by PLEASE HELP TO SPREAD THE FOLLOWING MESSAGE

Strong earthquake hits China, all ham radio operators stand by A Magnitude 7.8 earthquake hits Sichuan, China on Monday, May 12, 2008 at 06:28:04 UTC. Casualties and loss unknown up to now. According to Chinese Radio Sports Association, 14.270Mhz, 7.050 and 7.060 Mhz are preserved for amateur radio emergency service in the rescue. Please spread this message as far as you can and keep the frequencies clean for emergency use. Thank you.

Yesterday, 05:57 PM
BG8AAS from Chengdu, Sichuan reported that local UHF repeater survived in the disaster. It keeps functioning from the 1st minute and more than 200 local radio hams are now on that repeater. A group of hams from Chengdu has headed for Wenchuan, the center of the quake, trying to setup emergency communication services there.

BA8AB, also from Chengdu, Sichuan, is active on the 40m emergency frequency. Up to now, no further information available from the center zone of the quake. There are a few radio amateurs there, but all of the communications have been cut out, including amateur radio.

Yesterday, 06:58 PM
Update

According to BG8AAS, local UHF repeater in Chengdu keeps busy running after the quake. It helps to direct social vehicles to transport the wounded from Dujiangyan, Beichuan, and other regions. Another UHF repeater also starts its working in Mianyan, supported by generators.
However, they are going to face a shortage of gas.

Damage in Chengdu remains in the lowest level, but the situation is very very bad in the counties around. A few towns are said to be destroyed completely. More than 7000 died in the town of Beichuan. Casualties in several other towns are still unknown and not counted in the published numbers.

It is a long and sad day.

Today, 08:31 AM
Your attention please! 14.270Mhz is now reserved for ARES in 5.12 earth quake in Sichuan, China. Please help to keep this frequency clear.

A group of radio amateurs is now transmitting from Wenchuan, the center of quake. Its signal is reported to be very weak. They tried to keep communication with BY8AA in Chengdu, seeking for all resources needed. During a contact finished a few minutes ago, they were asking for raincoats, water, tents, and outdoor living facilities.

PLEASE HELP TO FORWARD THIS MESSAGE TO ALL RELEVANT FORUMS, MAILING LISTS, AND NEWS RESOURCES. MEANWHILE, KEEP THE ABOVE FREQUENCY CLEAN FOR EMERGENCY COMMUNICATION.

The proven way to get the kooks out of any NG is to simply ignore them and they will go away. For the most part they are lonely souls that do not have a life in the real world. Off topic stuff in a NG prompts others to listen to their nonsense. Egnore them for a while and see for yourself

A mom was concerned about her kindergarten son walking to school. He didn't want his mother to walk with him. She wanted to give him the feeling that he had some independence but yet know that he was safe. So she had an idea of how to handle it.

She asked a neighbor if she would please follow him to school in the mornings, staying at a distance, so he probably wouldn't notice her. The neighbor said that since she was up early with her toddler anyway, it would be a good way for them to get some exercise as well, so she agreed.

The next school day, the neighbor and her little girl set out following behind Timmy as he walked to school with another neighbor boy he knew. She did this for the whole week.

As the boys walked and chatted, kicking stones and twigs, Timmy's little friend noticed the same lady was following them as she seemed to do everyday all week. Finally he said to Timmy, "Have you noticed that lady following us to school all week? Do you know her?" Timmy nonchalantly replied, "Yeah, I know who she is."

The friend said, "Well, who is she?" "That's just Shirley Goodnest," Timmy replied, "and her daughter Marcy."

"Shirley Goodnest? Who the heck is she and why is she following us?"

"Well," Timmy explained, "every night my mom makes me say the 23rd Psalm with my prayers, because she worries about me so much. And in the Psalm, it says, "Shirley Goodnest and Marcy shall follow me all the days of my life, so I guess I'll just have to get used to it!"

May the Lord bless you and keep you; may the Lord make His face to shine up on you, and be gracious unto you; may the Lord lift His countenance upon you, and give you peace (Numbers 6:24-26). Shirley Goodnest and Marcy be with you today and always.

the total trafffice to this NG these days

Correct, one maybe 2 others. If you'd take the time and look at their IP addy, you'll see that there really is only one person usually doing the posts. You say that you have stopped posting and "they" continue with it. You're wrong, if you just ignore the posts, they would eventually go away (because what fun would it be if you didn't give them a reaction).
Honestly, most people give you a hard time because when one person puts up 6 posts, under 2 or 3 different screen nics, you respond with the same message 2, 3, sometimes 4 times under each post saying the same thing.
That's what irks me and from what I see most others.
The posts showing what you have posted in just over a year & half is not counting forged nics, that being searched via your IP and only yours, so if you some how think that it's normal to post more than 3000 times in even a 2 year period, saying the same thing is normal, you're wrong. That's at a minimum of doing 4.1 posts everyday, 24 hours a day for 2 fricken years.
That's only with just saying "fake", can you even begin to fathom how many it would be if you counted "dloyd", "lies", "spam" etc?
I have done this post in all honesty, please stop responding to that idiot so at least Rec.radio.cb can back to some sort of normalcy.

itI wa snot here from 2000 to 2005 and it never stooped and to get the reaction they wanted they contacted my neighboors

why should I come with new meesages for the same old borring shit

be irked that is your right

but since you are prepared to tolerate one or at most 3 people harrass other users of the web then honest I don't give a damm if you are irked

your opinion

but then as far as I am concered you don't count

but you have missed RRAP is a reality smal number of posts there are other NG where single users may post several a day I get more than 2000 emails a day

why should I allow anyone including you the right to decide that I must endure the treament you are demanding I accept unanswered?

you do not even grant me the coutesy of your name

as long as you treat me with such disrespect (and for that matter you could be the forger the ip address could be happened by simply you droping in to starbuck for coffe and interent) why should I do as you wish

indeed why should I surrender my rights for you or anyone else

Medtronic Initiates Voluntary Field Actions for Selected Heparin-Coated Products Used During Cardiopulmonary Bypass Contact:
Daniel Beach
Public Relations
763-505-2603

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE -- MINNEAPOLIS - May 7, 2008 - Medtronic, Inc. today announced that it is initiating a voluntary and precautionary recall of selected products featuring the Carmeda BioActive surface. The affected devices are disposable products used during cardiopulmonary bypass (CPB) for heart surgeries. Affected products include blood oxygenators, reservoirs, pumps, cannulae, and tubing packs. This action is being taken subsequent to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration's April 8, 2008 recommendation to device manufacturers that heparin supplies be checked with newly-developed tests, and that affected products be evaluated for possible field corrective action.

Limited lots of Carmeda-coated products were manufactured with heparin found to have been contaminated with oversulfated chondroitin sulfate (OSCS). The patient risk associated with the presence of OSCS in heparin-coated medical devices is not known at this time. However, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration has received reports of serious injury and death in patients who have been administered injectable heparin products containing high levels of OSCS.

Medtronic has not received reports of any OSCS-related adverse events arising from the use of Carmeda CPB products. It is unclear, however, if exposure to Carmeda-coated medical devices, made with comparatively small amounts of heparin, could cause adverse events similar to those observed with injectable heparin formulations. As a result, Medtronic has initiated a precautionary recall of affected Carmeda products.

In a separate action, Medtronic is advising customers that selected lots of Trillium-coated products were also manufactured with heparin containing OSCS. Trillium is another biosurface used on CPB products. The amount of heparin on the product is significantly lower than that contained on the Carmeda product. Medtronic's ultimate goal is to remove contaminated products from the market. However, based on the current data, the benefit of using the affected products outweighs any potential risk to patients. Since the maximum possible patient exposure to heparin from Trillium is extremely low, customers can continue to use the affected Trillium products until a replacement is available.

The above actions are being made with the knowledge of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. Patients with questions should talk to their physician. Physicians or Pefusionists with medical questions related to Medtronic therapies should contact Medtronic at 1-800-638 0218, Monday - Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. CDT

normaly one maybe another person or 2

That does equate to quantity of 2

itI wa snot here from 2000 to 2005 and it never stooped and to get the
reaction they wanted they contacted my neighboors

So you are now saying that the one person doing this will do the exact same thing? In the day and age of "caller ID" and not being able to call through unless you unblock the #, he would do the same thing?
Not going to happen Mark.

why should I come with new meesages for the same old borring shit

Exactly, why do you keep posting the same old boring "Sh*t"?
Ignore it, for a few weeks maybe even a few months he'll do his best to get you riled, but ignore it and it will go away.

> That's what irks me and from what I see most others.

be irked that is your right

but since you are prepared to tolerate one or at most 3 people harrass
other users of the web then honest I don't give a damm if you are
irked

Well I have said it more than once, I have complained about him too, I have sent complaints to his ISP too, you are not being singled out. But you continue to throw fuel onto the fire every time you reply to his nonsense.
As for not giving a damn.....Well I truly couldn't care if you dropped dead either, but since you want to always perpetuate the matters, you will always get what you deserve in the end.

your opinion

No, fact, not opinion at all. Would you really like me to do an IP search of every post you've ever made and post the counts?

but then as far as I am concered you don't count

Neither do you, except the fact is that you pollute the newsgroups far worst than any of you "so called" attackers (all of one or two people).

but you have missed RRAP is a reality smal number of posts there are other NG where single users may post several a day I get more than

You get 2000 emails a day? at your Hughes account addy?

why should I allow anyone including you the right to decide that I must endure the treament you are demanding I accept unanswered?

Why should we endure the treatment that you are giving us at Rec.Radio.CB? Very easy to elminate the the rec.radio.cb from the cross posting, why don't you?

you do not even grant me the coutesy of your name

I have given it to you, I even posted it along with a my home address & phone #, you refused to beleive that it is real.

LMFAO!!!! My email adderss is real, the link with my name & address was real, but you are in denial because you know I am right. If you think that I crazy.

Well he puts it as his "Rights" for him to respond with babble and incoherent sentences, to "defend" himself. Against what? Even more babble and incoherent sentences from his one or two admirers? So with it in those terms, he's hampering my right to read through the newsgroups without having to filter all his dozens of posts a day, with little or no meaning.

You can't reason or talk sensible with Mark/Fatty, a known Usenet Kook. He is in his own little "victum" world where he is the victim presecuted at every step by all, but in his mind everything that he does like filing false accusations to law enforcement, making statements of libel, flooding the NGs, and making accusations against other hams about unproven crimes allegedly perpetuated against him is all justified in the line of his own defense.

Gomer,

Let me give you a piece of advice. Just deal with the flooding and never ever let this kook find out your real identity, and this is why.

A few known facts about Fatty:

Do you know that based on a fued of words on Usenet, Fatty started harrassing the employer of the person he was fueding with about what the other person was posting here, and even tried to get the person fired from his livelyhood. The same person was involved in the Civil Air Patrol as an officer, and fatty also went as far as harrassing the guy's CO trying to get him into some kind of trouble.

Further, when fatty found out that the same person's young daughter had died, he used that fact to harrass the guy, stated that it was good that she had died, and even when as far to start posting under the guy's deceased daughter's name on usenet.

Do you know that the person you are trying to reason with and apply common sense recently called law enforcement in multiple states and accused multiple hams of trying to offer him a minor for sex based on an almost anonymous email Fatty alleges that he received.

Fatty will take whatever you say and will twist it around where it will be all your fault, and you have been the cause of everything, You can see from his last response to you that he is heading into that direction with his "but since you are prepared to tolerate one or at most 3 people harrass other users of the web then honest I don't give a damm if you are

That is Fatty getting poise to tell you that you are just at fault because you are (in his twisted mind) letting other folks comment on his buffoonery and are getting away with it.

You are wasting your time...here is a link to another example of someone, just like you, trying to talk sense to Fatty. Read all the pages in the thread and see how it went from a simple, " hi, let me give you some advice for your problem" to Fatty ranting "you are harrassing me cease and desist. It is quite an intersting and entertaining read to see a small glimpse of the inner workings of the mind of a kook.

what right is that?

you have no such right sadly i wish you did becuase it wouldf mean I have the same right and the problem would exist in the first place

He/she fits into 1 or more of these categories: psychotic delusional disorder, schizoaffective disorder, bipolar disorder obsessive compulsive disorder or schizophrenia when talking about stalkers - I haven't quite figured out which one actually fits him/her other than obsessive compulsive as he/she continues to post garbage: "fake", "fake on fake", "dloyd", "lies", "spam", etc. In essence you are stalking us with these gibberish/garbage postings!

We, all the other posters in these NG's (rec.radio.amateur.policy or rec.radio.cb) (I don't know about the other NG's that he/she keeps X-post too)
Are NOT stalking him/her in his/hers delusional mind that he/she keeps posting about.

He/she Is constantly bringing up some OT crap that he/she is a "KOSHER HAM" & is "BI-SEXUAL". Who the FK really cares. You want to talk about that kind of crap - then take it to those NG's and keep it off of the Amateur/CB Radio groups.

He/she is against OT postings of others, but it is OK for him/her to do it with the constant 1 to 3 word garbage that he/she posts. I guess KPB is OK in his/hers delusional mind only.

You say that you don't x-post, then how does your garbage get x-posted with you in the middle of some of the responses that are floating around?

If he/she keeps bringing this ST up, then some of the people will constantly make DEROGATORY remarks.

I am sure that by the time that he/she answers this post - that he/she will turn around the answers around to fit his/hers delusional mind, and that we all are picking ONLY on him/her.

I can't really believe that DAVE wrote what is written here, it looks more like MARK - did a wonderful job of forging - especially with all of the grossly misspelled words which is chrematistic of Mark!

What is it about the following that approximately half the US population

DO I HAVE THIS STRAIGHT?

HIS FATHER WAS A KENYAN, MOSLEM, BLACK- WE HAVE SEEN PICTURES OF HIS AFRICAN

HIS MOTHER IS A KANSAN, ATHEIST, WHITE- WHERE ARE THE PICTURES OF HIS

HIS FATHER DESERTED HIS MOTHER AND HIM WHEN HE WAS VERY YOUNG AND WENT BACK

HIS MOTHER MARRIED AN INDONESIAN MOSLEM AND TOOK HIM TO JAKARTA WHERE HE WAS SCHOOLED IN A MOSLEM SCHOOL.

HIS MOTHER RETURNED TO HAWAII AND HE WAS RAISED BY HIS WHITE KANSAN GRANDPARENTS, HE LATER WENT TO THE BEST HIGH DOLLAR SCHOOLS, HOW?

HE LIVES IN A $1.4 MILLION DOLLAR HOUSE THAT HE ACQUIRED THROUGH A DEAL WITH A WEALTHY FUND RAISER. HOW?

HE "WORKED" AS A CIVIL RIGHTS ACTIVIST IN CHICAGO- HAS NEVER HELD A PRODUCTIVE JOB - NEVER RECEIVED A PAYCHECK FROM A BUSINESS WHICH WAS NOT GOVERNMENT FUNDED AND/OR TAXPAYER SUPPORTED.

(THE PRESIDENCY IS NOT A CIVIL RIGHTS POST NOR IS IT SUBJECT TO AFFIRMATIVE ACTION SET ASIDES. ON-THE-JOB TRAINING WON'T CUT IT.)

HE ENTERED POLITICS AT THE STATE LEVEL AND THEN THE NATIONAL LEVEL WHERE HE HAS MINIMAL EXPERIENCE.

HE IS PROUD OF HIS "AFRICAN HERITAGE" BUT IT SEEMS THAT HIS ONLY AFRICAN CONNECTION WAS THAT HIS AFRICAN FATHER GOT A WHITE GIRL PREGNANT AND DESERTED HER. I DIDN'T KNOW THAT SPERM CARRIED A "CULTURAL" GENE. WHERE IS THE PRIDE IN HIS WHITE CULTURE?

HE GOES TO A "AFROCENTRIC" CHURCH THAT HATES WHITES, JEWS, AND BLAMES AMERICA FOR ALL THE WORLD'S PERCEIVED FAULTS, INCLUDING "CREATING" AIDS TO INFLICT ON AFRICANS. HE THEN REPEATEDLY WHITEWASHES THE PASTOR, HIS CHURCH, AND THE MEMBERS WHO CHEERED AFTER HEARING THE PASTOR'S VITRIOLIC PULPIT TIRADES.

HE COULD NOT CONFRONT HIS PASTOR BUT HE WANTS US TO BELIEVE THAT HE CAN CONFRONT NORTH KOREA AND IRAN--RIGHT!!!

IN HIS BRIEF TIME IN THE SENATE HE HAS MANAGED TO AMASS THE NUMBER ONE ULTRA-LIBERAL VOTING RECORD OF THE HUNDRED MEMBERS, VOTING CONSISTENTLY FOR BIGGER GOVERNMENT, HIGHER TAXES, BIG ENTITLEMENTS AND LEGISLATION WHICH WOULD SEVERELY CURTAIL AMERICA'S ABILITY TO FIGHT TERRORISM, PROTECT OUR BORDERS AND OUR NATIONAL INTERESTS AROUND THE WORLD.

BUT HE IS A GOOD ORATOR.

YEAH, I THINK I SEE HOW WELL HE COULD BE A UNITER AND BRING US TOGETHER. I THINK THE HOPE IS THAT HE HOPES NO ONE WILL PUT THE PIECES TOGETHER.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, LET ME INTRODUCE OUR NEW CHIEF PILOT.
HE DOESN'T HAVE A PILOTS' LICENSE.
HE'S NEVER FLOWN AN AIRPLANE.
IN FACT HE'S NEVER EVEN SAT IN A COCKPIT, BUT HE'S RIDDEN ON THEM.

In the UK, we miss out the war-like verses, and especially the last one:
Lord grant that Marshal Wade
May by thy mighty aid Victory bring
May he sedition hush
And like a torrent rush
Rebellious Scots to crush
God save the Queen!

In fact, few of us ever get past the first verse.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE -- May 15, 2008 -- Sweetwater Valley Farm, Inc. of Philadelphia, TN is recalling Tennessee Aged Black Pepper Cheese because it has the potential to be contaminated with Listeria monocytogenes, an organism which can cause serious and sometimes fatal infections in young children, frail or elderly people, and others with weakened immune systems. Although healthy individuals may suffer only short-term symptoms such as high fever, severe headache, stiffness, nausea, abdominal pain and diarrhea, Listeria infection can cause miscarriages and stillbirths among pregnant women.

Tennessee Aged Black Pepper Cheese, Lot Number 616-361 was distributed in 5, 7, and 10 ounce bars through our retail store in Philadelphia, TN and a Winery in Portland, TN.

Less than 100 pounds was distributed.

This product was distributed between December 27, 2007 and May 12, 2008.

No illnesses have been reported.

The recall was the result of a routine sampling program by the Tennessee Department of Agriculture which revealed that the finished product contained the bacteria. The company has ceased the distribution of this lot as the company continues their investigation as to what caused the problem.

Consumers who have purchased lot number 616-361 of this product are urged bring it to the store for replacement or refund or ship it back to the store for replacement or refund. Contact the company's consumer affairs department at 1-877-862-4332 for further information.

Roger Wiseman was right: Mark Morgan is Dave's sock puppet. :)

Art Deco is a renowned dribble dick ...
I see, they both dribble.

The relativity theory seems to have been developed by others.

The completed field equations of the general theory of relativity were first deduced by David Hilbert, a fact Einstein was forced to acknowledge in 1916, after he had plagiarised them from Hilbert in late 1915. Paul Gerber solved the problem of the perihelion of Mercury in 1898. Physicist Ernst Gehrcke gave a lecture on the theory of relativity in the Berlin Philharmonic on August 24, 1920, and publicly confronted Einstein, who was in attendance, with Einstein's plagiarism of Lorentz' mathematical formalisms of the special theory of relativity, Palagyi's space-time concepts, Varicak's non-Euclidean geometry and of the plagiarism of the mathematical solution of the problem of the perihelion of Mercury first arrived at by Gerber. Gehrcke addressed Einstein to his face and told the crowd that the emperor had no clothes.

Why don't you dis the guy for his stupid policies rather than this flag lapel thing. For instance, taking the limit off of FICA, but not using Al Gore's lockbox to insure the new money actually goes to social security. Or changing long term capital gains to the same taxation as ordinary income.And I can't wait to have Hezbollah meet with the president at the White House.

Herbert Ives published a paper in 1952, which argued that Einstein employed the same irrational method of Petitio Principii in "deriving"
the mass-energy equivalence. . . . [Ives wrote,]

"What Einstein did by setting down these equations (as 'clear') was to introduce the relation

L / (m - m') c2 = 1.

Now this is the very relation the derivation was supposed to yield.
It emerges from Einstein's manipulation of observations by two observers because it has been slipped in by the assumption which Planck questioned. The relation E = mM c2 was not derived by Einstein."

Einstein is also at the center of one of the hotter debates to emerge from feminist theory. A wide range of scholars has suggested that his first wife, Mileva Maric, with whom he studied at the Polytechnic School, made equal or even greater contributions to his great 1905 papers but was denied credit.

Mike,

You got to work your way up the Scale :
{ It's Hard Work and Somebody Has To Do It }

1 - Starts with a "Huh ?" -or "What ?" [D'Oh!]

NOTE : First Will People Question Your Intelligence :
Then People Begin Assessing Your Intelligence.

2 - Followed by just plain "Stupid" [U-pid]

3 - Next comes "Moron" [Or-On]

4 - Then comes certified "Idiot" [Id-It]

5 - Leading up to "Retard" [Tard - Latin : Tardo]

6 - Finally becoming a highly qualified "Newsgroup Retard"

FWIW - This has become know as : The Telamon Posting Scale.
http://www.the-great-telamon.moc/The_Telamon_Posting_Scale.html
[Name After "The Great Telamon" Himself by Himself]

mike - i know with time and practice and hard work you can do it -if- you try ! ~ RHF

-ps- we all have to be good at something ;-}

Fatty, that is one of the most kookest sumations I have read in a while, and it proves how your ability to reason is fked. The problem with idiots who play the "victum" like you, is you don't know just how screwed up you really are. You somehow think you have the right to do the bullshit you do, but you only have the right to remain silent...most kooks like you are locked away somewhere and hopefully you will join them someday.

M...Sushi,

In reality there should have never been a 'limit' on FICA and as a Result of the 'limit' the Higher Wage Earners in the USA have NOT Paid Their Fair Share of the Social Security Insurance Payroll Taxes since 1935.
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Federal_Insurance_Contributions_Act_tax http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Social_Security_%28United_States%29
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Payroll_taxes

- For instance, taking the limit off of FICA, but not
- using Al Gore's lockbox to insure the new money
- actually goes to social security.

YES - Social Security Taxes should in-fact be "Off-Bugget" in the so-called LOCKED-BOX.

- Or changing long term capital gains to the same
- taxation as ordinary income.

The concept of Long-Term Capital Gains is to create the Formation of Capital for Business Development and Job Growth in a Capitalistic System.
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Capital_gains_tax_in_the_United_States
The only real viable alternative is Central Government Planning and Resource Allocation {Socialism} for Long-Term Sustained Planned Economic Development.

- And I can't wait to have Hezbollah meet with the
- president at the White House.

Now Roy,

Roy I do hope you will use the correct work in the future.

Obama's Fifty Outrageous Lies

1) Selma Got Me Born - LIAR, your parents felt safe enough to have you in 1961 - Selma had no effect on your birth, as Selma was in 1965.

2) Father Was A Goat Herder - LIAR, he was a privileged, well educated youth, who went on to work with the Kenyan Government.

3) Father Was A Proud Freedom Fighter - LIAR, he was part of one of the most corrupt and violent governments Kenya has ever had.

4) My Family Has Strong Ties To African Freedom - LIAR, your cousin Raila Odinga has created mass violence in attempting to overturn a legitimate election in 2007, in Kenya. It is the first widespread violence in decades.

5) My Grandmother Has Always Been A Christian - LIAR, she does her daily Salat prayers at 5am according to her own interviews. According to the New York Times: "I am a strong believer of the Islamic faith," Ms. Obama, 85, said in a recent interview in Kenya.' Not to mention, Christianity wouldn't allow her to have been one of 14 wives to 1 man.

6) My Name is African Swahili - LIAR, your name is Arabic and 'Baraka' (from which Barack came) means 'blessed' in that language. Hussein is also Arabic and so is Obama.

7) I Never Practiced Islam - LIAR, you practiced it daily at school, where you were registered as a Muslim and kept that faith for 31 years,until your wife made you change, so you could run for office.

8) My School In Indonesia Was Christian - LIAR, you were registered as Muslim there and got in trouble in Koranic Studies for making faces (check your own book).

9) I Was Fluent In Indonesian - LIAR, not one teacher says you could speak the language.

10) Because I Lived In Indonesia, I Have More Foreign Experience - LIAR, you were there from the ages of 6 to 10, and couldn't even speak the language. What did you learn, how to study the Koran and watch cartoons?

11) I Am Stronger On Foreign Affairs - LIAR, except for Africa (surprise) and the Middle East (bigger surprise), you have never been anywhere else on the planet and thus have NO experience with our closest allies. You seek to disarm America while our avowed enemy, Iran, will not subject itself to a nuclear ban. Top Hamas politica l adviser Ahmed

Yousef said the Hamas terrorist group 'supports Obama's foreign policy vision'.

12) I Blame My Early Drug Use On Ethnic Confusion - LIAR, you were quite content in high school to be Barry Obama, no mention of Kenya and no mention of struggle to identify - your classmates said you were just fine.

13) An Ebony Article Moved Me To Run For Office - LIAR, Ebony has yet to find the article you mention in your book. It doesn't, and never did, exist.

14) A Life Magazine Article Changed My Outlook On Life - LIAR, Life has yet to find the article you mention in your book. It doesn't, and never did, exist.

15) I Won't Run On A National Ticket In '08 - LIAR, here you are, despite saying, live on TV, that you would not have enough experience by then, and you are all about having experience first.

16) Present Votes Are Common In Illinois - LIAR, they are common for YOU, but not many others have 130 NO VOTES.

17) Oops, I Misvoted - LIAR, only when caught by church groups and Democrats, did you beg to change your misvote.

18) I Was A Professor Of Law - LIAR, you were a senior lecturer ON LEAVE.

19) I Was A Constitutional Lawyer - LIAR, you were a senior lecturer ON LEAVE.

20) Without Me, There Would Be No Ethics Bill - LIAR, you didn't write it,introduce it, change it, or create it.

21) The Ethics Bill Was Hard To Pass - LIAR, it took just 14 days from start to finish.

22) I Wrote A Tough Nuclear Bill - LIAR, your bill was rejected by your own party for its pandering and lack of all regulation - mainly because of your Nuclear Donor, Exelon, from which David Axelrod came.

23) I Have Released My State Records - LIAR, as of March, 2008, state bills you sponsored or voted for have yet to be released, exposing all the special interests pork hidden within.

24) I Took On The Asbestos Altgeld Gardens Mess - LIAR, you were part of a large group of people who remedied Altgeld Gardens. You failed to mention anyone else but yourself, in your books.

25) My Economics Bill Will Help America - LIAR, your 111 economic policies were just combined into a proposal which lost 99-0, and even YOU voted against your own bill.

26) I Have Been A Bold Leader In Illinois - LIAR, even your own supporters claim to have not seen BOLD action on your part.

27) I Passed 26 Of My Own Bills In One Year - LIAR, they were not YOUR bills, but rather handed to you, after their creation by a fellow Senator, to assist you in a future bid for higher office.

28) No One Contacted Canada About NAFTA - LIAR, the Candian Government issued the names and a memo of the conversation your campaign had with them.

29) I Am Tough On Terrorism - LIAR, you missed the Iran Resolution vote on terrorism and your good friend Ali Abunimah supports the destruction of Israel. You state you will open friendly communication with the Leader of Iran who is attempting to develop nuclear weapons to destroy us, but refuse to speak to FOX news. You are against provisions of the Patriot act which would all wiretapping of the phones of suspected terrorists in the USA.

30) I Am Not Acting As President Yet - LIAR, after the NAFTA Memo, a dead terrorist in the FARC, in Colombia, was found with a letter stating how you and he were working together on getting FARC recognized officially.

31) I Didn't Run Ads In Florida - LIAR, you allowed national ads to run 8-12 times per day for two weeks - and you still lost.

32) I Won Michigan - LIAR, no you didn't.

33) I won Nevada - LIAR, no you did not.

34) I Want All Votes To Count - LIAR, you said let the delegates decide.

35) I Want Americans To Decide - LIAR, you prefer caucuses that limit the vote, confuse the voters, force a public vote, and only operate during small windows of time.

36) I passed 900 Bills in the State Senate - LIAR, you passed 26, most of which you didn't write yourself.

37) My Campaign Was Extorted By A Friend - LIAR, that friend is threatening to sue if you do not stop saying this. Obama has stopped saying this.

38) I Believe In Fairness, Not Tactics - LIAR, you used tactics to eliminate Alice Palmer from running against you.

39) I Don't Take PAC Money - LIAR, you take loads of it.

40) I don't Have Lobbysists - LIAR, you have over 47 lobbyists, and counting.

41) My Campaign Had Nothing To Do With The 1984 Ad - LIAR, your own campaign worker made the ad on his Apple in one afternoon.

42) My Campaign Never Took Over MySpace - LIAR, Tom, who started MySpace issued a warning about this advertising to MySpace clients.

43) I Inspire People With My Words - LIAR, you inspire people with other people's words.

44) I Have Passed Bills In The U.S. Senate - LIAR, you have passed A BILL in the U.S. Senate - for Africa, which shows YOUR priorities.

45) I Have Always Been Against Iraq - LIAR, you weren't in office to vote against it AND you have voted to fund it every single time, unlike Kucinich, who seems to be out gutting you Obama. You also seem to be stepping back from your departure date - AGAIN.

46) I Have Always Supported Universal Health Care - LIAR, your plan leaves us all to pay the 15,000,000 who don't have to buy it.

47) I Only Found Out About My Investment Conflicts Via Mail - LIAR, both companies you site as having sent you letters about this conflict have no record of any such letter ever being created or sent.

48) I Am As Patriotic As Anyone - LIAR, you won't wear a flag pin and you don't put your hand over your heart during the Anthem. There is a Cuban Flag with Che Guevara Displayed at Barack Obama Campaign Office which you allow to be displayed. You voted against making english the official language of the United States. You voted to give illegal aliens social security benefits, which would bankrupt the social security system for Americans legally paying into it.

49) My Wife Didn't Mean What She Said About Pride In Country - LIAR, your wife's words follow lock-step in the vain of Rev. Wright and Louis Farrahkan, in relation to their contempt and hatred of America.

50) Wal-Mart Is A Company I Wouldn't Support - LIAR, your wife has received nearly a quarter of a million dollars through Treehouse, which is connected to Wal-Mart.

Even if '50 Outrageous Lies' is 100% true, which I very much doubt, Obama is still 1000% better than any Republican in general, and McCain in particular. Republicans are the spawn of Satan, especially the batch that's been in power for the past 10 years.

Oh yeah, and better than the warmonger-in-pantsuits, too.

I'm hardly going to waste time debunking an internet smear piece that was obviously dug out of the bottom of someone's SPAM folder.

Oh yeah, I'll bet you are one of those disloyal former support a-holes who tossed her to the wolves when a more "minority" minority came along, right?
You people are shameful...no shameless. Barry Obama will lose because of your tactics. And you'll have only yourselves to blame.

FDA Shuts Down Seafood Processing Company, Requires Products Be Recalled
Failure to follow consent decree drives action
The U.S. Food and Drug Administration today directed Hope Food Supply Inc., a Pasadena, Texas, food processing company, to shut down and immediately recall all products manufactured from its Texas facility since 2007.

The company, under a different name, had manufactured dried smoked catfish steaks and other smoked seafood products and had been subject to a consent decree of permanent injunction requiring it to develop and implement an adequate Hazard Analysis and Critical Control Point (HACCP) plan for its fish and fishery products. The firm had not developed this plan. The company cannot restart manufacturing until they have implemented an FDA-approved HACCP plan.

"We simply will not allow a company to put the public's health at risk by not implementing adequate procedures and plans to produce safe food," said Margaret O'K. Glavin, associate commissioner for regulatory affairs. "The FDA will take action against companies and against their executives who violate the law and endanger public health."

The FDA's HACCP regulations require that all seafood processors develop and implement adequate HACCP plans that identify all food safety hazards that are likely to occur for each kind of seafood product that they process, and set forth preventative measures to control those hazards.

The HACCP violations documented by the FDA pose a public health hazard because, without adequate controls, Hope Food Supply's seafood products could harbor pathogenic bacteria such as Staphylococcus aureus and Listeria monocytogenes. Food products with these kinds of pathogens can cause serious illnesses in people who eat them.

The company's products have been distributed nationwide. The FDA is advising consumers who bought smoked seafood products to check with the place of purchase to determine if the products came from Hope Foods. If so, consumers should throw the products out by placing them in a trash receptacle.

Consumers who have been eating Hope Seafood Supply's dried smoked catfish or other smoked seafood products and have experienced adverse reactions should consult their health care professional. Consumers and health care professionals can also report adverse events to the FDA consumer complaint coordinator in their geographic area. Contact numbers may be found online at www.fda.gov/opacom/backgrounders/complain.html.

For more information, consumers can call the FDA's toll-free Food Safety Hotline at 1-888-SAFEFOOD.

Little Johnny and his girl were walking along a trail in the woods. Suzy noticed that some of the animals were behaving oddly. "Little Johnny, why is that rabbit on top that other one?" she asked.

Little Johnny stopped to consider his answer, and replied, "They're making cigarettes."

"Cigarettes?" she exclaimed, as they continue walking along. Pretty soon, they approached a couple of raccoons. Suzy asked, "Are they making cigarettes too?"

"Yea," says Little Johnny.

Suzy looked around and said, "It looks like all the animals are making cigarettes, why do not we make cigarettes?" Little Johnny was quick to say, "OK!"

An hour or so later Little Johnny and Suzy were walking out of the woods, when she asked, "Little Johnny, what kind of cigarettes did we make?"

Little Johnny stopped to think about his answer, and then replied, "Well if you get a hump in your belly it's a Camel, and if you do not it was a Lucky Strike."

Definition of OLD:
First, you tell your friend that you are having an affair...
Your friend asks you, "Are you having it catered?"
That, my friend, is the definition of OLD!

PERKS OF BEING OVER 50 or, If you're not over 50, this is what you have to look forward to:

1. Kidnappers are not very interested in you.

2. In a hostage situation you are likely to be released first.

3. No one expects you to run--anywhere.

4. People call at 9 pm and ask, 'Did I wake you???'

5. People no longer view you as a hypochondriac.

6. There is nothing left to learn the hard way.

7. Things you buy now won't wear out.

8 You can eat dinner at 4 pm.

9. You can live without sex but not your glasses.

10. You get into heated arguments about pension plans.

11. You no longer think of speed limits as a challenge.

12. You quit trying to hold your stomach in no matter who walks into the room.

13. You sing along with elevator music.

14. Your eyes won't get much worse.

15. Your investment in health insurance is finally beginning to pay off.

16. Your joints are more accurate meteorologists than the national weather service.

17. Your secrets are safe with your friends because they can't remember them either.

18 Your supply of brain cells is finally down to manageable size.

19. You can't remember who sent you this list!

And you notice these are all in Big Print for your convenience.

You should forward this to anyone you can remember!!

No Fatty, I just find it to be funny that apparently you can't seem to get along with most folks anywhere on the net. You have been permanently banned from QRZ for your bullshit, you have been ridiculed and laughed at on e-ham, apparently not too many folks like you on Usenet when you scroll back through the years of posts and see the many folks who have complained about your nonsense, on nimbusters they constantly give you a hard time about the bullshit you post there, and even on ham island where you have been politely asked to leave your crap at the door, you still insist on posting your crap and starting shit over there.

After analyzing all available data, one can only come to the conclusion that, despite your claims, it is not everyone else...it is YOU who is the problem. Hit the road LID you are a disgrace to the ARS.

Here is one for you...

Curtis walked into his parents room and saw his Mother on top of his Father bouncing up and down. Curtis asked, what are you doing? His Mother abruptly screamed at Curtis to get out of the room.

Later on, Curtis again asked his Mother what she was doing to his Father. After giving it some thought, Curtis' Mother told him that when his Father starts to get fat, she gets on top and bounces up and down on his pump to get the fat out of him.

Curtis replied, but Mommy that will never work.

His Mother responded, but why Curtis?

Curtis replied...because when you leave the house, Mr. Morgan from next door comes over and tries to blow Daddy back up.

Fatty whinced..."fake whining that I dare express my opion even OFF of RRAp making it

he will object to my breathing"

No Fatty, I just find it to be funny that apparently you can't seem to get along with most folks anywhere on the net. You have been permanently banned from QRZ for your bullshit, you have been ridiculed and laughed at on e-ham, apparently not too many folks like you on Usenet when you scroll back through the years of posts and see the many folks who have complained about your nonsense, on nimbusters they constantly give you a hard time about the bullshit you post there, and even on ham island where you have been politely asked to leave your crap at the door, you still insist on posting your crap and starting shit over there.

After analyzing all available data, one can only come to the conclusion that, despite your claims, it is not everyone else...it is YOU who is the problem. Hit the road LID you are a disgrace to the ARS.

He/she is also a disgrace to his religion & his/hers sexuality - I use his/hers & he/she, etc, cause no-one knows his/hers real sexual preference.

Here is one for you...

Curtis walked into his parents room and saw his Mother on top of his Father bouncing up and down. Curtis asked, what are you doing? His Mother abruptly screamed at Curtis to get out of the room.

Later on, Curtis again asked his Mother what she was doing to his Father. After giving it some thought, Curtis' Mother told him that when his Father starts to get fat, she gets on top and bounces up and down on his pump to get the fat out of him.

Curtis replied, but Mommy that will never work.

His Mother responded, but why Curtis?

Curtis replied...because when you leave the house, Mr. Morgan from next door comes over and tries to blow Daddy back up.

that was great - lmao

Once again Fatty reveals his twisted logic and shows that he cannot accept the fact that it is him who is solely responsible for his behavior which is to blame for his problems with other users of the net.

Here is another...

Three guys go to see a witch doctor about their problems.

One has a smoking problem, one is an alcoholic, and one is gay but wants to change.

The docter puts a curse on them that if any of them indulge their habits again they will die.

Two days later the alcoholic dies because he gave in and had to drink.

The next day the gay guy and the smoker are walking down the street together. The smoker sees a cigarette lying and the ground and stops and begins to stare at it.

The gay guy looks at him and says "Idiot, if you bend over and pick that up we are both screwed"

A Gay Parrot...

A guy decides that maybe he'd like to have a pet and goes to a pet shop.

After looking around he spots a parrot sitting on a little perch; it doesn't have any feet or legs. The guy says out loud, "Geez, I wonder what happened to this parrot?"

"I was born this way," says the parrot. "I'm a defective parrot."

"Ha, ha," the guy laughs. "It sounded like this parrot actually understood what I said and answered me."

"I understand every word," says the parrot. "I am a highly intelligent and thoroughly educated bird."

"Yeah?" the guy asks. "Then answer this: how do you hang onto your perch without any feet?"

"Well," the parrot says, "this is a little embarrassing, but since you asked, I will tell you. I wrap my little parrot penis around this wooden bar, kind of like a little hook. You can't see it because of my feathers."

"Wow," says the guy, "you really can understand and answer; can't you?"

"Of course. I speak both Spanish and English. I can converse with reasonable competence on almost any subject: politics, religion, sports, physics, philosophy. And I am especially good at ornithology. You should buy me; I am a great companion."

The guy looks at the $200.00 price tag. He says. "I can't afford that."

"Pssst," the parrot hisses, motioning the guy over with one wing. "Nobody wants me because I don't have any feet. You can get me for $20.00; just make an offer."

The guy offers twenty dollars and walks out with the parrot. Weeks go by and the parrot is sensational. He's funny; he's interesting; he's a great pal, he understands everything, sympathizes, and gives good advice. The guy is delighted.

One day the guy comes home from work and the parrot says, "Pssst," and motions him over with one wing. The guy goes up close to the cage. "I don't know if I should tell you this or not," says the parrot, "but it's about your lover and the mailman."

"What?" asks the guy.

"Well," the parrot says, "when the mailman came to the door today, your lover greeted him in a pair of briefs that showed everything and kissed him on the mouth."

"What happened then?" asks the guy.

"Then the mailman came into the house and put his hand on your lovers crotch and began petting him all over," reports the parrot.

"My God!" the guy says. "Then what?"

"Then he pulled down the briefs, got down on his knees and began to lick him, starting with his chest, slowly going down and down." The parrot pauses for a long time...

"What happened? What happened?" says the frantic guy.

"That's what pisses me off. I don't know." said the parrott. "I got a hard-on, and fell off my perch."

Two Gay lovers fall on hard times and decided to rob a bank together.

The first lover plans the robbery and goes over the plan with the second lover in great detail.

The robbery begins.

The first lover drives up in front of the bank, stops the car and says to the other lover, "I want to make absolutely sure you understand the plan. You are supposed to be in and out of the bank in no more than three minutes with the cash. Do you understand the plan?"

"Perfectly," he said.

He goes in the bank while the other waits in the getaway car.

One minute passes, two minutes pass...seven minutes pass - and the first lover is really stressing out.

Finally, the bank doors burst open and out he comes. He's got a safe wrapped up in rope and is dragging it to the car.

About the time he gets the safe in the trunk of the car, the bank doors burst open again with a security guard coming out.

The guard's pants and underwear are down around his ankles while he is firing his weapon.

As the guys are getting away, the first lover says "I thought you understood the plan!"

The second lover said, "I did! I did exactly what you said!"

"No, you idiot," he replied. "You got it all mixed up. I said tie up the GUARD and blow the SAFE!"

Even if '50 Outrageous Lies' is 100% true, which I very much doubt, Obama is still 1000% better than any Republican in general, and McCain in particular. Republicans are the spawn of Satan, especially the batch that's been in power for the past 10 years.

Oh yeah, and better than the warmonger-in-pantsuits, too.

I'm hardly going to waste time debunking an internet smear piece that was obviously dug out of the bottom of someone's SPAM folder.

As most posts like this it is easily discounted if one only does a search with a couple of terms juggled around in Google. Too easy for those that literally lift a finger.....

50 TRUTHS ABOUT OBAMA

50 Truths about Barack Obama

1. Selma Got Me Born. Senator Obama meant that the civil rights movement helped foster greater understanding between people of different races, which made it possible for his mother and father to have a relationship. He didn't mean that the events in Selma literally led to his being conceived. Here is a section from that speech:
http://www.barackobama.com/2007/03/04/selma_voting_rights_march_comm.php

"What happened in Selma, Alabama and Birmingham also stirred the conscience of the nation. It worried folks in the White House who said, 'You know, we're battling Communism. How are we going to win hearts and minds all across the world? If right here in our own country, John, we're not observing the ideals set fort in our Constitution, we might be accused of being hypocrites.' So the Kennedys decided we're going to do an air lift. We're going to go to Africa and start bringing young Africans over to this country and give them scholarships to study so they can learn what a wonderful country America is. This young man named Barack Obama got one of those tickets and came over to this country. He met this woman whose great great-great-great-grandfather had owned slaves; but she had a good idea there was some craziness going on because they looked at each other and they decided that we know that the world as it has been it might not be possible for us to get together and have a child. There was something stirring across the country because of what happened in Selma, Alabama, because some folks are willing to march across a bridge. So they got together and Barack Obama Jr. was born. So don't tell me I don't have a claim on Selma, Alabama. Don't tell me I'm not coming home to Selma, Alabama. I'm here because somebody marched. I'm here because you all sacrificed for me. I stand on the shoulders of giants. I thank the Moses generation; but we've got to remember, now, that Joshua still had a job to do. As great as Moses was, despite all that he did, leading a people out of bondage, he didn't cross over the river to see the Promised Land. God told him your job is done. You'll see it. You'll be at the mountain top and you can see what I've promised. What I've promised to Abraham and Isaac and Jacob. You will see that I've fulfilled that promise but you won't go there."

2. Father Was A Goat Herder. Barack Obama Sr. did grow up herding sheep in a village in Kenya, and only got to go to America because he earned a scholarship to study abroad at the age of 23. "Due to a program offering Western educational opportunities to outstanding Kenyan students that was organized by nationalist leader Tom Mboya, Obama Sr. was awarded a scholarship in economics, and at the age of 23 he enrolled at the University of Hawaii."

3. Father Was A Proud Freedom Fighter. Senator Obama never claimed that his father was a "proud freedom fighter." He has spoken frankly about how his father went back to Kenya and served as a government bureaucrat, until political problems led him to become a disillusioned alcoholic in his later years.

4. My Family Has Strong Ties To African Freedom. Kenyan politician Raila Odinga has claimed that he and Obama are related, though there does not seem to be much evidence. In any case, Obama is actually related to Dick Cheney, and I wouldn't hold that against him. See the BBC: http://news.bbc.co.uk/2/hi/africa/7176683.stm

5. My Grandmother Has Always Been A Christian. Obama's grandmother IS a Christian -- he was referring to his grandmother in Kansas. As most people understand, a person has TWO grandmothers. The author confuses Obama's U.S. and African-born grandmothers.

6. My Name is African Swahili. His first name, "Barack," is a word in both Swahili and Arabic. See this page from the University of Pennsylvania:
http://itre.cis.upenn.edu/~myl/languagelog/archives/004187.html

7. I Never Practiced Islam. Senator Obama's mother did not raise him with any religion. He attended both public and Catholic schools in Indonesia. He never attended a "madrassah." See Time Magazine: http://time-blog.com/swampland/2007/01/disgusting.html. and See CNN.COM: http://www.cnn.com/2007/POLITICS/01/22/obama.madrassa/

8. My School In Indonesia Was Christian. He attended a Catholic school in Indonesia for two years. The other two years were spent in public schools.

9. I Was Fluent In Indonesian. Sen. Obama never claimed to be able to speak Indonesian fluently. See Time Magazine:
http://www.time.com/time/politics/article/0,8599,1695803,00.html

"Obama's years living in Indonesia, moreover, have made him the most popular U.S. politician in Southeast Asia. When prominent Indonesians visit the U.S., the first person they want to meet is Obama, says Parnohadiningrat Sudjadnan, the Indonesian ambassador to the U.S. "Back home people think of him as one of us, or at least one who understands us," he says, adding that they are delighted to find that Obama speaks passable Bahasa, the language spoken in Indonesia and Malaysia."

10. Because I Lived In Indonesia , I Have More Foreign Experience. The smear emails don't make much sense: they claim that Sen. Obama's time in Indonesia was enough to turn him into a Muslim fanatic, but not enough for him to have experience in foreign countries. Obama said that his view of the world is different because of his childhood. Anyone with a similar experience, as well as psychologists and sociologists, can confirm this statement too (TPM).

See Time Magazine:
http://www.time.com/time/politics/article/0,8599,1695803,00.html
"Some would argue that his childhood experiences, as well as his mixed heritage (his father was Kenyan, his mother from Kansas), gives him a better inner compass on foreign policy than most Americans. They cite the pioneering work of Ruth Hill Useem, the late sociologist of Michigan State University, who spent her career studying what she called Third Culture Kids ï¿½ the millions of U.S. children (an estimated 20 million since the advent of mass air travel) who have been carted abroad by their missionary, diplomatic, corporate or military parents. These frequent-flier kids don't spend enough time in their adopted countries to become fully bicultural, but they take pieces and add it to their home values and traditions ï¿½ creating millions of "Third Cultures." Studies have shows that kids who have spent time abroad are more likely to go to college, to relate to one another despite the influences of vastly differing cultures, and to latch on to one aspect of their culture ï¿½ in Obama's case African Americanism."

11. I Am Stronger On Foreign Affairs - LIAR, except for Africa (surprise) and the Middle East (bigger surprise), you have never been anywhere else on the planet and thus have NO experience with our closest allies. If Obama's travels in Africa, Asia and the Middle East don't have any relevance to foreign affairs, what would? A visit to Antarctica?

12. I Blame My Early Drug Use On Ethnic Confusion. The smear email suggests that Sen. Obama had no problems growing up as a biracial kid in the 1960s and 1970s. The anonymous people who put out these emails must know him better than he does.

13. An Ebony Article Moved Me To Run For Office. This may be an incorrect memory from childhood. The article may have appeared in another magazine.

14. A Life Magazine Article Changed My Outlook On Life. The book recites a memory from his childhood. Several advertisements depicting the whitening creams that Obama described did appear in magazines at that time (and still do today.) - From TPM.

15. I Won't Run On A National Ticket In '08. The quotation is false: Obama said he had "no plans" to run, which is the standard cover used by politicians. In fact, out of all candidates in the primaries, every single one had stated this at one point--including Sen. Clinton and McCain (from TPM).

16. Present Votes Are Common In Illinois. Present votes ARE common in Illinois, as has been explained by Illinois legislators, newspapers and researchers. Present votes are made strategically to help weaker representatives in your party--for example Planned Parenthood ASKED Obama to vote "present" instead of "no" on some abortion bills so that other Democratic State Senators would have cover.

17. Oops, I Misvoted. No idea what this one is even referring to. Here is a complete list of Obama's voting record: http://projects.washingtonpost.com/congress/members/o000167/

18. I Was A Professor Of Law. Sen. Obama taught constitutional law at the University of Chicago; according to UC, he was a professor of law. It does not get any simpler than this, even if the academic titles seem confusing. Obama was also NOT on leave when he was teaching... he has been on leave since his election to U.S. Senate. Here is the U of Chicago School of Law statement on this very issue: http://www.law.uchicago.edu/media/index.html

19. I Was A Constitutional Lawyer. Sen. Obama worked as a civil rights lawyer in Chicago from 1993 to 2002. See Wikipedia: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Early_life_and_career_of_Barack_Obama. Also here is the website of the law firm he worked for: http://www.lawmbg.com/index.cfm/PageID/2674

20. Without Me, There Would Be No Ethics Bill. Sen. Obama did propose and pass the toughest ethics legislation in Congress yet, banning many different ways that lobbyists got legislators to do favors for them. Find the text of the Legislative Transparency and Accountability Act at http://obama.senate.gov/issues/ethics_and_lobbying_reform/

21. The Ethics Bill Was Hard To Pass. Just because a bill passed in two weeks does not mean it was not difficult to pass. The full process actually took more than 14 days. However, if your opponent accuses you of getting bills passed TOO fast, you obviously do not have many vulnerabilities.

22. I Wrote A Tough Nuclear Bill. Sen. Obama's original bill was much tougher but the Republicans required it toned down before it was allowed to pass (this was prior to 2006 takeover) in its final form--which still established new regulations which no-one else did. Obama also worked with Republican Senator Dick Lugar to pass a bill to keep nukes out of the hands of terrorists. See coverage at http://www.democraticunderground.com/discuss/duboard.php?az=view_all&address=388x3353

23. I Have Released My State Records. All IL Senate records are available through Illinois State. Read What Media Matters Had to Say: "The Associated Press reported that Sen. Barack Obama "says he can't step up and produce his own records from his days in the Illinois state Senate. He says he hasn't got any." But Obama did not claim that the documents do not exist. In fact, the article quoted Obama saying: "I don't have -- I don't maintain -- a file of eight years of work in the state Senate because I didn't have the resources available to maintain those kinds of records."

24. I Took On The Asbestos Altgeld Gardens Mess. Sen. Obama can legitimately take credit for this but other people were involved also.

From:
http://www.dispatchpolitics.com/live/content/president/stories/obamaearly.html
"Key players who worked with Obama at Altgeld Gardens said he deserves credit for pulling together a team of hundreds of residents who rallied for improvements at their housing projects. Obama helped secure grants for a jobs program and pushed for asbestos removal. His biggest accomplishment may have been to leave in place a group of activist mothers, some of whom continue to work or live at Altgeld Gardens."

25. My Economics Bill Will Help America. It is unclear what Senate bill contained Sen. Obama's "111 economic policies." In any case, Sen. Obama's economic program has many positive features, including cutting loopholes exploited by corporations and wealthy Americans, cutting taxes on the middle class, and shoring up Social Security by ensuring that the rich pay as much of the rest of the us into the system.

26. I Have Been A Bold Leader In Illinois. The "supporter" who said Obama was not bold was actually a Republican state senator. Whether Obama was a bold leader is a value judgement left for the reader. He did some good work on healthcare and criminal justice in Illinois.

27. I Passed 26 Of My Own Bills In One Year. Untrue accusation, which also contradicts claim #36.

28. No One Contacted Canada About NAFTA. The Canadian embassy contacted Mr. Goolsbee in his civilian role, not the other way around. The statement is imprecise, though.

From:
http://www.factcheck.org/elections-2008/the_facts_about_nafta-gate.html

"It's now clear that a Canadian news report that started this flap wasn't accurate. No evidence has surfaced to show that any Obama "staffer" telephoned the Canadian ambassador in Washington, and all concerned deny that any such conversation took place. But it is equally clear that Obama's senior economic adviser did visit Canada's consulate in Chicago on Feb. 8, and that NAFTA was one of the several topics discussed."

29. I Am Tough On Terrorism. Sen. Obama did not vote for the resolution designating the Iranian group a terrorist organization because he did not want to give George W. Bush an excuse to start another war.

30. I Am Not Acting As President Yet. Not sure what it means to be "acting as President" when you're a candidate. In any case, the FARC accusation is false. It's a false quotation.

31. I Didn't Run Ads In Florida. Obama advertised on national cable. Some adverts would be seen in Florida due to inability of disabling that from happening. The decision was cleared beforehand through the South Carolina DNC head as required by DNC rules. The Herald Tribune wrote, "Obama's campaign launched national television advertisements on CNN and MSNBC that are shown in Florida " and "Obama's campaign spokesman Bill Burton disputes the pledge was broken. He said the campaign asked CNN and MSNBC to pull Florida from the ad buy, but the networks said they could not." From: http://www.heraldtribune.com/article/20080123/NEWS/801230668

32. I Won Michigan. Sen. Obama never claimed to win Michigan; he wasn't even on the ballot there. He mistakenly said "Michigan" in one interview when discussing the states he had won, but it was a gaffe. Clearly tired, he also called the interviewer by the wrong name.

33. I won Nevada. Sen. Obama never claimed to win Nevada, although he did get one more delegate from the state due to the rules for proportionally allocating delegates by voting district. From USA Today, "Obama said in a statement released by his campaign around 6:15 p.m. ET that he came from 25 points behind and nearly beat Clinton today because he did well across all of Nevada ï¿½ 'including rural areas where Democrats have traditionally struggled.'" From:http://www.usatoday.com/news/politics/election2008/2008-01-19-nevada_N.htm

34. I Want All Votes To Count. Sen. Obama wanted the primary votes to count according to the rules everyone (including Senator Clinton) agreed to in the beginning.

35. I Want Americans To Decide. It's not Sen. Obama's fault that some states use caucuses to choose their delegates and others use primaries. Caucuses may be less representative, but this is the way states like Iowa and Nebraska do their voting. He has won big victories in primaries (e.g. Virginia, Wisconsin, Louisiana) as well as caucuses.

36. I passed 900 Bills in the State Senate. - LIAR, you passed 26, most of which you didn't write yourself. Quotation is false. In addition, the number 26 is the number of bills he passed in his last year ALONE.

37. My Campaign Was Extorted By A Friend. No idea what this is about. Accusers give no details, evidence, reference.

38. I Believe In Fairness, Not Tactics - LIAR, you used tactics to eliminate Alice Palmer from running against you. Alice Palmer held Obama's seat in the Illinois state senate before him, and she decided she wanted to run for the spot again after his first term. However, she was unable to get enough legitimate signatures to run for the seat.

39. I Don't Take PAC Money. Obama has not accepted PAC money directly or indirectly in this election. According to Factcheck.org: "We've seen no evidence that Obama is not adhering to the letter of his pledge." From:
http://www.factcheck.org/elections-2008/pac-ing_heat.html

40. I don't Have Lobbysists - LIAR, you have over 47 lobbyists, and counting. Obama never made that statement. His statement is that he does not employ federally registered lobbyists and his administration will not include any. That statement is correct.

41. My Campaign Had Nothing To Do With The 1984 Ad. The author of the 1984 ad was not a campaign worker of the Obama campaign. The author of the ad was exposed to be Phillip de Vellis of Blue State Digital. See:
http://www.bluestatedigital.com/2007/03/on_the_1984_video.html

42. My Campaign Never Took Over MySpace. Author makes a completely nonsensical claim that Obama's campaign "took over" MySpace which is A) not true and B) technically not possible without criminal activity.

43. I Inspire People With My Words - LIAR, you inspire people with other people's words. Sen. Obama made use of similar words from a speech given by his friend and supporter, Governor Deval Patrick of Massachussetts. He has inspired people with plenty of other words before.

44. I Have Passed Bills In The U.S. Senate. Sen. Obama has passed several important bills and amendments in the U.S. Senate. Information is available on the US Senate website.

45. I Have Always Been Against Iraq. Sen. Obama has consistently opposed the WAR in Iraq. Unlike the author of the list, Obama does not believe that funding of the troops should be cut immediately without being able to ensure a safe and orderly redeployment. As Obama explained: "Once the bus is in the ditch, there are only so many ways to get it out." (for quote see:
http://www.boston.com/news/nation/articles/2008/02/27/clinton_attacks_on_all_fronts/?page=2)

46. I Have Always Supported Universal Health Care. "Universal healthcare" is defined as "healthcare that is available universally." Obama's plan makes healthcare universally available. Take a look at his plan and judge for yourself:
http://www.barackobama.com/issues/healthcare/

47. I Only Found Out About My Investment Conflicts Via Mail. No evidence for this accusation - it is unclear what it is referring to.

48. I Am As Patriotic As Anyone - LIAR, you won't wear a flag pin. The author assumes that everyone has to wear a flag pin to be patriotic. I love this country and I don't wear one -- do you? You could at least hear him out:
http://www.barackobama.com/factcheck/2007/11/12/obama_is_a_patriot.php

49. My Wife Didn't Mean What She Said About Pride In Country.
Michelle Obama said she was proud of her country. Her statement did imply that she had been less proud before than she is now. I know I was a little less proud of my country when its government started torturing people and invading countries for no reason.

50. Wal-Mart Is A Company I Wouldn't Support. Sen. Obama does not support Wal-Mart's policies. TreeHouse is not "affiliated with"
Wal-Mart. The latter is a customer of TreeHouse. Michelle Obama has left TreeHouse. It should be noted that while Obama is not lying as the author suggests, even this type of "connection" with Wal-Mart should be considered bad in the opinion of yours truly.

The "present" votes is about the only thing that pisses me off. Guy Houston pulled that shit all the time in order to not piss off a contributor. He was one of the biggest stumbling blocks regarding Jackie Spier's privacy act enactment.

I really wish people would argue policy and not this kind of junk. There is plenty wrong with Obama's policies that you don't need to denigrate him personally.

Is that little goon really as stupid as he sounds?
I mean, come on. Todd can't tie his own shoes without some sort of sick Hentai cartoons to guide him.
The sick little puppy gets off on cartoons of six year old girls having sex with adult males who, according to Todd's cartoons, "split" the little girl's vagina with an oversized, cartoon penis.

Todd is a sick puppy. Sick. He cannot get much closer to child porn that he is now.

I wouldn't want Todd living in my neighborhood.

The Little Dude should NEVER be around kids. He is sick.

You need a link? Are you that disconnected from reality?

We killed at least 100,000 Iraqi civilians in the past 5 years; contributed to the early deaths of 500,000 Iraqi children in the 10 years prior to that. Are you not aware of this? You blindly send in your killing machines and stay blissfully unaware of the consequences?
That is the ultimate crime against humanity. Do you think you won't be punished?

Punished?

Are more American Death Campsï¿½ ready? Will you be sending him there?
That will sure teach him not express an opinion contrary to yours.

Is there a central toll free number for reporting enemies of the State?

As the last line in your post suggests the truth will set you free.
Then why did you post that pack of un-truths. You are apparently not free. It took me 37 seconds to find the rebuttal to the crap you posted...apparently thats too much time to invest in the truth. 37 seconds in a Google search for the initial 50 Lies (good name for the post) and the rebuttal.

==========Now will youpost this rebuttal with the enthusiasm as you posted the initial POS?==========

I doubt it.
Follow your own sig line....but again I doubt it.

I am so sick of the spam that people send that is simply untrue. I do enjoy debunking them so keep them coming as I love to hate them!!!
The latest batch will of course deal with Barack Obama. And as with every single other of these emails the answer to the claims are out there if you choose to look. Do a search of Google by putting the first line of the spam into Google and then look for a post by Snopes or UrbanLegends or other blogs that do real research as opposed to opinion based blogs. It is easy to do and actually fun when you find out the truth and then send the truth back to people to enlighten them. Most people will see the accusatory email and this is the response to send those people you receive the email from....with footnotes as opposed to the accusations.

50 Truths about Barack Obama

1. Selma Got Me Born. Senator Obama meant that the civil rights movement helped foster greater understanding between people of different races, which made it possible for his mother and father to have a relationship. He didn't mean that the events in Selma literally led to his being conceived. Here is a section from that speech:
http://www.barackobama.com/2007/03/04/selma_voting_rights_march_comm.php

"What happened in Selma, Alabama and Birmingham also stirred the conscience of the nation. It worried folks in the White House who said, 'You know, we're battling Communism. How are we going to win hearts and minds all across the world? If right here in our own country, John, we're not observing the ideals set fort in our Constitution, we might be accused of being hypocrites.' So the Kennedys decided we're going to do an air lift. We're going to go to Africa and start bringing young Africans over to this country and give them scholarships to study so they can learn what a wonderful country America is. This young man named Barack Obama got one of those tickets and came over to this country. He met this woman whose great great-great-great-grandfather had owned slaves; but she had a good idea there was some craziness going on because they looked at each other and they decided that we know that the world as it has been it might not be possible for us to get together and have a child. There was something stirring across the country because of what happened in Selma, Alabama, because some folks are willing to march across a bridge. So they got together and Barack Obama Jr. was born. So don't tell me I don't have a claim on Selma, Alabama. Don't tell me I'm not coming home to Selma, Alabama. I'm here because somebody marched. I'm here because you all sacrificed for me. I stand on the shoulders of giants. I thank the Moses generation; but we've got to remember, now, that Joshua still had a job to do. As great as Moses was, despite all that he did, leading a people out of bondage, he didn't cross over the river to see the Promised Land. God told him your job is done. You'll see it. You'll be at the mountain top and you can see what I've promised. What I've promised to Abraham and Isaac and Jacob. You will see that I've fulfilled that promise but you won't go there."

2. Father Was A Goat Herder. Barack Obama Sr. did grow up herding sheep in a village in Kenya, and only got to go to America because he earned a scholarship to study abroad at the age of 23. "Due to a program offering Western educational opportunities to outstanding Kenyan students that was organized by nationalist leader Tom Mboya, Obama Sr. was awarded a scholarship in economics, and at the age of 23 he enrolled at the University of Hawaii."

3. Father Was A Proud Freedom Fighter. Senator Obama never claimed that his father was a "proud freedom fighter." He has spoken frankly about how his father went back to Kenya and served as a government bureaucrat, until political problems led him to become a disillusioned alcoholic in his later years.

4. My Family Has Strong Ties To African Freedom. Kenyan politician Raila Odinga has claimed that he and Obama are related, though there does not seem to be much evidence. In any case, Obama is actually related to Dick Cheney, and I wouldn't hold that against him. See the BBC: http://news.bbc.co.uk/2/hi/africa/7176683.stm

5. My Grandmother Has Always Been A Christian. Obama's grandmother IS a Christian -- he was referring to his grandmother in Kansas. As most people understand, a person has TWO grandmothers. The author confuses Obama's U.S. and African-born grandmothers.

6. My Name is African Swahili. His first name, "Barack," is a word in both Swahili and Arabic. See this page from the University of Pennsylvania:
http://itre.cis.upenn.edu/~myl/languagelog/archives/004187.html

7. I Never Practiced Islam. Senator Obama's mother did not raise him with any religion. He attended both public and Catholic schools in Indonesia. He never attended a "madrassah." See Time Magazine: http://time-blog.com/swampland/2007/01/disgusting.html. and See CNN.COM: http://www.cnn.com/2007/POLITICS/01/22/obama.madrassa/

8. My School In Indonesia Was Christian. He attended a Catholic school in Indonesia for two years. The other two years were spent in public schools.

9. I Was Fluent In Indonesian. Sen. Obama never claimed to be able to speak Indonesian fluently. See Time Magazine: http://www.time.com/time/politics/article/0,8599,1695803,00.html

"Obama's years living in Indonesia, moreover, have made him the most popular U.S. politician in Southeast Asia. When prominent Indonesians visit the U.S., the first person they want to meet is Obama, says Parnohadiningrat Sudjadnan, the Indonesian ambassador to the U.S. "Back home people think of him as one of us, or at least one who understands us," he says, adding that they are delighted to find that Obama speaks passable Bahasa, the language spoken in Indonesia and Malaysia."

10. Because I Lived In Indonesia , I Have More Foreign Experience. The smear emails don't make much sense: they claim that Sen. Obama's time in Indonesia was enough to turn him into a Muslim fanatic, but not enough for him to have experience in foreign countries. Obama said that his view of the world is different because of his childhood. Anyone with a similar experience, as well as psychologists and sociologists, can confirm this statement too (TPM).

See Time Magazine: http://www.time.com/time/politics/article/0,8599,1695803,00.html "Some would argue that his childhood experiences, as well as his mixed heritage (his father was Kenyan, his mother from Kansas), gives him a better inner compass on foreign policy than most Americans. They cite the pioneering work of Ruth Hill Useem, the late sociologist of Michigan State University, who spent her career studying what she called Third Culture Kids ï¿½ the millions of U.S. children (an estimated 20 million since the advent of mass air travel) who have been carted abroad by their missionary, diplomatic, corporate or military parents. These frequent-flier kids don't spend enough time in their adopted countries to become fully bicultural, but they take pieces and add it to their home values and traditions ï¿½ creating millions of "Third Cultures." Studies have shows that kids who have spent time abroad are more likely to go to college, to relate to one another despite the influences of vastly differing cultures, and to latch on to one aspect of their culture ï¿½ in Obama's case African Americanism."

11. I Am Stronger On Foreign Affairs - LIAR, except for Africa (surprise) and the Middle East (bigger surprise), you have never been anywhere else on the planet and thus have NO experience with our closest allies. If Obama's travels in Africa, Asia and the Middle East don't have any relevance to foreign affairs, what would? A visit to Antarctica?

12. I Blame My Early Drug Use On Ethnic Confusion. The smear email suggests that Sen. Obama had no problems growing up as a biracial kid in the 1960s and 1970s. The anonymous people who put out these emails must know him better than he does.

13. An Ebony Article Moved Me To Run For Office. This may be an incorrect memory from childhood. The article may have appeared in another magazine.

14. A Life Magazine Article Changed My Outlook On Life. The book recites a memory from his childhood. Several advertisements depicting the whitening creams that Obama described did appear in magazines at that time (and still do today.) - From TPM.

15. I Won't Run On A National Ticket In '08. The quotation is false: Obama said he had "no plans" to run, which is the standard cover used by politicians. In fact, out of all candidates in the primaries, every single one had stated this at one point--including Sen. Clinton and McCain (from TPM).

16. Present Votes Are Common In Illinois. Present votes ARE common in Illinois, as has been explained by Illinois legislators, newspapers and researchers. Present votes are made strategically to help weaker representatives in your party--for example Planned Parenthood ASKED Obama to vote "present" instead of "no" on some abortion bills so that other Democratic State Senators would have cover.

17. Oops, I Misvoted. No idea what this one is even referring to. Here is a complete list of Obama's voting record: http://projects.washingtonpost.com/congress/members/o000167/

18. I Was A Professor Of Law. Sen. Obama taught constitutional law at the University of Chicago; according to UC, he was a professor of law. It does not get any simpler than this, even if the academic titles seem confusing. Obama was also NOT on leave when he was teaching... he has been on leave since his election to U.S. Senate. Here is the U of Chicago School of Law statement on this very issue: http://www.law.uchicago.edu/media/index.html

19. I Was A Constitutional Lawyer. Sen. Obama worked as a civil rights lawyer in Chicago from 1993 to 2002. See Wikipedia: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Early_life_and_career_of_Barack_Obama. Also here is the website of the law firm he worked for: http://www.lawmbg.com/index.cfm/PageID/2674

20. Without Me, There Would Be No Ethics Bill. Sen. Obama did propose and pass the toughest ethics legislation in Congress yet, banning many different ways that lobbyists got legislators to do favors for them. Find the text of the Legislative Transparency and Accountability Act

at http://obama.senate.gov/issues/ethics_and_lobbying_reform/

21. The Ethics Bill Was Hard To Pass. Just because a bill passed in two weeks does not mean it was not difficult to pass. The full process actually took more than 14 days. However, if your opponent accuses you of getting bills passed TOO fast, you obviously do not have many vulnerabilities.

22. I Wrote A Tough Nuclear Bill. Sen. Obama's original bill was much tougher but the Republicans required it toned down before it was allowed to pass (this was prior to 2006 takeover) in its final form--which still established new regulations which no-one else did. Obama also worked with Republican Senator Dick Lugar to pass a bill to keep nukes out of the hands of terrorists. See coverage at http://www.democraticunderground.com/discuss/duboard.php?az=view_all&address=388x3353

23. I Have Released My State Records. All IL Senate records are available through Illinois State. Read What Media Matters Had to Say: "The Associated Press reported that Sen. Barack Obama "says he can't step up and produce his own records from his days in the Illinois state Senate. He says he hasn't got any." But Obama did not claim that the documents do not exist. In fact, the article quoted Obama saying: "I don't have -- I don't maintain -- a file of eight years of work in the state Senate because I didn't have the resources available to maintain those kinds of records."

24. I Took On The Asbestos Altgeld Gardens Mess. Sen. Obama can legitimately take credit for this but other people were involved also.

From:
http://www.dispatchpolitics.com/live/content/president/stories/obamaearly.html
"Key players who worked with Obama at Altgeld Gardens said he deserves credit for pulling together a team of hundreds of residents who rallied for improvements at their housing projects. Obama helped secure grants for a jobs program and pushed for asbestos removal. His biggest accomplishment may have been to leave in place a group of activist mothers, some of whom continue to work or live at Altgeld Gardens."

25. My Economics Bill Will Help America. It is unclear what Senate bill contained Sen. Obama's "111 economic policies." In any case, Sen. Obama's economic program has many positive features, including cutting loopholes exploited by corporations and wealthy Americans, cutting taxes on the middle class, and shoring up Social Security by ensuring that the rich pay as much of the rest of the us into the system.

26. I Have Been A Bold Leader In Illinois. The "supporter" who said Obama was not bold was actually a Republican state senator. Whether Obama was a bold leader is a value judgement left for the reader. He did some good work on healthcare and criminal justice in Illinois.

27. I Passed 26 Of My Own Bills In One Year. Untrue accusation, which also contradicts claim #36.

28. No One Contacted Canada About NAFTA. The Canadian embassy contacted Mr. Goolsbee in his civilian role, not the other way around. The statement is imprecise, though.

From:
http://www.factcheck.org/elections-2008/the_facts_about_nafta-gate.html

"It's now clear that a Canadian news report that started this flap wasn't accurate. No evidence has surfaced to show that any Obama "staffer" telephoned the Canadian ambassador in Washington, and all concerned deny that any such conversation took place. But it is equally clear that Obama's senior economic adviser did visit Canada's consulate in Chicago on Feb. 8, and that NAFTA was one of the several topics discussed."

29. I Am Tough On Terrorism. Sen. Obama did not vote for the resolution designating the Iranian group a terrorist organization because he did not want to give George W. Bush an excuse to start another war.

30. I Am Not Acting As President Yet. Not sure what it means to be "acting as President" when you're a candidate. In any case, the FARC accusation is false. It's a false quotation.

31. I Didn't Run Ads In Florida. Obama advertised on national cable. Some adverts would be seen in Florida due to inability of disabling that from happening. The decision was cleared beforehand through the South Carolina DNC head as required by DNC rules. The Herald Tribune wrote, "Obama's campaign launched national television advertisements on CNN and MSNBC that are shown in Florida " and "Obama's campaign spokesman Bill Burton disputes the pledge was broken. He said the campaign asked CNN and MSNBC to pull Florida from the ad buy, but the networks said they could not." From:
http://www.heraldtribune.com/article/20080123/NEWS/801230668

32. I Won Michigan. Sen. Obama never claimed to win Michigan; he wasn't even on the ballot there. He mistakenly said "Michigan" in one interview when discussing the states he had won, but it was a gaffe. Clearly tired, he also called the interviewer by the wrong name.

33. I won Nevada. Sen. Obama never claimed to win Nevada, although he did get one more delegate from the state due to the rules for proportionally allocating delegates by voting district. From USA Today, "Obama said in a statement released by his campaign around 6:15 p.m. ET that he came from 25 points behind and nearly beat Clinton today because he did well across all of Nevada ï¿½ 'including rural areas where Democrats have traditionally struggled.'"
From:http://www.usatoday.com/news/politics/election2008/2008-01-19-nevada_N.htm

agreed to in the beginning.

35. I Want Americans To Decide. It's not Sen. Obama's fault that some states use caucuses to choose their delegates and others use primaries. Caucuses may be less representative, but this is the way states like Iowa and Nebraska do their voting. He has won big victories in primaries (e.g. Virginia, Wisconsin, Louisiana) as well as caucuses.

36. I passed 900 Bills in the State Senate. - LIAR, you passed 26, most of which you didn't write yourself. Quotation is false. In addition, the number 26 is the number of bills he passed in his last year ALONE.

37. My Campaign Was Extorted By A Friend. No idea what this is about. Accusers give no details, evidence, reference.

38. I Believe In Fairness, Not Tactics - LIAR, you used tactics to eliminate Alice Palmer from running against you. Alice Palmer held Obama's seat in the Illinois state senate before him, and she decided she wanted to run for the spot again after his first term. However, she was unable to get enough legitimate signatures to run for the seat.

39. I Don't Take PAC Money. Obama has not accepted PAC money directly or indirectly in this election. According to Factcheck.org: "We've seen no evidence that Obama is not adhering to the letter of his pledge." From:
http://www.factcheck.org/elections-2008/pac-ing_heat.html

40. I don't Have Lobbysists - LIAR, you have over 47 lobbyists, and counting. Obama never made that statement. His statement is that he does not employ federally registered lobbyists and his administration will not include any. That statement is correct.

41. My Campaign Had Nothing To Do With The 1984 Ad. The author of the 1984 ad was not a campaign worker of the Obama campaign. The author of the ad was exposed to be Phillip de Vellis of Blue State Digital. See:
http://www.bluestatedigital.com/2007/03/on_the_1984_video.html

42. My Campaign Never Took Over MySpace. Author makes a completely nonsensical claim that Obama's campaign "took over" MySpace which is A) not true and B) technically not possible without criminal activity.

43. I Inspire People With My Words - LIAR, you inspire people with other people's words. Sen. Obama made use of similar words from a speech given by his friend and supporter, Governor Deval Patrick of Massachussetts. He has inspired people with plenty of other words before.

44. I Have Passed Bills In The U.S. Senate. Sen. Obama has passed several important bills and amendments in the U.S. Senate. Information is available on the US Senate website.

45. I Have Always Been Against Iraq. Sen. Obama has consistently opposed the WAR in Iraq. Unlike the author of the list, Obama does not believe that funding of the troops should be cut immediately without being able to ensure a safe and orderly redeployment. As Obama explained: "Once the bus is in the ditch, there are only so many ways to get it out." (for quote see:

46. I Have Always Supported Universal Health Care. "Universal healthcare" is defined as "healthcare that is available universally." Obama's plan makes healthcare universally available. Take a look at his plan and judge for yourself:
http://www.barackobama.com/issues/healthcare/

47. I Only Found Out About My Investment Conflicts Via Mail. No evidence for this accusation - it is unclear what it is referring to.

48. I Am As Patriotic As Anyone - LIAR, you won't wear a flag pin.
The author assumes that everyone has to wear a flag pin to be patriotic. I love this country and I don't wear one -- do you? You could at least hear him out:
http://www.barackobama.com/factcheck/2007/11/12/obama_is_a_patriot.php

49. My Wife Didn't Mean What She Said About Pride In Country.
Michelle Obama said she was proud of her country. Her statement did imply that she had been less proud before than she is now. I know I was a little less proud of my country when its government started torturing people and invading countries for no reason.

50. Wal-Mart Is A Company I Wouldn't Support. Sen. Obama does not support Wal-Mart's policies. TreeHouse is not "affiliated with"
Wal-Mart. The latter is a customer of TreeHouse. Michelle Obama has left TreeHouse. It should be noted that while Obama is not lying as the author suggests, even this type of "connection" with Wal-Mart should be considered bad in the opinion of yours truly.

Getting to know Cindy McCain

There was an article recently in the Wall Street Journal on Cindy McCain, John's wife. All I ever saw was this attractive woman standing beside John. I was surprised how talented and involved with world problems she is. This is a summary of the article. She graduated from Southern Cal and was a special-needs teacher.

After her Dad died she became involved with his beer distributing firm and is now the chairwoman. Sales have doubled since she has taken over from her father.

They have a marriage prenuptial agreement, her assets remain separate.

She is involved around the world clearing land mines - travels to these countries on a detonation team and service on their board.

They have a 19 year old serving in Iraq, another son in the Naval Academy, a daughter recently graduated from Columbia Univ., an adopted daughter in high school, and a son who is the finance guy at the beer firm.

Raised kids in Phoenix, Az rather than Washington DC. (better atmosphere) He commuted.

In 1991, Mrs. McCain came across a girl in an orphanage in Bangladesh. Mother Teresa implored Mrs. McCain to take the baby with severe cleft palate. She did so without first telling her husband. The couple adopted the girl who has had a dozen operations to repair her cleft palate and other medical problems.

They have a Family Foundation for children's causes.

She's active with "Halo Trust" - to clear land mines, provide water and food in war ravaged and developing countries.

She will join an overseas mission of "Operation Smile", a charity for corrective surgery on children's faces. She has had two back surgeries and became addicted to pain killers. She talks openly about it which she says is part of the recovery process.

I'm surprised the media is so quiet about her attributes. They have tired to discredit John McCain because of his wife's wealth looks as if she knows how to put money and time to use in many good causes. What a novel thought to have such a fine person as "First Spouse" She sounds more capable than Hillary or Obama. We would really get two for the price of one. A person with business and international experience. John did work for the firm for awhile when he left the Navy. She, however, has the real business experience. Very interesting.

First, Fatty tired to convince us that he has three college degrees, yet he can't spell better than a first grader.

Second, Fatty tired to convince us that he was raped by four men and in the process he (Super Hero Fatty) killed one by kicking him in the balls, killed a second by thowing him out of a window from the fourth story. The question still remains is how he perfomed these incrdible feats while being raped.

Third, Fatty indicated that he wished he could perform fellatio upon himself, but could not because he can't reach it, but he thinks this desire is normal because he mistakenly believes that all men wish they could do it to themselves.

Fatty, now alleges that he HAD to have sex with a 17 year old boy because if he did not do so, the 17 year old boy was going to commit suicide.

That's right...Fatty has alleged that a 17 year old boy was going to kill himself unless Fatty let him have sex with him.

If anyone has seen Fatty's photo, you know that it has to be a bold faced lie.

Dave,

She is not the right kind of 'women' for the Liberal Media

How Cindy McCain was outed for drug addiction
When an attempt to get tough with a whistleblower backfired in 1994, the McCain spin machine went into overdrive, and the candidate's wife confessed to problems the media was already poised to reveal.

- - - - - - - - - - - -
By Amy Silverman

Oct. 18, 1999 | PHOENIX -- GOP presidential candidate John McCain's wife Cindy took to the airwaves last week, recounting for Jane Pauley (on "Dateline") and Diane Sawyer (on "Good Morning America") the tale of her onetime addiction to Percocet and Vicodin,

and the fact that she stole the drugs from her own nonprofit medical relief organization.

It was a brave and obviously painful thing to do.

It was also vintage McCain media manipulation.

Mark, the only one that is malfunctioning here is you.

Since you responded by saying you had a directional antenna, all I did is ask what kind, and described a recent find myself. I was very civil with no agenda. I guess for you it is a crime to be pleasant and to try to strike up a decent conversation. But, the reality is that a decent conversation cannot be conducted with indecent individuals.

I ask a simple question, you attack me. Why?

Are you calling everyone here vile? These are my friends here. You want to talk about 'vilest ham', how about your buddy Todd? Tell me if that this is not a vile site? http://n9oglvoice.blogspot.com/ Warning-Material posted is rather disgusting.
Everyone, check out this site and tell me if this is vile or not.

I have a lot of friends on this site, so your BS is not going to fly here. This is not RRAP.

Also, sir, stop your false accusations against me as being untruthful, and I don't stalk. I have been on a business trip all week and just got home last night, and now this nonsense.

AND...

Mark,

It doesn't appear that XXXX has attacked or insulted you in any manner here. He's shown remarkable restraint, in my opinion. Whatever happened elsewhere doesn't concern any of us here, so would you consider a polite request to take this offline?

I'll decline in advance entertaining any justification or reasoning for all of this, so no need to reply specifically.

AND...

OK, Mark, you can settle down a bit. I am here to see the rules are followed, and I don't require your inspiration to do so.

No posts are going to be deleted, and I'm not sure what gave you that idea. What I am going to do is lock the topic for a while if the one on one continues.

Please allow a graceful conclusion to this. These things only spiral in one direction, and that's down.

BWAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAH! Another set of hams (the third that I know about) that seems to have come to the same conclusion..that Fatty is a malfunctioning mental patient...LOL

God I love the moderated groups when it comes to Fatty. It is like watching some road rage luntic on the highway who is getting out of his car to yell at some poor sap, only to slam his own car door on his hand in the process. Bwahahahahahah!

Het Fatty, take your capitol one card and go on a vacation, just don't book a trip to Ham Island, I don't think they want you over there.

Hillary's continued primary run makes a lot more sense once you realize that she intends to run as an Independent in the general election. The blogosphere is already full of stories about how polls show that 29% of Democrats want Hillary to run as an Independent if she doesn't get the nomination that she once thought was her entitlement.

When that happens, Hillary and Obama will split the vote and assure that McCain wins. Hillary will thereby become a pariah in the Democrat party and will never be supported by it again.

Remember that you heard it here first. I love it when Rush Limbaugh's brilliant strategies work out.

It is interesting to watch the Liberal press as they tell Hillary to bow

Her 900 FBI files must not have any juicy personal information about the Morkins. Whatever law book you are reading should be tossed out for your chickens to crap on.

Threats, any threats, whether aimed toward Federal agents or not are illegal.
The penalty and attention for making these sorts of threats gets notched up a bit when aimed toward Federal officials, especially law enforcement officials.

Todd need not implement his threat. The fact that he made it is, alone, an illegal act.

You should learn the facts, learn the law and stop spouting your allegedly "learned" opinions. You are a Fool's fool.

bullshit if that were the case Robeson would be in prison todd would have been in prison years ago Woger would have been in prison years

Get off your dumb ass, Mark.
Nothing was done about those alleged "threats" simply because nobody brought them to the attention of the proper authorities.

I do not, cannot recall anywhere in which the above mentioned parties made specific threats. Todd did. And he was quite specific.

In your case, stupid, there may have been a very loosely veiled threat, tho the interpretation of same was by your warped definiton. That won't hold water in a Court of Law.

I have never read any posts by Woger that specifically threatened you with any bodily harm. But in your increased state of paranoia it is understandable that you are constantly looking over your shoulder.

And as far as Steve is concerned? You've been fixated on him for years and are a borderline stalker. It was not Steve who attacked his poor, deceased daughter. You did, you cruel, crude asshole.

If I were to meet you in person? I'd do as others would want to do...I'd spit in your face. Figuratively.

Making threats, whether printed or voiced fall under Intimidation laws, Mark.

Your lack of knowleged is blatant and I would suggest that you forthwith cease rendering your comments regarding that which is legal or not legal.
You are clearly a Buffoon in these matters and it would behoove you to sit back, shut up and stop showing yourself to be the fool that you are.

A threat with no means to "carry it out" is not a crime?? I can't believe you said that.

You are a fool, a pathetic fool.

Yes we are somewhat fearful and for good reason, because there is a ham stalker among us named Mark Morgan KB9RQZ, who tells baseless lies to law enforcement, goes after other hams for no reason other than they publicly object to your abnormal behavior, you use personal tragedies such as the death of a child as a platform to attack a grieving parent, and you attempt to get folks fired from their jobs and/or have them put in jail under the guise of your fantasies of law breaking just for the fact that we won't sit silently by while you laud groundless accusations at everyone and trash ham message boards across the net.

QRZ has permanently banned you. The nim ham board has been shut down multiple times because of you. You have been ridiculed for you behavior on eham, and now you are having problems with the hams who use ham island, which BTW you lied about.

Damn right we are not going to give you our names, and you have given us all the justification that we will ever need for not doing so. Most of us was not even here when whatever you allege happened years ago, and we don't really care. The folks that you mentioned who trashed the NG in the other thread appear not to be here posting at all. Yet you keep lauding false claims against us.

Bottom line...IT IS YOU WHO IS THE PROBLEM, and no one else.

Go away lid and stop trashing everything everywhere you go on the net.

Most states would not allow her on the ballot as an independent, because she has already been pursuing the nomination of a party in the primaries... making this idea rather moot from the start.

I guess it might depend upon the rules in each state when one must sign up on the November ballot regardless of what party one has already been pursuing the nomination in.

Thanks.

I see that Mark is making himself a problem over there too. As the moderated boards have all pretty much figured out for themselves, there is no point in attempting to reason with Mark. You simply have to confront him and ban him. It's a lesson that seems to take a long time for other people to learn.

I've been saying for years and years that Slick Willie was a Neocon.

George Wallace was right when he said, "Ain't a dime's worth of difference" between a DEM and a GOP.

Ever since 1981, the same Puppetmasters been running the show. Don't know who Obama works for, but I know Hillary and McCain obey the exact same bosses.

So, although I admit I didn't see Hillary running as an independent coming, it does make perfect sense for her to pass the presidency to McCain rather than Obama.

Dammit, four more years of the same fking anti-constitutional regime!!

there's no hope...

3506. Toad joins Mark in attacking the Island of Misfit Hams

If you look at the vile blog at http://n9oglvoice.blogspot.com, you will see a diatribe against the web site which just locked down Mark's rants about being a victim. Odd isn't it, how fast Toad's rant appeared?

And yet Mark claims that Toad isn't his buddy.

I smell a rat here.

P.S. Go on over to the URL listed above, and please click on the "flag blog" icon at the top of the screen. Then hit the browser's reload button so that Google is sure to get an entry in their log files. After enough different IP addresses complain about the blog, Google will yank it and Todd will scream. I want to hear him scream.

DESERTER

THE STORY OF GEORGE W. BUSH AFTER HE QUIT THE TEXAS AIR NATIONAL GUARD

SUMMARY

An examination of the Bush military files within the context of US Statutory Law, Department of Defense regulations, and Air Force policies and procedures of that era lead to a single conclusion: George W. Bush was considered a deserter by the United States Air Force.

After Bush quit TXANG, he still had nine months of his six-year military commitment left to serve. As a result, Bush became a member of the Air Force Reserves and was transferred to the authority of the Air Reserve Personnel Center (ARPC) in Denver, Colorado. Because this was supposed to be a temporary assignment, ARPC had to review Bush’s records to determine where he should ultimately be assigned. That examination would have led to three conclusions: That Bush had “failed to satisfactorily participate” as defined by United States law and Air Force policy, that TXANG could not account for Bush’s actions for an entire year, and that Bush’s medical records were not up to date. Regardless of what actions ARPC contemplated when reviewing Bush’s records, all options required that Bush be certified as physically fit to serve, or as unfit to serve. ARPC thus had to order Bush to get a physical examination, for which Bush did not show up. ARPC then designated Bush as AWOL and a “non-locatee” (i.e. a deserter) who had failed to satisfactorily participate in TXANG, and certified him for immediate induction through his local draft board.

Once the Houston draft board got wind of the situation, strings were pulled; and documents were generated which directly contradict Air Force policy, and which were inconsistent with the rest of the records released by the White House.

your turn Mark, errr at least that's the name you use now.

If you page down on his 'blog' you will see some of the most vile and disgusting cartoons depicting what appear to be children being sexually abused by adults. If you want to hear the owner of this blog "scream" just give it time and when he's eventually in that jail cell with Bubba, Tyrone and Rasheed yes my friend THEN he will scream and in a month he'll be able to squat his pasty skinny white asshole over a streetcorner fireplug without any trouble.

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court on Monday upheld a 2003 federal law aimed at child pornography, concluding in a 7-to-2 opinion that a federal appeals court was wrong to find the law unconstitutionally vague.

Child pornography harms and debases the most defenseless of our citizens," Justice Antonin Scalia wrote for the court. "Both the state and federal governments have sought to suppress it for many years, only to find it proliferating through the new medium of the Internet." The ruling scathingly rejected contentions that the 2003 legislation was so broadly written that it could make it a crime to share or even describe depictions of children in explicit sexual situations, even if the depictions are inaccurate, the children do not really exist and the intention is innocent.

Monday's decision in United States v. Williams reinstated the conviction of Michael Williams of Florida, who was caught in a federal undercover operation in April 2004 and found guilty later of "pandering" child pornography, a charge defined in part as promoting or distributing real or "purported" material in a way that reflects the belief — or is intended to persuade another — that the material is indeed child pornography.

Mr. Williams was nabbed offering to trade nude pictures of his young daughter and other forms of child pornography in an Internet chat room. He did not actually have pictures of his daughter, but he did have 22 pornographic images of other children on his computer hard drive. He pleaded guilty to possessing that material, which has long been a crime, and was sentenced to five years in prison. That aspect of the case against him was not part of the Supreme Court argument. Instead, lawyers on his behalf challenged the “pandering” charge, which also carries a five-year sentence, asserting that it was so “overly broad” as to violate the First Amendment guarantee of free speech. The United States Court of Appeals for the 11th Circuit found that argument persuasive, reasoning that offering a copy of “Snow White” on false claims that it depicts minors engaging in sex could be construed as criminal behavior.

But Justice Scalia dismissed the 11th Circuit’s finding, its reliance on what he considered far-fetched hypothetical situations and the notion that the statute under review would cause all sorts of fact-finding problems. Judges and juries are routinely called upon to assess difficult issues of fact and intent involving charges like conspiracy, incitement and solicitation, he wrote.

In 2002, the court struck down a law that made it a crime to create, distribute or possess “virtual” child pornography that uses computer-generated images or young-looking adults rather than real children. But, as Justice Scalia noted on Monday, the Supreme Court has held that the government can criminalize the mere possession of actual child pornography, as distinct from mere possession of pornography involving adults. Justice Scalia’s opinion not only swept aside the defendant’s contention that the law as written was too vague but said it made no difference whether the pornography was offered for sale or was promoted as being free. Consider a drug case, he suggested: “It would be an odd constitutional principle that permitted the government to prohibit offers to sell illegal drugs, but not offers to give them away for free.”

Joining the opinion were Chief Justice John G. Roberts Jr. and Justices John Paul Stevens, Anthony M. Kennedy, Clarence Thomas, Stephen G. Breyer and Samuel A. Alito Jr. Justices David H. Souter and Ruth Bader Ginsburg dissented, with Justice Souter writing that promoting images that are not real children engaging in pornography still could be prosecuted under the law at issue.

You can't distinguish between the words "vile" and "illegal." People have been saying that your web site is vile (and it is), and that has nothing to do with its legality. Your web site is vile. It is vile.
It is V-I-L-E ! ! Got it?

So keep on screaming that "It's legal!" and keep on missing the point.

You're just as dense as KB9RQZ.

A source that just returned from Dayton this weekend had this to say. "Dayton was really good this year, attendance was down but this was a good thing which made navigating the fest much easier. The only new equipment that I saw was a new all weather HF rig from Icom and a new HF amplier from Alpha, the 8410. It rained on Thursday during set up, but the rest of the weekend the weather was spectacular. As usual the tailgating area was great. While there, I did overhear an interesting conversation when a few folks stopped in front of my indoor table...

Certain persons of some importance were overheard saying....pehaps they have other hobbies he could enjoy, from what I understand he certainly is dedicated to amateur radio and is a high ranking officer in his club, but the Commission can only tolerate so much blatent disrespect of it's employees in such a tasteless and almost criminal manner, his actions off air certainly gives credence that under the character clause of the rules, an enforceble action may be more than plausible and warranted...

I don't kinow who they were talking about but someone needs to watch what they are saying...I can only hope it was about our current situation.

You fucking idiot, there is no proof that Dan has any association with "dloyd" and you were told such right in the beginning when you brought up the alleged kiddie email (which you have never posted any proof that it even exists or the senders account information) and metioned Dan and Brian and others as suspects of who sent it. Your "keep shaking the tree and see who falls out tactic" is getting you no where because you are shaking the wrong tree, as a matter of fact you are even in the wrong fucking forest. IMO I think your old buddy woger sent it as he likes to hijack so many nyms, but hey that is just my opinion.

Nevertheless, bringing in Dan and Brian into this is some shit you conjured up in your head after Karol got a hold of you. From what I've read, you weren't even a blip on the radar in the ve7kfm vs K3vr feud, until someone decided to involve you by sending shit to Karol through your own blog (which BTW is under YOUR control and YOU can block it from happening but choose not to).

You know what, they are right on ve7kfm.com, you are a useful idiot because you did exactly what Karol wanted you to do, you fucking puppet. How does it feel KB9RQZ, you got owned by the Anti American Canadian fruit cake for his purposes. If I was Karol, I would be laughing with delight about how I got over on you, you truely are a Fool's Fool.

Oh I read about it a long time ago, Mad Hater. The blogging community (that's me) gets to tell Blogger when a fruitcake (that's you) has posted questionable content on its free blogs. You're a free speech guy, right? In that case, you ought to support free speech for the blogging community (that's us) by means of the little flag icon at the top of the screen.

Yes, Mad Hater, you're so much more powerful than the U.S. government that the FBI people will quake in their boots when they are told to confront you.

I don't think it is more tahn maybe a dzoen unless of course you try to count up the numberless sock puppets what GoglePlex of those (not quite but I could not resist the joke)

they have had ocasional success in stop you interfering with me but they forgot the german (I can't spell his name) "that which does not destory us make us stronger" soemthing like that

Indeed If I only knew NOW about the web back when this harrassment started I might even have been able to head em off

Let me be clear, IMO I have commited no crimes, engaging and disputing you when you attribute events to me (laud false claims) that I had no part of is all that I have done. Answering your never ending diatribe of harrassment to the users of this group and pointing out your acts of harrassment to other users of other sites is all that I have done.

I have never emailed you unless you emailed me first (blog domain issue resolved). Yet I have received distrubing and somtimes sexual related emails allegedly from you.

I have never hacked into any accounts or stolen any data, any data ever obtained by me was open and unsecured and was found by a public accessable search engine (google), and was used for the sole purpose of clarifying the truth.

I have only defended myself or pointed out what I believe is false groundless claims by you, lauded at myself or other hams.

I have asked you to stop on multiple occassions, but you refused, I stopped posting for an entire month, yet you continued to harrass in my absence.

I have never sent any unsolicited messages, emails, mailings, or made any phone calls to anyone. I have kept this dispute within the confines of the net. Period.

I have no blogs concerning anyone other than myself.

I have challenged you before and I still challenge you to prove that I have done the things that you accuse.

I have no control over anybody eles's posting behavior or the control of anyone's elses actions performed with hi-jacked nyms.

There is no coordinated effort as I have had no contact with any other users of the boards, either openly or privately.

I see you as the instigator in this whole affair and still to this day you maintain blogs with posts by you attacking me for things that I have not done.

I aided no one, you just cannot accept the fact that so many folks independently have the same feeling about you based soley on your behavior, even on other groups the same conclusion has been reached independently by individual users, there is no coordinated effort against you. Your actions caused a mass of different individuals to reach the same conclusion independently of each other, which can only lead to one possible conclusioin when there is only common denominator...You.

Bullshit, RRAP is just another one of many sites which individuals independently of each other have reached the same conclusion...even a moderated group was created in part because of your flood attack of this group.

No lie at all, your dloyd blog speaks for itself, and with the posting on your regular blog where you accuse me of pandering.

Nevertheless, despite the dispute between us, I will still state what I stated a year before that IMO any attack blog(s) on your wife are wrong and are inappropriate.

See Mark, this is exaclty what I am talking about, more baseless unproven acusations. But if you were receiving calls you should still be able to tell what state the calls came from. So where did they come from???

Nevertheless, I've never had a throw away cell phone in my life,as a matter of fact WTF is a throwaway phone. Furthermore, I never hacked anything I have neither the capability or the time for such nonsense, and I have no idea what credit cards you have, much less cancel them. But I find the whole story suspicious because WHY IN THE FUCK WOULD AMAZON HAVE ALL OF YOUR CREDIT CARDS ON FILE! Most folks only require one unless your credit is so problematic that it takes 5 cards to make a purchase.

Once again I challenge you to prove that it was me who did as you say or stop spouting these baseless lies.

This will probably be my last post for the night, because unlike you I don't want to look like a flooder.

Still attacking with your lies I see.

and Yet you still did not post where the calls came from. You know why, because it is a lie just like all the other tall tales you make up about what somebody allegedly did to you...

Just like you would not post your prior address where the alleged burned out shell of a house remains that the insurance won't pay you for...

Just like you killed two men at one time...

ect ect ect...all looks false to me, when you post outlandish tales and accuse specific folks of commiting crimes, you should be prepared to back it up with verifiable facts.

A Public notice posted by the FCC has a proposal to use 430-448 MHz for remotely-controlled surveillance robot for emergency use.

http://hraunfoss.fcc.gov/edocs_public/attachmatch/DA-08-1077A1.pdf

For the power proposed and the limited use, I don't believe the device will cause any significant interferece to the ARS.

The real issue for the manufacture is how to stop the ARS from interfering with the device. It seems the real possible threat may be that once the manufacturer has its foot in the door so to say on 440mhz, they may start petitioning for channelization to be done and assigned to it, citing interference problems that have occured in alleged emergency sitiuations.

Have to watch this one closely.

Sorry, but no it is not, I made several on topic responses to the ONE other thread this year that was on topic. There have been no other on topic posts made by anyone this year in RRAP.

Nevertheless, yet it is you who offers no ontopic thoughts, just further instigation by you. I need no vindication from you whether I post on topic or not. This is my attempt (probably futile) to point this NG in the right direction to recover it from its current state, I will probably fail. You and others can either follow suit or continue your/their....whatever it is your are trying to do, that is up to you.

Frankly, as someone has said everything just spirals down, perhaps its time for this group and users of it to change direction.

3740. How To Be An Enemy Of The State!

Here is a help list for anyone else wanting to be banished from rec.radio.amateur.moderated, just as I was...

1. Be a critic of morse code as the ultimate skill of hams.

2. Be outspoken in one's views, even if it steps all over the sneering and denigration of olde-tyme hammies.

3. Challenge the authority, knowledge, and religious power of the ARRL as the supreme Lord of U.S. ham radio.

4. Do things your way, never do as olde-tymers say you should.

5. Like what you like, not what you are told to like.

6. Don't give thanks ("gratuitous praise") to those who denigrate or dismiss anything you've said or done.
[they all know better than you and aren't civil about letting you and everyone else know that]

7. Give up personal sense of worth. Those olde-tymers know so much more, have done so much more than any not in their clique. Be prepared to apoligize, to abase yourself in front of Their Majesties. Give thanks for being allowed to live in their presence.

8. Never EVER reveal your own reasons for doing things.
These olde-tymers already KNOW why all do things and They don't like it when others don't copy Their ways.
[your own reasons matter not]

9. Fail to follow amateur scripture. "True" hams are those who began as teenagers, worshipped morse code,
"worked hard" to upgrade until they reached the Ultimate, the license class of Amateur Extra. All others don't matter.

10. Fail to do EXACTLY as moderators say. See (7). They are the ENFORCERS of all public opinion...in RRAM. It is okay if They are brusque, uncomplementary, or even rude in telling you why a posting was rejected. They are Moderators and are In Control. [but only in RRAM]

11. Try to argue a subject in private e-mail with moderators. They don't want to discuss, only Give Orders. They Know Exactly how moderation should be done. No one has ever moderated anything but Them.

12. Argue the most inconsequential of subjects with IN members (the RRAM clique). Only clique members of a newsgroup are permitted to argue amongst themselves.

13. Criticize the Moderator Team for being failures at controlling the content of RRAP for years. They are In Control of RRAM now, are playing catch-up by being utterly conservative, indeed Victorian in everything.

The above are sure-fire suggestions to get you banned, black-listed, declared personna non grata in that tiny tiny forum of clique members where moderators outnumber ordinary posters.

A free and open democracy is grand. Where is one?

You spell like Ted Kennedy is going to spell once that brain tumor kicks into high gear.

Once again I will state for the record, that I have not lied or ever stolen anything from you. Once again, for the god knows how many times, I will make this statement again but for the last time because it is time to move on...

Yes I posted a copy of your wedding gift registry, for the sole purpose of disproving your claims of so many friends, the information was obtained through a cache copy from a simple search by the Google search engine, no hacking was involved whatsoever.

During the same search information was obtained which displayed a copy of a certain adult book page marked by your wife. That I admit was posted in error and have already apologized to you once about it. However, bringing open unsecured publicly available information to the public's attention is not a crime. There is such legalities as taking responsibilty to secure that which you do not want to be public. The information was unsecured, you failed to secure it from the public domain, therefore it was PUBLIC information.

From looking though your post in the usenet archives, and the fact that you changed your story five times about the event, IMO the truth seems to be that once I posted the registry, you freaked out because you ASSUMED that some type of hacking had occurred, and then you went and cancelled your own credit cards in a fit of panic. When, if you had simply performed your own search through Google you would have easily seen that the information was unsecured and was in the public domain on a public profile found by Google's search engine.

Now you have changed the story again about some "throw away phone" yet won't even tell what state the calls came from, if you got proof it was a throw away phone, then you know the origin of the state of the calls. But IMO you either are lying about the whole affair or you won't disclose the information because you are hoping that once you find out where I am, you can come out and say the calls came from here. IMO manufacturing evidence is not beyond you.

You instigated this in the beginning by simply not honoring a simple request from me to stop hijacking my posts, yet instead of being cordial, you went out of your way to antagonize me and to inflame the situation in a tirade of name calling, threats, and groundless accusations, that still continue today and have evolved into tit for tat.

Enough is enough..time to move foward.

Why tell this lie, you did come on this thread and attempted to antagonize me with your smart ass comment, no one asked for your smart mouth bullshit, but as usual you can't control yourself and that is why you have problems on almost every Ham site on the net. Once again I will ask you to stop harrassing me. You say you want this to end, well here is a way to end it, stop directing post specifically at me.

More baseless fantasy, I've never had any contact with CCRAA or anybody other hams in the state of Michigan, truth be told, I've never ever had any problems with any other hams except you and Lloyd Davies with his WN anti-jew/black/hispanic/everyone except whites bullshit.

But you say you want it to end, if you want it to end from me, then stop directing posts specifically at me..very simple solution that most adults can deal with...so are you an adult or an infant? The ball is in your court.

No one is asking you to, can't you read, all that I am asking is you to not direct any post at ME. Why would you want to converse with me?
> if you can't stand anybody responding to your posts you should avoid

I have no problem with anybody responding to my posts in an adult like manner, but the short one liners of ye olde past, is what got to this point in the first place.

Nevertheless Mark, isn't what I am asking the same thing you demanded of N1LAF, all he did was respond to your posts in a manner that you did not approve and you responded...(I have no desire to take anything offline N1LAF I have no real desire to converse with him at all in any media).

You have claimed that I am this horrible person and a criminal. Why would you direct a post at me for a response? If you feel that you have no desires to to converse with the people you don't like, then why can't you refrain from directing a post to me???

No one is asking you not to posts, but certainly you can refrain from directing anything at me, if what you say is true that you don't want to converse with people you don't like.

More baseless accusations, I have never claimed to be anyone specific, although I have specifically and truthfully denied being several of your targets. Now please stop directing posts to me. You don't want to converse, then don't direct comments specifically at me.

Sorry Mark, not my site. Obviously you are confusing me with someone else. Btw I just saw all the exchange on the island. For the record, I am none of those folks either.

3785. FROM N9OGL BLOG

first off here's what the site admin wrote about me:

You guys can argue about this Todd fellow all you want to but the cold reality is this:

1. I do not know nor do I care to know what is going on between you all and this Todd guy.

2. After some research on this Todd fellow I can say that he is not welcome on any site that has my name attached to it. I have no assurance that he will not post the same child porn anime stuff here that he has on his blog. Such stuff is vile (there I said it too) and calling it art or free speech will not change that. Sick is sick. The Supreme Court just ruled that such stuff is NOT protected speech. Till that changes I am not going to take the risk of having him here. The moderators are on notice to ban him on sight.

3. If his IP was banned, it was because he either logged in under some unknown name and made some trouble, he was using a pirated call, or his IP is recognized by the forum software as a known spammer or other such location and blocked automatically.

You can now go back to your debate....

First off, congrats for proving my point, and with such frivolous claim, that claim BTW for people who can read is this BULLSHIT idea that I was going to put lolicon art on Island of Misfit Hams. I mean, you could come up with something better, hell those morons at QUEER R ZED could probably come up with a better excuse. But at any rate, thank you for proving to me and everyone who does read this blog, and believe me there is a lot, for show that my first statement about you people IS TRUE. BTW thank your buddies at VE7KFM.COM for creating a website about me and Mark, they could of done away with mark and just have me but hey, beggars can't be choosers...but it nice that they seem to side with you, hell i wouldn't be surprised that they pulled your string and probably threatened you with liability.....that's their favorite word it seems. Anyway there's a few things I want to say, and I know that you morons, due to your very low IQ won't answer, but maybe some other stupid ham can reply. This is in respond to my "ville" website..if you don't like it soooo much then don't come here no one forcing you, however it is rather funny that you and the rest of the JACKASS ham radio operators seems to pick on me when it come to this stuff and yet, don't seem to bitch and moan like the fucking pussies you are about all the other anime websites that have the same shit on it....why is that huh?? why aren't you complaining to cartoon network for showing shin Chan?? huh?? shin Chan if you don't know is a five year old who's favorite thing to do is called the ass dance, or show his baby sister "Mr. Elephant" (his PENIS). last weekend episode shin and his principal got kicked out of the bathhouse, when shin decided to show him how to stretch his penis so it would be long....do I see you JACKASS ham operators complain about that. Or Shin's five year old friend Penny, who keeps her stuff rabbit between her leg in her crack. Again are you ham's bitching about that, no. Nor, as I stated before see you ham radio operators complaining about all the other anime sites on the web that has the same material as the material on this site, don't believe me here my email toddaug555@yahoo.com and I'll email you a small list of sites, although there is over a thousands of anime website. But tell me, why is that huh?? why do you only complaint about this site and call it ville. Why aren't you ham radio operators complaining about SIM and SIM 2 huh?? Both can be modified so the children in the game can have sex with anyone, why aren't you hams bitching like little cunts about that huh?? I don't see you complaining to EA GAMES for allowing the game to be modified so that can be done.....why is that??

Now in reference to the recent US Supreme Court Case, the case had to do with REAL child porn, not virtual, which anime falls under, thus it is still protected by the first amendment, but hey jackass like you don't believe in the first amendment do you???
Finally, The reason I was blocked was you were having problems with the server it seems, oh well it seems you banned me before I even joined, if I was a person who just found your site and found out you banned people based on what on that person site or the stupid notion that they may post that same material on that site on the forum, but have no real evidence to back it up, I would be wary of your forum if that's how YOU treat people, but hey you don't give a shit and the vast majority of people don't give a shit about you second rate forum....so I really would want to be on your site, hell you and QRZ.com should fight for the title of THE WORLD AMATEUR RADIO DISCUSSION BOARD OF ASSHOLES!! but once again you proven my point, that I stated in my first post. you will let people bad mouth people on your site and ban people before they are registered so they can't defend themselves...but hey you don't believe in free speech anyway..again thanks....I'M SURE YOU AND YOUR BUDDIES AT VE7KFM.COM CAN CELEBRATE

Under Wednesday's ruling, military officials "need to prove that having this particular gay person in the unit really hurts morale, and the only way to improve morale is to discharge this person," said Aaron Caplan, a staff attorney with the American Civil Liberties Union of Washington state who worked on the case.

all I can say is wow and this desnt for that ruling...

One of the judges, William C. Canby Jr., issued a partial dissent, saying that the ruling didn't go far enough. He argued that the Air Force should have to show that the policy itself "is necessary to serve a compelling governmental interest and that it sweeps no more broadly than necessary."

again wow

If lesbian can serve in the Armed Forces , the surely mere ham license is ok

If I had children watching the Cartoon Network, I would most certainly complain to them and to their advertisers. I'd also block the channel with the parental controls all sets have these days. However, the Cartoon Network people don't call it the "ham radio network" and then start showing cartoons. You call your web site "The Voice of Amateur Radio" and then you intentionally post vile cartoons.

The Cartoon Network people don't show up here in RRAP and get in our faces. You do. The Cartoon Network people don't show up on hamisland or Nim Busters and get in our faces either. You do.

When you put up a site supposedly devoted to amateur radio and then use it to post sicko drawings, you're getting in our faces again. In fact, that's your whole objective! You WANT to anger people, so you intentionally try to offend them. You're an angry man who seems to hate the world at large.

So let's be truthful: You seek us out, whether it's a web forum or a usenet news group, and then you proceed to do whatever you think will offend the largest number of people. It's the same thing you do on the air (I've heard your irrational, foul-mouthed rants). When you finally succeed in offending people so much that they take action, you then try to play the victim card, claiming that everyone is picking on you.

In fact, hams don't seek you out for the most part. Proof: You have put up lots of blogs and forums on the net where no one has shown up, proving that your claim of being stalked is a weak one.

According to you, the whole world is out to get you, including the FCC and the FBI. Did you ever stop to think that your problems might begin with you?

Your "cattle prod" discharged its batteries years ago. Get a life.

The U.S. Army "accepted" me 55 years ago to operate high-power HF transmitters, without my having to attend any "HF school" and certainly not for a lack of morse code skill. The U.S. electronics industry "accepted" me as an electronics design engineer working with RF over a broader range of the EM spectrum than is allowed to morseaholic HF-only radio hams.

Now if you want to keep on, and keep on, and keep on recreating the PAST forever, feel free to re-enact ANCIENT history in radio. Keep on "pioneering the airwaves"
AS IF you did it...which you didn't. Adjust those paddles and keep on diddling your key AS IF that was the "radio communications" of all time. You can be a hero to anyone born between around 1900 to 1920. This is the new millennium and the year 2008. Things have changed. Really.

Over a year ago I drove a mile to an AMATEUR radio examination place
and passed ALL THREE test elements on a Sunday afternoon. No problem.
Do
NOT try to tell me you are some kind of exceptional, whiz-bang RF guru

because you could pass a 20 WPM morse code test long ago. That's just your own EGO talking in a fit of self-aggrandizement, trying to make yourself
a big man. You impress me NOT.

Amateur radio is NON-professional. That's why the FCC puts "amateur" in the caption for Part 97, Title 47 C.F.R. It isn't any sort of big league occupation or craft or guild or union. It is a HOBBY. That HOBBY is not all about a lot of old EGOs putzing around trying to prove they are bigger tall-tale fish-story
tellers of expertise or accomplishment. Don't give us any song-and-dance
about amateur radio being a "service" either...unless you use the word
"service"
as the FCC does, a word denoting a type and kind of radio activity to separate it
from all the other RADIO SERVICES.

CB radio is one under Personal Communications radio services. So is Mass
Media (broadcasting). So is Aviation Radio Service. So is Private Land Mobile
Radio Service (PLMRS). So is Maritime Radio Service. I've operated transmitters on all those radio services, including amateur radio service.

You want a "cattle prod?" Why? To appear you are a Big Man under that pseudonym? Of course you do. It makes you feel "important" and "better" than others. You must NEED that sort of ego bolstering. I don't. I just went out and DID a lot of things between six decades ago and now. No "20
morse code" certificates needed. None desired.

Morse code is OLD. Only radio amateurs use it. Few hams can learn anything more than that. Naturally they HAVE to keep their bragging of "morse" going.
Good luck on being lost in the past of radio.

Do you realize how OLD HF CB radio is? 50!

Class C and Class D Citizens Band Radio Serivce was created in 1958.

IT NEVER HAD ANY "TEST" OF ANY SORT.

In its first decade all that was required was a 3rd Class (Restricted)
Radiotelephone License or higher. (I already had a 'First since 1956)
That was nothing more than filling out a form containing a mailing address and a "reason" for an application. That same 3rd Class (Restricted) minimum was required of civil aircraft pilots and private boat owners back then.

In railing against CB all you are doing is carrying on the Bigotry of olde-tyme hammies of a half century ago, pissed at having their little slice of EM spectrum below the huge 10m band taken away!
They rationalized their radio bigotry by denouncing "civilians" who never ever had to take a single test to get that so-called license for CB. [the "license" was later removed and no requirements
other than obeying the law were required of operators]

Hey, you keep this up, Wouffie, and you MIGHT be "accepted" in the larger world of ALL radio services...provided you Know Your Place.

Awww...poor baby! You don't like others using Google's own message reply formatting? I do, on-line. Complain to Google.

I do wish all those ANONYMOUS little mousies would TRY to concentrate on the SUBJECTS of messages instead of the formatting or the pretty arrangement of letters in their idea of literary fashion.

But, NO, lacking any understanding of POLICY of anything but trying to make your anonymous self appear "big" you can only piss and moan about Google's own formatting system for replies.

By the way, P&M person, you might want to know that I was an Associate Editor on staff at HAM RADIO magazine for a couple of years. Without needing any amateur radio license.
Go back and check their indices for the late 1980s or look on the "masthead" (publications term for a list of staff, usually alongside the table of contents for an issue). All neatly done, before the age of PC word processors. HR paid me for my work. You aren't paying me one damn thing. Yet you want "your money back." Poor baby.

Don't bet on it, anonymousie.

All the middle-school teenage angst has to be let out.
So these adolescents have to put on anonymous "handles" (to protect their real identities) and ACT like big, tuff, grown-ups full of "knowledge." Heh.

This school playground won't improve until more have the COURAGE to post under their own names and callsigns (if any). By the looks of things, most don't have courage one nor the self-conviction to improve.

Those who want to get INTO amateur radio have to make the committment to pass a test. It is NOT a hard test. It is only 120 questions for all three test elements. Much of it is simple memorization of the existing regulations and what applies to which class of license. All three test elements can be done within an afternoon.

There are lots more who are into simply hobby activities involving electronics and radio. Ain't nothing wrong with that nor are those folks "lacking some moral conviction" or even "flawed." They like the subject and exploration of electronics for its own sake. More power to them, I say. It IS fascinating.

All those olde-tymers can sit back and ponder the fantasies they have about being great radio men of 1930s-era communications using morse code. To salve their own egos they rail on about "being licensed" and skilled at morse code...as if those who didn't are "flawed" and "lesser than them." Pfaugh.

There is a difference between courage and stepping into the line of fire belonging to an obsessed individual. Len, how would you like to be falsely reported for child sexual pandering? Just get on a certain Myna Bird's target list, and you too can join the growing list of hams who have had these baseless acusations directed their way.

Thank you very much, but I would rather be called an anonymousie by you and whoever, than be subjected to false accusations. I just hope you never say or do anything that is objectional to this individual.

Nevertheless, welcome back, perhaps other refugees from the moderated group will join us and reclaim this currently wasted resource.

Emerging Viruses - Len Horowitz
http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=azUX_cWc2Yg

"Al-Qaida" = "General Mahmoud Ahmad"

Zionist CNN and CBC REFUSED to even air Reverend Wright's comments about AIDS, in referencing Len's documented facts.
Sharpton was allowed to go on Larry King to talk about the evils of Wright - starting to say, he didn't see the event, nor read the transcript. Nope, can't catch him.. BOO you evil nazi bastards

"Al-Qaida" = "General Mahmoud Ahmad"

"Admiral Mullen - US Will Stand by Israel for Next 1,000 Years"

As a continuing zionist nazi state against all Jews everywhere?
As not yet executed for high treason as a bonafide war criminal?
Who voted in America for mass murdering nazi enemy Admiral Mullen anyway I ask YOU as anyone?

American soldiers are being terribly mislead by the Bush administration to undermine freedom for Americans, by suggesting an effective war strategy is to ignore all the 911 evidence, and go off instead to blindly blame bad Afghans or badder Iraqis, as an insult to all honorable police services.

"Al-Qaida" = "General Mahmoud Ahmad"

Bush undermines freedom for America by not supporting US following the crimes scene leads at the real 911 murder scene.
Instead, blinded soldiers are being led to undermine the apprehension of the actual terrorists, by suggesting the Taliban's demand to bring forward evidence to form Mr. Bush's conclusions on who is good or evil, is a freedom stand they don't have the real courage or strength to uphold. So, they lie to God as enemies of Man; unholy are, the bushite enemy.

Re-enacting ANCIENT history, are we?

"old EGOs putzing around"

Yes, Len. You sure are.

That is quite obvious. However, methinks you've been tooting your own horn because nobody else will.

"I just went out and DID a lot of things between six decades ago and now."

He went out and "DID" all of these things as far back as sixty years ago. Then he hypocritically gives the punch line....

"Good luck on being lost in the past of radio."

Do you realize how OLD HF CB radio is? 50!

Class C and Class D Citizens Band Radio Serivce was created in 1958.

IT NEVER HAD ANY "TEST" OF ANY SORT.

In its first decade all that was required was a 3rd Class (Restricted)
Radiotelephone License or higher. (I already had a 'First since 1956)
That was nothing more than filling out a form containing a mailing address and a "reason" for an application. That same 3rd Class (Restricted) minimum was required of civil aircraft pilots and private boat owners back then.

In railing against CB all you are doing is carrying on the Bigotry of
olde-tyme hammies of a half century ago, pissed at having their little slice of EM spectrum below the huge 10m band taken away!
They rationalized their radio bigotry by denouncing "civilians" who never ever had to take a single test to get that so-called license
for CB. [the "license" was later removed and no requirements
other than obeying the law were required of operators]

Hey, you keep this up, Wouffie, and you MIGHT be "accepted" in the larger world of ALL radio services...provided you Know Your Place.

How would you like to be sitting in a civil court action for libel or worse? :-) Hey, no problem for me, I can afford the legal fees,

Are you the "Riddler" from Batman? :-)

Say what you mean and identify who you are talking about.

> Nevertheless, welcome back, perhaps other refugees from the moderated

Now look at what you've written (apparently) to me. NONE of it is aimed towards any rational discourse. You and everyone else is just playing to an audience of yourselves by remaining UNidentified and talking about unidentified people...NOT about amateur radio but your group's own disparate imaginations of yourselves.

This newsgroup is supposed to concern itself with AMATEUR RADIO POLICY; i.e., the matters of regulation that govern the use of amateur radio transmissions. It was trashed a few years ago by a bunch of adolescents who couldn't communicate in writing or in thinking about policy matters. Some of you have reached middle age yet all act childish. Its nothing but middle-school trash talk.

There's been a LOT of amateur radio policy that has gone down in the last decade. Much of it was revolutionary (from the point of view of very olde-tymers) but it was all just modernization of old and tired regulations that had gone on too long. All those reading in here were witness to HISTORY being written in regards to U.S. amateur radio. Real, live history before your very eyes.

Do any of these anonymousies want to discuss that? NO! All that goes on is that damned middle-school adolescent excuse for "tuff tawk" and "daring" someone or writing smutty stuff about another. It is STUPID and boring. It accomplishes NOTHING... nothing but individual satisfaction of the adolescent mentality who wrote a bit of trash. What a pity to waste all that time and energy...of the writer and all us readers...readers that you and others don't dare to meet in person (you might get hurt that way).

Geez, dummy, it is NO secret that Paul Schleck and I have had "strong differences of opinion" for at least 7 years, right here IN this publicly-accessible newsgroup...including the start of RRAM. All you need to do is look back over about 5 years of RRAP postings. It's all OUT IN PUBLIC.

That's how it is done. Trying to be "different" doesn't cut it.

> Then he proceeds to do just that.

You mean LAST YEAR is "old news?" Dottie, I got my first amateur radio license last year. Didn't expect to do that in the future, but, with the code test eliminated, I changed my mind. :-) No problem at age 74 to pass all three test elements in one afternoon.

> "The U.S. Army "accepted" me 55 years ago to operate high-power HF Depends on your point of view, Dottie. :-) If you are the typical snot-nosed adolescent middle-schooler, the First Gulf War is "ancient history." :-)

> Yes, Len. You sure are.

Awww, poor baby, Dottie. Tsk, tsk, tsk...what have YOU done, Dottie?

Sit in a newsgroup and just talk trash to others, all while trying to HIDE
under a pseudonym? Of course. That's all you are capable of, isn't it?

> "Don't give us any song-and-dance.."
> The <yawn>, song-and-dance is all yours...

Well, I had an AFTRA card and I've performed. :-)

What have YOU done, Dottie?

> "You must NEED that sort of ego bolstering. I don't."
>

Sorry, but I've never had any horn, not even held a shofar. :-)

What I say I've done is backed up by third-party references, many in print. It isn't a lot of intimidations and allusions of "great things" as so many adolescent mindsets try.

> "I just went out and DID a lot of things between six decades ago and now."
> He went out and "DID" all of these things as far back as sixty years ago.

Yes I did. I'll ask again...what have YOU done, Dottie? Oh, yes, rhetorical question...you sit in here under a pseudonym and talk trash at others. You try (but fail) to put down others by saying bad things...which is the usual method of trying to elevate yourself above others.

WE still don't know what YOU did, Dottie. All we can see is the trash talk
and adolescent mindset trying to make yourself "manly."

> Then he hypocritically gives the punch line....
>
> "Good luck on being lost in the past of radio."

NO "hypocrisy," Dottie. You can't really READ what others have written, can you? All you want is "snappy one-liners" for "entertainment." Sort of like TV Ultimate Fights or something except taunting in here doesn't get you hurt physically. You can hide under a pseudonym and think you feel "secure." You aren't.

Just WHAT have YOU done, Dottie? Can you actually PROVE what you claim you've done? Or will it be just a lot of adolescent mind-set bragging and taunting again?

"NO "hypocrisy," Dottie. You can't really READ what others

Many of us can and do "read" what others have written.
Your trouble, Oh Gaseous One, is that you say in six paragraphs that which others can say in six sentences.
Brevity is not your forte'.
Neither is humility.

I have no reason to sit in a civil court, but based on you post, it reporting multiple individuals he does not like for pandering because he received, as he even states, an anonymous alleged kiddie sex email

It was written in response to your complaining that we remain anonymous on this group. I explained my rationale for such, and have reaffirmed such again. And I do post about amateur radio, I just posted the only on topic post that was posted here in months.
However, it was promptly hi-jacked by an old friend and used as a vehicle to laud further attacks.

Yet you came back here after being shown the door by Paul and company. If you and others had not been so quick to rut off to the moderated group and abandonded this group, things may not be in the shape they are today. However, your reasoning for so doing is understandable. Why fight for something when you don't have to.

I beg to differ, but changes in FCC regulations are not very exciting nor historic. The FCC changing its policies from time to time just don't get me all warm and fuzzy.

We can't meet in person or even email privately. Mr. Morgan would cry foul and start accusing everyone of conspiring together.

Nevertheless, I agree, but there is no law against acting stupid and stupidity seems to be the norm here. You want to see change in this group, don't complain about it, start an ontopic discussion of interest and hope for the best, or are you here just to join in the melee. You can be part of the solution or part of the problem, that is YOUR choice.

3854. Antenna Construction - in a antenna restricted community

Newsgroup: rec.radio.amateur.policy
Date: 2008-05-23 17:00:20 UTC
From: Channel Cop <nedrog@yahoo.com>
Message-ID: <ZsmdnRqORPe3ZavVnZ2dnUVZ_umdnZ2d@comcast.com>
Source record: 217321

I am NOT allowed either item (flag pole or missile on my lawn - although I would like to have a Gatling Gun mounted and take pot shots at the senior citizens that use my street as a tune up for drag racing - posted speed limit 25mph, I have a speed gun and have clocked some of them at speeds up to and including 50mph).

1] In my current configuration I have a #13ga jacketed wire coming out of a Icom A4 auto-tuner (which is in the attic next to the vent window). From the tuner, it goes up about 3 feet to the roof peak, makes a 90 degree turn and then traverses down the edge (15ft) to make a 90 degree turn down to the end of the roof (90ft) running along each of the gutters sides (but actual on the roof). Then it makes another 90 degree turn and goes up and over the peak to the other side of the roof, about (30ft) and makes another 90 degree turn and comes back (90ft) turns back up to the peak (15ft) and back down to the ground side of the tuner.

I am hearing a lot of sigs, but I am having probs being heard with only 100w!

2] Before I had this configuration, it was basically the same, except the auto-tuner wasn't in line, instead I was using a manual tuner. I had the same configuration on the roof, and an additional 2 runs (LOOPS) of the same size wire inside of the attic, total length of approximately 540ft. It was working (80-10), but I couldn't get it to tune to 160m. On the VHF/UHF frequencies, 6m thru 70cm it was working as a multi-wavelength RHOMBIC. I was able to work a bunch more stations, but still I thought I wanted more.

But the problem is that the outside portion - the signals being transmitted - that the roof was probably absorbing most of them.

3] Whether I use a manual or auto tuner, I am trying to get the best configuration other laying the wire on the roof or stringing it along the rafters in the attic.

The distance is approximately 20 feet from the tree to the house. I can bury a piece of coax from the house to the tree, and then run it up the tree to a center connection for a dipole, but the arms of the dipole are going to have to be bent into a "V" and terminate at some point along the longest sides of the roof just above the gutters.

4] I could run a dipole (using more of the #13ga wire, the ends facing N/S) along the ridge line and center or off-center feed it with coax, but then again, it will be laying on the roof. (90ft straight ridge line).

73's

This newsgroup is NOT about "Mark Morgan." Really.

You and other adolescent mindsets have turned it into one.

"Speculation" isn't about what you adolescent mindsets "think" this is about. "Speculation" is not about ganging up on someone and outright attacking them. Your group DOES that and no
"speculation" is needed to see that.

I don't agree with Mark Morgan's constant posting. I certainly don't agree with all you (adolescent mindset) bullies ganging up on him.

Is THAT what U.S. amateur radio is all about? Ganging up on someone who is "different?" I don't think so. That's just bullying with lots of not-so-hidden bigotry showing.

I'm NOT on anyone's "side" except to TRY to stuff all your anonymous collected stuffed (dirty) shirts down your own minds...to point out all of the collected adolescent mindset angst spewing forth in here.

Are YOU "being harrassed?" Have YOU reported that to your "local authorities?" If - and only IF it happened, it would be a damn good charge against the harrasser. You would WIN something for sure.

But, "local authorities" don't work on someone's fevered imagination. Don't expect any action if you haven't got any PROOF.

You are. I am not.

They only thing you've shown is FEAR of becoming known.

Awww. Poor baby. Have you "reported abuse to Google?"

Yes, why "fight for something when you don't have to."

You are posting from either ignorance or some other malady.

I've campaigned for amateur radio regulatory changes for over ten years. It has WORKED. I didn't have an amateur radio license then...just a Commercial FCC license and one helluva lot of action EXPERIENCE in radio-electronics.

Is there a code test element in ANY U.S. amateur radio license test now? NO! That was (finally) stopped on 23 February 2007. Are there still 6 (count 'em SIX) different license classes in U.S. amateur radio? NO!
Only 3 are being granted to new licensees...effective
now for 8 years in the USA.

Awwww...not "exciting" enough? Tsk, tsk. I'll be you were a watcher of "American Idol" and imagining yourself some kind of "star" on TV. :-) Or did you go down to a corner bar and watch one of the illegitimate fistfights in the back room? :-)
No, you probably logged onto RRAP and made trash talk...

Oh, if you really want to feel "warm and fuzzy," go warm up a bed of fungus and roll around in it... :-)

> Nevertheless, I agree, but there is no law against acting stupid and > stupidity seems to be the norm here.

Tsk, there's "no law" against it...EXCEPT in "moderated forums."

Stop and THINK. "Moderated forums" hardly existed on newsgroups UNTIL a bunch of adolescent mindsets started in with flooding the content with stupid talk, bigotry, and other trash. RRAM did NOT exist until RRAP got so bad it HAD to be formed to bring back some SEMBLANCE of sanity...even if it is TIGHTLY CONTROLLED and now turned into an olde-tymer's clique.

That COULD have happened to RRAP. Gosh, what a terrible thought! All you adolescent mindset trash talkers being kicked off right and left! :-)

> You want to see change in this

I'm here to show you and all the other adolescent mindset
"males" what you are doing WRONG.

I took personal action and went elsewhere to discuss AMATEUR RADIO POLICY MATTERS. I took personal action and decided to GET an amateur radio license...plus a whole station. The new antenna, a SteppIR, is expected to be delivered in a month. Its mount and radials are already laid in and waiting.

I don't expect to "do DX" and I don't care for "radiosport" contests.
I will use it as I feel I want to, not what some olde-tymer says I MUST do...or some dumbshit punk says I have to. As far as POLICY statements/discussions, I've already done lots of that...without any trash talk and directly to the FCC.

What have YOU done?

William Cross, W3TN, a staff member in the FCC's Wireless Telecommunications Bureau, and Riley Hollingsworth, Special Counsel for the Spectrum Enforcement Division of the FCC's Enforcement Bureau, spoke at the FCC Forum on Saturday afternoon at the 2008 Dayton Hamvention. Cross opened by explaining just where Amateur Radio falls in the FCC's bureaucracy.

"The Mobility Division of Wireless Telecommunications Bureau has the oversight of the Amateur Radio Service," Cross said. "We handle the day-to-day administration of the Amateur Service and some of the rulemaking activities that affect the Amateur Radio Service. The Gettysburg office handles applications, licensing -- including vanity calls -- and the ULS. Within the Commission, other bureaus also make rules that affect you. The Office of Engineering and Technology handles spectrum allocations and equipment issues. Our Managing Director's Office is the office that handles matters relating to fees, such as the fees relating to vanity call signs, Debt Collection Improvement Act matters, the need for Federal Registration Numbers."

Cross divided comments into two areas: Proceedings where the Commission has issued a decision and rulemaking requests that have been filed with the FCC, but which are pending resolution by the Commission.

Calling the past year "interesting, because it has been a quiet year on the regulatory front," he said that no big rulemaking items were released. "This being an election year, there doesn't seem to be any legislation on Capitol Hill that is of direct interest or impact on the Amateur Service. This year is a good time for Amateur Radio to be flying 'below the radar,' and that's where ham radio is right now in terms of the big picture -- below the radar," Cross said. "We wrapped up a couple of Petitions for Rulemaking [PRM] that were pending and it doesn't look like (at least in the near future) there will be anything else coming out."

One of the cases the FCC issued a decision on was what Cross referred to as the Miller Order. This Order, released May 7, dismissed a PRM from Mark Miller, N5RFX. Miller sought three points: To delete the FCC's 2006 addition to how it defines data, to amend the rules to prohibit automatically controlled stations from transmitting on frequency segments other than those specified in Section 97.221(b), and to replace the symbol rate limits in Section 97.307(f) with bandwidth limitations.

"The effect of these changes," Cross explained, "when taken together, would have been, as [Miller] said, 'A small number of wider bandwidth modes, including Pactor III, would no longer be authorized.' Translating that into English, what he was asking for was 'bye-bye Winlink.' Don't get me wrong -- Winlink as a communications system seems to have become the 'Brussels sprouts of ham radio' -- you either love it or you hate it. And trying to bury it under ketchup or hollandaise sauce hasn't changed the basic like or dislike for Winlink. Most of the controversy here seems to swirl around how certain licensees use it. Some use it for a radio e-mail system. Others use it for getting weather maps while they are on sailboats in places the brave dare not go. Others use it for their personal business activities, such as buying and selling stocks. These uses are really a Section 97.113, a 'prohibited communications' question, not a technology question."

Cross mentioned that there are "some things coming down the pike that you want to keep track of. The ARRL has a pending petition -- RM 11325 -- that requests that we amend the rules that apply to the power stations may use when transmitting spread-spectrum emissions -- BPL. The DC Circuit Court of Appeals remanded the FCC's final BPL rules. The Court did not vacate the rules, so they are still in effect. There will be another proceeding to address what the Court told the Commission it had to address."

The Northern California Packet Association has filed a request for clarification that the FCC define what is meant by the term "simultaneously" as it is used when defining a repeater. "The issue here is that in California," Cross explained, "D-STAR repeaters have been coordinated on channels that are set aside for auxiliary stations, on the basis that, because there is a delay in retransmission of the signal, the retransmission is not simultaneous, and therefore the repeating station is not a repeater." Cross said others have advanced what he calls "the duck argument: If the station looks like a repeater, if it functions like a repeater, and it sounds like a repeater, it should be treated as a repeater -- and confined to the repeater subbands. A decision on this will be coming [from the Commission] shortly."

When Hollingsworth stepped up to the podium, he spoke about what he called "the magic of radio," saying, "we need to realize the debt we owe to those who work so hard to further the goals of Amateur Radio, whether it's the Emergency Communications participants, club members, teachers, VEs, the League. One of the richest rewards in doing something is to experience joy in doing it. And with so many people working so hard on their own time to further the goals of Amateur Radio, we're all a little more free to enjoy radio and to make it fun as well as a public service."

Saying that "things have calmed down a lot in the Amateur Radio Service," Hollingsworth explained, "[that] when it comes to the Amateur Radio Service, there's one enforcement tool we need very badly and we just don't have it -- and that's straitjackets," he deadpanned, eliciting guffaws from the crowd of more than 150 people. "Some days I want to ask, 'Why can't everybody just get along?'"

Hollingsworth noted that since the 75 and 80 meter phone band has been expanded, "a lot of these regular small groups, ragchews and some of the Nets should consider "spreading out, because a lot of the regular operations every night are clumped together. Yes, there are still interference issues and interference allegations, but if everybody would spread out a little bit, now, it's going to take a real change of habit by a group that has used the same frequency for 40 years to talk across the state, but you really need to spread out and take advantage [of the band] expansion."

He also noted that interest in Morse code "seems to be higher than ever before." On the enforcement side, Hollingsworth said he has noticed "no difference in enforcement problems related to no-code, and I think I'm seeing more young people at events that I go to." He reminded audience that only 1 percent of Amateur Radio licensees filed comments in the Morse code Proceeding. "I see the new code keys for sale here, and I always see a big crowd of people around anything related to code or code keyers. I think the interest has really peaked."

Hollingsworth pointed out a 12 year old boy who sat in the front row. When asked, the boy responded he received his license three years ago when he was 9. "The future President of the League might be sitting right there," Hollingsworth explained, pointing at the boy. "That's our future, right there, and we're depending on you. We need a lot more young people and I think that Morse code seems to interest young people -- hopefully they're getting tired of instant messengers and the Internet. Last night someone told me about a 14 year old Net Control Operator on a national Net."

Calling for "more courtesy" on the Amateur Radio bands, Hollingsworth said, "This fighting amongst yourselves is the worst thing that you can do. You have some rude operators and operators who don't care and who are hateful and bitter about life in general, but every group has that, whether it's doctors, electricians, lawyers, plumbers, whatever, every group has a certain percentage of people like that. What you have to do is to remind yourself every day to stay on the high road and report to us if you can't resolve a problem after you've given it a chance to go away. There are plenty of ugly situations in the world and you don't have to add to them. Now, there are a few idiots in your Service who know all the answers, only because they haven't thought of all the questions. They just want recognition and reaction. Don't give it to them. Don't be baited. Don't feel insulted -- they are their own worst punishment. Don't dignify them with a response."

Hollingsworth implored the audience to "never let the Commission get by again with handing you 10 to 12 years of neglect. You have to stay vigilant. Even though the bands may sound better to you, you have to be vigilant to protect your Service, and be part of the solution -- not the problem -- and operate as if the whole world is listening, because generally it is."

I have not had much contact with you on usenet, because you ran off to the moderated group about the same time I started posting again, but frankly your advanced age is showing. Your corney one liners and what seems to be you trying to blow your own horn about something that seems significant to you, but is insignificant to the rest of the (real) world, reminds me of the geezers on the Geritol net who are still trying to fight the Big One for truth, justice, and the American way.

It's been a hoot, have a day.

It is possible that your gutters could be severly distorting you radiation pattern. Why can't you put the wire up in the clear? I know you are in an HOA, but I do know several hams who have used 18ga black jacketed copper weld to make a delta loop. In their installations, instead of coming out of the end of the roof they feed the antenna out around the middle of the roof peak on the back of the house through flashing around a vent pipe with two insulators made from PVC. They punch two holes the same OD as 1/2 inch PVC pipe in the flashing about 4 inches apart right into the attic, using two PVC cap ends to secure the insulator and they use brass hardware to feed a delta loop which runs from the roof, to one corner of the yard, the across the back to the other rear corner, and then back up to the roof. It seems they work fairly good, and yes they are using a tuner at the feed point.

Hi Jay,

Thanks for your input - it is an interesting idea - the only problem is that we can't put fences here either.

So I am very limited with what I got to work with - I think that I might try to make some kind of mount that I could screw to the gutters with some kind of extension arm (maybe 12 - 18 inches long) and run the loop thru them around the house.

Special Counsel in the FCC Spectrum Enforcement Division Riley Hollingsworth has announced plans to retire from the FCC later this year. "My intention," Hollingsworth told the ARRL, "is to head out in July, assuming the results of the second round of the PAVE PAWS/440 repeater monitoring in California present no complications. It has been a privilege to work with and for the Amateur Radio licensees and the land mobile frequency coordinators. I am extremely fortunate to work for two wonderful groups of people: Those at headquarters in the Enforcement Bureau, and for the Amateur Radio operators." Hollingsworth had planned to retire earlier this year, but changed his mind, saying, "There [were] several issues on the table that I want[ed] to continue to work through with the amateur community."

While his successor has not been named, he was quick to point out that the FCC's Amateur Radio enforcement program will continue.

Hollingsworth said he considered it an honor to have given something back to "the incredible enjoyment and benefits that Amateur Radio has given me since age 13. And to every one of the thousands of you that thanked us for our work, many of whom waited for long periods after a forum or radio meeting just to come up and express appreciation for what the FCC was doing in enforcement, you have no idea how much that was appreciated every single time.
It sure wasn't a 9 to 5 job, but it was a gift and a daily joy to work for the best group of people on earth. The only bad day in nearly 10 years was September 21, 2001, when we lost Steve Linn, N4CAK. We still miss him." Linn, deputy chief of the Licensing and Technical Analysis Branch for private wireless within the Wireless Telecommunications Bureau, and his wife Lesley were killed in a car accident on their way to the Virginia Beach hamfest.

Hollingsworth told the ARRL he was "so very impressed" with the young people who are involved with Amateur Radio: "To the very young Amateur Radio operators I met at Dayton, who have dreams of being scientists and astronauts and communications engineers, we will be pulling for you; I have a strong feeling we won't be disappointed."

"The Amateur Radio Service is part of the American heritage, and I am going to stay as actively involved in it as I possibly can," Hollingsworth explained. "Thank you all for working tirelessly to provide the only fail safe communications system on Earth and for helping this country keep its lead in science and technology. What an incredible gift it has been to work with you every day, and how fortunate we are to love the magic of radio!"

why is distorting the pattern in and of itself bad nothing wrong with a some directionality after all just like I will most a mag mount on the meatl ground planes I use (also caled my steel roof and get directionality not knowing of the distion might be a problem

I have not had much contact with you on usenet, because you ran off to the moderated group about the same time I started posting again, but frankly your advanced age is showing. Your corney one liners and what seems to be you trying to blow your own horn about something that seems significant to you, but is insignificant to the rest of the (real) world, reminds me of the geezers on the Geritol net who are still trying to fight the Big One for truth, justice, and the American way.

It's been a hoot, have a day.

Len chides all of us herein to stop living in the "past", especially where Morse Code is concerned.
This comment is not without merit, but then Len trips over his own arthritic ankles when he, in the next paragraph, begins to tell all of us of his of his many "accomplishments" over the past six decades.
Perhaps he thinks that we will be duly impressed.

I, for one, am not.

We don't go looking for those sick anime sites, Todd. You do.
We are not borderline child molestors, you are.

That leaves us to complain about your sick site. And sick it is.

You need some serious counseling, Todd.

yes you do go looking it when you choose to go to todds blog

Visiting Todd's blog is quite innocent by any standards, even yours.
Any unsuspecting visitor can see Todd's site when curiosly following a posted link.
What is ON Todd's blog is quite another story and few visitors return.

Some visit his site once, but few choose to pay a return visit.

> the sneering and denigration of olde-tyme hammies.

It is quite possible for you to have been outspoken without being rude to others. No posts in the moderated newsgroup show anyone sneering or denigrating. You, on the other hand, have reverted to form. That is evident from your "olde-tyme hammies" comment.

> 3. Challenge the authority, knowledge, and religious power > of the ARRL as the supreme Lord of U.S. ham radio.

Challenging authority didn't get you banned. Things like "religious power" and "supreme Lord of U.S. ham radio" probably helped.

> 4. Do things your way, never do as olde-tymers say you Doing things your way didn't get you banned. Violating the posting guidelines likely helped.

> 5. Like what you like, not what you are told to like.

That didn't get you banned.

Please feel free to quote any moderated group denigrated you. As to dismissing your views, what is wrong with that? Must everyone share your beliefs? Not giving thanks did not get you banned.

Many radio amateurs have as much or more knowledge than you. You are a new ham. You've been licensed for a little over a year. The things you've written in the above paragraph did not get you banned.

> 8. Never EVER reveal your own reasons for doing things.
> These olde-tymers already KNOW why all do things and

You were not banned for revealing your reasons for doing things. You were not banned because you don't copy the ways of others.

None of those are reasons for your banishment.

Not following posting guidelines for the moderated group certainly helped to get you banned, though the rest of your rant is disingenuous at best. You knew the rules and apparently chose to disregard them.

> 11. Try to argue a subject in private e-mail with

Why would you attempt to argue with the moderators?

> 12. Argue the most inconsequential of subjects with IN

There aren't any "IN members". There is no clique. There are folks who follow the posting guidelines and folks who do not. The moderators allowed you plenty of rope. A number of your incendiary offerings were posted. I read them and decided not to respond to them.

> 13. Criticize the Moderator Team for being failures at

The Moderators had noting to do with controlling an unmoderated newsgroup. They provide for civility in the moderated newsgroup. You chose not to be civil.

> The above are sure-fire suggestions to get you banned, black> listed, declared personna non grata in that tiny tiny forum

Be honest, Leonard. You know why you've been banned. I've warned you several times what would happen when and if you ever obtained an amateur radio license. I told you that hams would not put up with the behavior you exhibited here. You don't play well with others.

> A free and open democracy is grand. Where is one?

You are living in a Republic. You may speak your views in many venues. You have no right to violate the posting guidelines in the moderated amateur radio group. You paid the price for not being able to control yourself.

ok well seeing that it is from Newt and I subcribe to his colums along with various other folks I agree the road to white is isane and only the insane (or stupid) dare try to tread it

IMO what this means is we ought to accept that and try and structure

a longer discusion of those issues is raly off topic for RRAP though IMO so I wil wil leave it there

My main point was tthat if you were make an OT post asking us to look Face it, Len. The Army would have taken you without a high school diploma. If the Army needed you to learn Morse Code, it would have taught you. If you'd proven that you were unable to learn it, they'd have chosen another to take your place.

Only to "morseaholic HF-only radio hams"? Do the other amateur radio ops get more spectrum alloted to them?

Nothing mandates that you must use Morse. Feel free to stick to voice modes or to use a variety of digital modes. Years back, you vowed that your haunting of this particular newsgroup was only about the removal of the Morse exam. What you've written above gives lie to that claim. It shows your disdain for anyone who uses Morse Code.

You waited for a number of years after the Morse Code exam for any class HF license was reduced to a mere five words per minute. Only then did you attempt to obtain an amateur radio license. Let's not changer your personal history.

No one has claimed that it is professional radio, a big league occupation, a craft, a guild or a union. You were kept out of it until very recently, despite your declaration of an interest which spanned decades. What kept you from participating?

The FCC nowhere defines amateur radio as a hobby. I'm now reclassifying all of your past accomplishments as the output of an old EGO, putzing around trying to prove that you are a bigger tall-tale, fish story teller of expertise or accomplishment.

Yet amateur radio certainly has public service aspects which most hobbies do not possess.

There's your old ego delivering tall tales and fish stories.

From your every posting comes an attitude which indicates that you do need your ego bolstered.

So are you, Len. Are you advocating that you be consigned to history's rubbish bin?

That isn't true, but if the idea comforts you, hold it next to your heart.

There is no study which provides proof for your claim.

You, on the other hand, will have to find something else to brag about. Up until now, your brags have been about your military radio experience of a half-century back or about getting an Extra Class ticket out of a box which remained open for quite a number of years.

Precisely. Anyone, irregardless of knowledge of radio, could use type-accepted, low power equipment with antenna limitations to contact others with similar equipment. The Citizens Band became unusable bedlam and there is now not even a requirement for a license. Callsigns are goofy, made up names.

Do you have the ability to pass a 20 wpm Morse test, Len? 13 wpm? 5 wpm?

No? Then in that, you are lesser than me. Deal with it. In every endeavor, someone is going to be better than you in some or many areas.

unusable bedlam? gee are that much much better behaved here in the Look at what you've written. Your initial post here (after being bounced from the moderated newsgroup) was not aimed at rational discourse. It was venom directed toward those you perceive as having caused your quick exit. It wasn't about amateur radio per se, but about the imagined slights to Leonard H. Anderson.

You might want to reacquaint yourself with the Leonard Anderson post with the subject, "How To Be An Enemy Of The State!"

This newsgroup is not supposed to be about Mark Morgan. Mark Morgan floods and spams the newsgroup with his defective and mangled prose. He changes thread titles, posts little to do with amateur radio. Mark is almost single handedly responsible for the decline of this newsgroup.

Except that you weren't able to play by the rules there. That's why you're here and posting to Eham.

It is not an "olde-tymer's clique". You were able to post there until you demonstrated that you were not able to play by the rules. You aren't an old timer.

You're here because you couldn't behave yourself there.

Well, you took action after what--seven years of it being possible to obtain an Amateur Extra by passing the written exams and a five word per minute Morse exam? It took the total elimination of the Morse Exam for you to take action, Jackson.

You are WRONG. It IS ONE of the things.

Hey, no kidding?!? :-)

The FACT is that it got LOTS of olde-tymers (like yourself) all upset and nasty. Tsk, tsk, you olde-tymers just couldn't get enough of sneering at "newcomers" to radio! :-)

> ... You, on the other hand, have reverted to form. That is WRONG again, olde-tymer. I never used the phrase "olde-tyme hammies" in RRAM. You knew that but you attempted to move my words where they had never been. [typical of you]

> Challenging authority didn't get you banned.

Bulllshit.

>Things like "religious

Jay-suss, olde-tymer, there you go again BEING WRONG!

I never wrote those phrases in RRAM.

Oh, oh, LECTURE mode again by the aging olde-tymer! :-)

Gotta love these pseudo lecturers SPEAK DOWN to "newbies."

Tsk, tsk, tsk. You just haven't been reading CLOSELY enough, senior. :-)

Neither have YOU thought once about your OWN chastisement of all those who did not think as you did. KMA.

>�Must everyone share your beliefs?

YOU expect all to share YOUR beliefs and desires...and then tell you how "wonderful" you are, etc., etc., etc., etc.

> You are a new ham. �You've been licensed for a little over a year.

Psywar time! Big Daddy has to HARP on BEING LICENSED
AS AN AMATEUR FOR A LITTLE OVER ONE YEAR!!!!

Both short- and long-term memory loss, senior? I've been LICENSED PROFESSIONALLY for >FIFTY-TWO< years.
For three years prior to 1956 I began in HF RADIO, beginning on a mere 36 HF transmitters of minimum RF output of 1 KW.
I spent a working career as an electronics design engineer, working on parts of the EM spectrum that amateurs are forbidden by law to use.

Now YOU, mighty lawgiver and judge of all, sit there sneering at us "newbies" who "don't know anything?!?"

BTW, I am a licensed United States Radio Amateur, Amateur Extra Class. NOT a "ham."

How about that..."extra out of the box"...on ONE try.

Done a mere 51 years - almost to the week - that I did to get my First Class Radiotelephone (Commercial) License...]

More total bullshit from The Great One.

Do your own demographics on the "moderating team" in RRAM.

Ya know, LECTURING is only what you think you do best. You don't do it well at all. You are pompous and arrogant in your LECTURES. But, you DO follow "ham scripture" and say nice-nice about fellow morseaholics of the HF persuasion. Never fails. Then you sneer and pontificate and denigrate those who depart from scripture.

> You knew the rules and apparently chose to disregard them.

There was NEVER any "choice" to have other rules. The "moderating team" made them up...and then enforced them.
Now, anywhere else on this earth, that would be categorized as a DICTATORIAL condition...run by an established clique of insiders. It isn't anywhere close to being 'democratic.'

You know that as well as anyone. You've been practicing all that dictatorial snit for years. You LOVE talking down to "newbies"...none of which you consider anywhere close to being "as good as yourself."

> Why would you attempt to argue with the moderators?

Why do you insist on trying to argue with ME? :-)

You never win anything in such arguments, only reinforce your sense of superiority and arrogance. :-)

In an OPEN FORUM (under democractic principles, remember?) anyone can challenge anything. The "openness" is rather severely restricted to a a very well publicized (practically once a week) set of RULES on What Is Allowed and What Is Most Definitely NOT Allowed (which undergoes changes almost every week).

> There aren't any "IN members".

You are WRONG. You are just rationalizing your own IN-ness.

>There is no clique.

You are WRONG. Still rationalizing. You are part of the clique.

> There are folks who follow the posting guidelines and folks > who do not.

WRONG again, big senior.

NO ONE with public access gets to SEE posts of those who do NOT follow guidelines. Only the "moderating team."

Sounds like YOU have an IN with this "moderating team."

Hello? Is this some evidence of a "ruling cabal?" :-(

> The Moderators had noting to do with controlling an unmoderated > newsgroup.

Yes, that is quite evident. It is also evident that YOU did SEE - or understand - what Paul Schleck stated on his initial communications in RRAP on forming a moderated newsgroup...much less of what others said. RRAP became trash years before RRAM was "official."

>They provide for civility in the moderated newsgroup.

Everybody play nice-nice in RRAM, follow scripture, etc.

ENFORCED CIVILITY.

> You chose not to be civil.

Tsk, I've been a civilian longer than you have, big senior.

I can be CIVIL to those who are civil to me. When you come on with all that bullshit about my being a "newbie" in radio, any radio YOU are NOT CIVIL.

> You know why you've been banned.

Absolutely. I knew that before I posted the first time on RRAM. Do you consider all others to be as STUPID as you make them out to be?

> I've warned you several times what would happen

amateur radio with the "colonel" in charge.

YAHWOHL! :-)

Funny thing though, I got along well with my ARRL VEC examination team (all four shook my hand after passing).
I've gotten along well with my REAL friends who were all already licensed radio amateurs. I've gotten along well with OTHER radio amateurs, even Ed Hare of the ARRL (who I corresponded with in private). I've gotten along well with HRO and AES folks and local club members, my neighbors who see my antennas...and many others.

I just don't "get along" with olde-tymer morseaholics who think they are "superior" and above all others. Like you.

> You are living in a Republic.

Yes, the United States of America...a democratic republic

In fact I was living in the USA for 4 1/2 years when it was a NATION AT WAR! You did not do that. You weren't born yet.

Oh, oh...the Raddio Kopp flashes his shield!

Are you going to send Federal Marshals out to arrest me? :-)

"Not able to control myself?" HAAAAAA!

It never occurred to you that I was actually IN CONTROL of myself all along? No, it didn't. You operate under Big Brother rules and expect all others to do the same. You can't stand CHANGE. You can't stand NOT being in some form of Control. You are "superior" and all must listen to you.

Gruss Gott.

"Arthritic ankles?" :-) Sorry, don't have any of those.

Are those a requirement? :-)

Offhand, I'd say getting an Amateur Extra class license in only ONE AFTERNOON at age 74 (as I did last year) is an "accomplishment." Especially when it was almost on the 51st anniversary of getting a First 'Phone license at an FCC Field Office.

How about that? "Extra out of the box." The ARRL Letter made much more of a lesser license class granted to a slightly older man in the East, even had a photo of him and all his mentors.

Well, I don't live in the East (easterners think they have to capitalize it), didn't have any mentors ("elmers"), and drove myself (all alone) to the examination site. By itself, that isn't much and certainly not newsworthy.

> Perhaps he thinks that we will be duly impressed.

I've given up hope long ago that pseudonymous punks hiding in newsgroups would be "impressed" by anything other than dirty talk amongst other punks hiding there.

I'm impressed by that...not about the words or what passes for rhetoric, just by the stamina of the punks who sit there day after day mean-mouthing anyone while hiding under truly great men's names.

The REAL story is that I never bothered to really go after a "ham license" (either from the FCC or the FDA).

In 1956, a mere 52 years ago, I got a First Class Radiotelephone
(Commercial) License. One sitting at an FCC Field Office in Chicago. Then I used that to work in broadcasting to earn money to move to California and enter the aerospace industry.

I had already "worked HF" for three years prior to 1956...on no less than 36 HF transmitters of 1 KW to 40 KW RF output,
NONE of which used any on-off morse code keying. NONE.
Average message traffic on that 3rd-largest US Army station
was a quarter million per month (in 1955). All TTY.

Most olde-tyme radio hammies just don't understand that.
They've been so brainwashed into thinking morse code is so "essential" to radio operating skill that they are incapable of such concepts as NOT using "cw."

Now, a couple of times when the code test rate was 13
WPM, I THOUGHT about getting a "ham ticket." Why not,
I'd already had the First 'Phone? I just as quickly thought
NOT to have one. It wasn't worth the effort. There were other things to do with my spare time...like keeping an
in-person social life. PLENTY of other things to do, interesting things, some even involving electronics! :-)

I could say more but I've already said that long ago in here. All the olde-tymer morseaholics have to make up their own stories of "what I wanted" and none are true.

I allow myself only one post to colonel klunk a day. It is wasted effort on my part to argue against heil's hatred of myself. That all started years ago when I failed to "oh!" and
"ah!" at Heil's State Department career and his long tenure as an amateur extra. Heil has tried (sometimes desperately)
to denigrate me anywhichway he can ever since. :-)

But, he LIKES to lord it over anyone who (he thinks) has

I will disagre iwhile it usless to to argue with him expecting him to change his mind, it has some value as a ilsutration to others that might be reading, with it being adkowledged those numbers are sadly depleted and therefore the effort to reach them less valuable than in years past

The spirit of Major Dud returns! In private e-mail
I received the following from "mickslater@verizon.net" which was largely a quote of what I wrote to "304 dot com" in RRAP. I call attention the the very last paragraph of that:

==========
>Does the 101st Airborne ring a bell with you old horse-powered >ground-pounders? How about a CIB?
>Back in my day we had the then newly issued M-16s, not the old >bolt action Springfields you probably qualified with.
>And we rode in Hueys, not on horseback.
>
>dit-dit-dit-dah
==========

Note the wording. At no time does either "304 dot com" nor "mickslater" say HE was in the 101st Airborne Division. He INFERS he was.

That INFERRENCE is the same technique used by the infamous "Major Dud" (aka K4YZ) in here.
Just as Major Dud's saying he was in "seven hostile actions" but never being able to say where or when those "hostile actions" were.

"Horse-powered?" :-) Jeeps, deuce-and-a-halfs, three-quarter ton trucks were our mobility in addition to bipedalism. History of the US Army will show that mounted cavalry was eliminated in 1943. The only horse detachment now is a ceremonial one kept in the Washington, DC area.
Nonetheless, Galvin Manufacturing (later Motorola) produced a whole series of "horse mobile" battery-powered HF transceivers during WWII. They were called the "pogo stick" because of the cavalry saddle guidon socket pole at the bottom of that HF radio box. Those were all converted to vehicle mobile with a mounting kit (extra contract) and saw some action in the Pacific. The crystal-controlled plug-in tuning unit was one of the first war surplus equipment for sale in civilian radio stores of early 1947.

"Bolt-action Springfields" (the rifle) were a standard infantry sidearm in the FIRST World War, not the Second. Nothing in US amateur radio requires proficiency in gunnery or marksmanship qualification. Being a "big man" by being "qualified" on some weapon is self-praise only for gang-bangers or very insecure males.

The issue sidearm in my voluntary US Army service was US Carbine, M-2. I qualified Expert on that.
We were all expected to know how to "close with,
and destroy the enemy" in 1952 to 1960 period, regardless of what our primary military occupation specialty was. Oh, and we did have helicopters and I rode in one, the old reciprocating-engine Sikorsky cargo helo. The "Huey" might not have been designed then. I rode in one as a civilian much later. <shrug>

Despite being assigned to a relatively "safe" Army unit in Tokyo, that unit did suffer 23 KIA during the Korean War. All while on TDY. We honored them many times in ceremony. I still do and will do so again on Memorial Day.

What MATTERED to the US Army was in how we did our jobs. Not in medals or decorations nor fancy words of heroism. The Signal Corps (that I was in) had a secondary motto of "Get The Message Through." That's what my Signal Battalion did. Anyone can see what I did in a photo essay at the following website:

http://sujan.hallikainen.org/BroadcastHistory/uploads/My3Years.pdf

Nothing heroic or majestic there. It's just a bit of history of how the Big Leagues in HF communications did during the 1950s. No commsats available, no tropo-scatter, microwave frequencies used only for LOS radio relay. All vacuum tubes. The only semiconductors were selenium stack rectifiers and point-contact diodes. Not a transistor, certainly not an Integrated Circuit in sight. :-)

Yet the message traffic was 220K per MONTH in 1955, down from the peak traffic of the Korean War. That War was June 1950 to July 1953 and has never ended;
it is still in a "permanent" state of Truce. The Vietnam War ENDED for the USA 35 years ago. Nothing fancy about modes, just FSK RTTY (TTY tones on commercial-format 12 KHz SSB) or voice (AM mostly, FM only for portable/mobile). We did have some time-multiplexed TTY for HF circuits since the FSK spread was then 850 cycles standard. It could handle four TTY channels (old 60 WPM rates) on the same

850 Hz shift on one HF radio. Digital time-multiplexing done via miniature thyratrons in a USN contract "MUX" unit. MY station had 4 of those, complete with blinking lights for each TTY channel. [LEDs hadn't been invented yet, the lights were neon]

The infamous Major Dud couldn't "compete" with any similar experience, except mouth some familiarity with MARS operations. MARS was never a part of the worldwide Army network of communications, still isn't. Ol' Dud never handled a SINCGARS small-unit transceiver despite it becoming operational for all branches on land in 1989. That radio family is now the most produced of ALL military radios at 300K made. I've handled and tested some as a civilian. Just the same he fired off denigrations and epithets to all of us who challenged him. He never produced a single copy of his DD-214 Release from Active Duty but insisted he'd had an 18-year "career" with the USMC. Leaving with a "rank" of Gunnery Sergeant. He could never produce a single source of verification of his "service" of 18 years, not a document, not a singler person. A normal minimum career is 20 years; a full 30 for "lifers."

Robeson (K4YZ) was an archtypical "Stolen Valor" type. He INFERRED a LOT...yet couldn't prove a single thing. He denigrated other veterans...if and only if they didn't believe him. He said he had "medals" yet couldn't speak about how he got them. He said he was "in seven hostile actions" but couldn't identify any of them. He was condoned here (especially by those who never served) because he was a "code-tested extra" ham...yet tried to fart all over anyone who was against the code test before 2007. He was all words, no substance, no proof, no real accomplishments, just a con man.

Maybe that's what happens to olde-tymers who get lost in their imaginations of self-perceived glory and grandeur in a radio hobby. Others in here, the unidentified (until they slip in private e-mail) hiding and tossing words of INFERRED self-praise carry on this posing, posturing "tradition." NOT a good tradition.

Temper fry,

Your comments about the code:

Well my young friend - Yes we all learned it as it was part of the package to get our license in that time frame. Were we brainwashed - NAW - but a lot of hams became so proficient at it that they proved that it is better and quicker than texting on a cell phone - I think it was on Jay Leno show 1 night not to long ago.. You also have to remember, that not all ships have or had automatic keyers until just a short time ago... Allot of hams copied shipboard cw in times of emergencies as well as land stations for the same purpose. If you don't like "cw",
DON'T USE IT AND DON'T COMPLAIN ABOUT IT!

No...Major Dud gets NO sort of credit from me.

He's never used a PGP signature and anything similar. You can't "sign" a post in handwriting on newsgroups. Even if he did, I'd suspect he bought his pen at a surplus store. :-(

Sorry, sweetums, but that Leno skit was nearly TWO years ago. Nice bit of PR work by Chip Margelli...just before he became sales manager for Heil Sound. :-)

It was a SEND-UP on young adults current fad of TEXTING.

I could have beat both of the CW champs at mesage throughput with an OLD 60 WPM Baudot TTY...and have the camera see the output as it happened. :-)

I DO thank you for thinking I am "young." I feel that way inside despite a 75 year old body. My wife is the same.
We went together in high school class of 1951. :-)

You seem to have forgotten that GMDSS went into effect in 1999. That's 9 years ago, NOT a "short time ago." The USCG stopped monitoring 500 KHz shortly thereafter.

There were Autoalarm receivers on merchant ships before WWII started for the USA. Yawn.

US amateur radio is NOT about maritime communications nor SOLAS (Safety Of Life At Sea). It is just a HOBBY. It was always so, regardless of the wish-fulfillment ideas of olde-tymers about "service (to the nation)."

>&#65533;If you don't like "cw",
> DON'T USE IT AND DON'T COMPLAIN ABOUT IT!

I don't CARE to use manual morse code. Probably never will. I don't hate it. Had you bothered to note it, I've written the FCC many times about eliminating the Code TEST for US amateur radio license applicants...all classes. Ya know what, that's exactly what the FCC did! [amazing, but true, happened on 23 February 2007]

I'm complaining about the parochial attitude of all the olde-tyme morseaholic hammies and their attitudes towards us NON-morseaholic licensed radio amateurs. You can't remain "superior" forever and your vaunted morse skills have been out of date for a long time. Try to realize that morseaholics are NO LONGER kings of the amateur hill.

There's more and more radio amateur licensees who DON"T use "cw" every day. The olde-tyme morsemen are letting their licenses expire. Try to accept that in courtesy. Times change.

BTW, what's your Shield Number, "Channel Cop?" Which Division

You really think you got an Amateur Extra class license in only one afternoon. Did you take the same test as me, how many words per minute code test did you pass? Did you take all six tests. Apparently, you were just waiting for them to lower the bar so you could get over it.

The REAL story is that I never bothered to really go after a "ham license" (either from the FCC or the FDA).

In 1956, a mere 52 years ago, I got a First Class Radiotelephone
(Commercial) License. One sitting at an FCC Field Office in Chicago. Then I used that to work in broadcasting to earn money to move to California and enter the aerospace industry.

I had already "worked HF" for three years prior to 1956...on no less than 36 HF transmitters of 1 KW to 40 KW RF output,
NONE of which used any on-off morse code keying. NONE.
Average message traffic on that 3rd-largest US Army station
was a quarter million per month (in 1955). All TTY.

Most olde-tyme radio hammies just don't understand that.
They've been so brainwashed into thinking morse code is so "essential" to radio operating skill that they are incapable of such concepts as NOT using "cw."

Now, a couple of times when the code test rate was 13
WPM, I THOUGHT about getting a "ham ticket." Why not,
I'd already had the First 'Phone? I just as quickly thought
NOT to have one. It wasn't worth the effort. There were other things to do with my spare time...like keeping an
in-person social life. PLENTY of other things to do, interesting things, some even involving electronics! :-)

I could say more but I've already said that long ago in here. All the olde-tymer morseaholics have to make up their own stories of "what I wanted" and none are true.

> but with that my fill of your drivel is exhaugsted I look forward to > seeing Lens response

I allow myself only one post to colonel klunk a day. It is wasted effort on my part to argue against heil's hatred of myself. That all started years ago when I failed to "oh!" and
"ah!" at Heil's State Department career and his long tenure
as an amateur extra. Heil has tried (sometimes desperately)
to denigrate me anywhichway he can ever since. :-)

But, he LIKES to lord it over anyone who (he thinks) has done "less" than him. He is "superior." <shrug> :-)

73, Len AF6AY

HERE HE GOES AGAIN, FOLKS!!!!!
If it weren't for "I" and "Me", Len would be hard pressed to complete a single sentence.
Below are examples from just this one diatribe:

"The REAL story is that I..."
"In 1956, a mere 52 years ago, I got a First Class Radiotelephone..."
"I had already "worked HF" for three years prior to 1956..."
"I THOUGHT about getting a "ham ticket." "
"I just as quickly thought..."
"I could say more but..."
"I allow myself only one post..."

So there you have it, folks. If you aren't duly impressed with Len's "accomplishments" during the last six decades, stand by. He will no doubt be singing his own praises yet again in a future post as he regales us with the ever impressive Life And Times Of Len Anderson.

hmm you are doing major dudly 2 better he only claimed 7 hostile actions without a bit of proof you are claiming you faced down (terible exams that you no doubt had to crawl though the snow t take at the FCC feild office 100 miles on hand onad through broken glass both ways

but serious I am truly sorry you had to tkae all that crapp (assuming you take and pass it) it was never a good idea and has claerly served ease your brudens to something senible (or course I leave behind in ok but of course you keep right one hiding your alleged achievekments in fact the 2 you hold other Len are what 3 chances to test realy slow and unless moderately slow and useless and merely slow and you fail to even offer any reason to beleive you have achived even where is the proof you even passed a novice test

why do you hate the ARS so? why do you want it to die with you?

that is the result you avocate not from losing morse tests or even if the hams resulting from testing today are in fact not as skilled as 20 years etc, but when you put people down in public for taking the exams required you are attacking the very existance of the ARS.

indeed asmuing you ar any of the folks I think you mght be you have been doign this TO the aras for years even back when we had 20wpm code testing the newcomers were always bad

Its amazing how much trouble some of those guys go to that way they can start some crap.
Look at it this way, the more time you keep them occupied, the less time they are out drinking and driving and hurting someone thats a decent person.
That way they can't go out and hurt someone through their own mental derangement.

Mark will deny that he speaks for others. Yet, in essence, he does so others write to suit his fanciful, mindless meanderings.

Veracity? You have not an inkling of an idea what the entails.

You could begin by learning to spell correctly. What is "mange"? A Canine affliction?

Until you get off your lazy posterior and author posts that rise above juvenile gibberish, you and "veracity" will forever be worlds apart.

You do the same with the posts of others.

You fancy yourself as "The Keeper Of The Castle".
Your dysfunctional wife lives in the past along with a group of fellow dysfunctionals who, like yourself, cannot cope or operate in mainstream society.

I truly pity you.

Because of your contentious, juvenile behavior.
Because of your blatant stupidity.

DeLorean, bless his heart, got your Teranews account canceled.

You are a shameless bufoon, Mark.

"USAGE NOTE: Infer is sometimes confused with imply, but the distinction is a useful one. When we say that a speaker or sentence implies something, we mean that it is conveyed or suggested without being stated outright: When the mayor said that she would not rule out a business tax

Inference, on the other hand, is the activity performed by a reader or interpreter in drawing conclusions that are not explicit in what is said: When the mayor said that she would not rule out a tax increase, we inferred that she had been consulting with some new financial advisers, since her old advisers were in favor of tax reductions."

Newcomers to radio? Don't you mean newcomers to amateur radio? That simply isn't true. I've lent a hand to many amateur radio newbies. If a new ham exhibited your traits--incivility, rudeness, a know-it-all attitude--I'd let him sink or swim.

I didn't say that you did. What you did was to come here and use the phrase. You reverted to form in a venue where you could get away with the behavior which got you bounced.

I don't care if you share my beliefs or not, Leonard. I couldn't care less about anyone telling me how wonderful I am. I can play by the rules. You can't.

I invite you to re-read my statement. It begins with a statement, "You are a new ham". Being LICENSED PROFESSIONALLY has nothing to do with amateur radio.

You seem to enjoy rehashing the past and bringing up what was obviously the highlight of your life. Now you've become a radio amateur. You have access to the same frequency spectrum available to other Amateur Extra Class licensees.

> Now YOU, mighty lawgiver and judge of all, sit there sneering

Lawgiver? Judge of all? I'm neither of those. As for my sneering at neophyte amateur radio ops, I do none of that. I haven't met many that I dislike. You're certainly among them.

It is gospel, Len. None of those things you wrote are reasons for your being banned. Your lack of self control is the sole reason.

That has nothing to do with it. You did not abide by the posting guidelines and you've attempted to blame others for your lack of discipline.

You don't like it at all. I'm actually doing it pretty well.
You simply don't respond well to having your shortcomings pointed out.

I haven't been either. I've countered each one of your false claims as to the reasons you were banned from the moderated group.

I've disagreed with a number of posters to the moderated newsgroup. Not once have I lost control of myself and turned to Andersonesque behavior.

Okay. You could post anywhere else in usenet or in venues like Eham (where you had your head handed to you on a couple of occasions). You chose to post to the moderated newsgroup, knowing what the posting guidelines were. You were unable to control yourself.

> The

Then any sport with any rules is a DICTATORIAL condition. Any newspaper or magazine which prints letters to the editor is a DICTATORIAL condition. Any town or city which requires a permit for a protest or a parade is a DICTATORIAL condition.

> You know that as well as anyone. You've been practicing > all that dictatorial snit for years.

Oh, Leonard, I believe your nose is growing!
I've never dictated who could post or not post in r.r.a.p.

What you didn't like was disagreement with your own views. You didn't like the ridicule and you didn't like anyone making fun of your manner. You can get away with your churlishness here, but you couldn't do so on r.r.a.m.

> You LOVE talking down to
> "newbies"...none of which you consider anywhere close to

Nobody who is new to anything is as good at it as someone with decades of experience. The fact is, you dislike being called a beginner, even if you are one.

>> Why would you attempt to argue with the moderators?
> Why do you insist on trying to argue with ME? :-)

You aren't able to ban me from anything. I enjoy keeping you honest.

> You never win anything in such arguments, only reinforce

I can show you for what you really are, Len. I enjoy that as well. None of your reasons for your being banned from the moderated group are factual. You've blamed everything on others.

The term "moderated" indicates that r.r.a.m. is not an open forum. Each post (unless the poster has been whitelisted after a number of posts) goes through a moderator. That moderator has the power to dump the post or allow it to appear.

I read some of your rather incendiary posts and wondered when the ax would fall. You must not have been able to see it.

You knew of the rules. You chose to disregard them. It really is that simple.

>> There aren't any "IN members".
> You are WRONG. You are just rationalizing your own IN-ness.

I have IN-ness? Sorry, Len, I'm not a moderator. I have to play by the rules in r.r.a.m. or 1) they'll be rejected, 2) I'll be banned.

>> There is no clique.

> You are WRONG. Still rationalizing. You are part of the clique.

That's incorrect, Leonard. I'm part of no clique and I have no power to decide whether any post appears or does not--other than using my self control in making my own posts.

>> There are folks who follow the posting guidelines and folks >> who do not.

I read the newsgroup. I see folks playing by the rules. I see agreement. I see disagreement. I see open discussion. I saw your earlier posts and foresaw your exit.

> Sounds like YOU have an IN with this "moderating team."

My only "IN" would be that I play by the rules. I observe the posting guidelines. You could have done that as well. You chose not to do so.

> Hello? Is this some evidence of a "ruling cabal?" :-(

I think it is. There are rules for posting. Anyone who observes those rules may post. Nothing in the rules prohibits civil disagreement with another poster. Nothing excludes the free exchange of ideas.

It has long been evident that unless you are force to be civil, you will not be civil. You knew the r.r.a.m. rules. You chose to disregard them.

The word "civilian" does not indicate an ability to be civil.

The history of r.r.a.p. indicates otherwise.

You're a beginner in amateur radio. You've been licensed as a radio amateur for a little over a year. Those are facts. That you don't like those facts is obvious.

Nothing in your posts to r.r.a.p. concerning your being bounced from the

Then you knew you'd be banned before you were banned? You knew that you

There are numerous radio amateurs whom you've managed to rub the wrong

Yes. That's the term which correctly describes your behavior. You've attempted to blame others for your own shortcomings.

You're right. That never occurred to me because it wasn't evident in your recent r.r.a.m. posts.

Is that what you call the posting guidelines for r.r.a.m. ? Are they Big Brother rules? I do expect others posting to the moderated group to abide by the rules. You couldn't do so.

> You can't stand

I wouldn't like the posting guidelines for r.r.a.m. to be abolished.
They are what makes that newsgroup more civilized than this. There's no incivility, no Roger Wiseman filth and no Mark Morgan floods.

I have no control whatever in r.r.a.m.

You are "superior" and all must listen to you.

You're out of your skull, Leonard.
Take some responsibility for your own behavior.

There are no frequently repeated, windy outlines of my accomplishments in electronics and radio in government or civilian work. There are no similar outlines of my military electronics/radio experience. There are such posts by you.

Oh, and by the way, a "code test" is NOT required now, hasn't Tsk, tsk, spoken like the usual young punk trying to be a Big Brave "man" by putting down others. Some of you must have a script to crib from. Seen those boastings and insults all my life. They are nothing but brainless boastings and a lot of posturing.

> You really think you got an Amateur Extra class license in only one > afternoon.

I passed ALL required tests in one afternoon. [25 Feb 07] The FCC didn't grant my license until a bit later, 7 Mar 08, when it appeared on the FCC database. According to the latest regulations, that made it legal according to the FCC. The paper form of license wasn't received until about a week and a half later via surface mail. Yes, I did NOT "get it in one day" but the tests (ALL of them) were passed in one day...the waiting time was just for the formality of the paperwork.

In 1956 I passed ALL 4 parts of an FCC First Class Radiotelephone (Commercial) license at an FCC Field Office but didn't get my First 'Phone license until 2 1/2 weeks later. There was no Internet 52 years ago and everything went by surface mail. :-)

> Did you take the same test as me, how many words per minute > code test did you pass? Did you take all six tests.

News Flash: There hasn't been a single morse code test for any class radio amateur license since 23 Feb 07. Almost a year and a half now. Amazing but true. :-)

What were these "six tests" for amateur radio license exams?
You aren't acquainted with the tests as they were BEFORE 2000 and the advent of "restructuring." If you have an OLD copy of Title 47 C.F.R. and Part 97 thereof, you would have seen that there were never any "six" written test elements.

You are counting the morse code cognition aural tests as part of the THREE writtens, therefore making "six." To reiterate, the morse code test for amateur radio licensing is GONE, eliminated, kaput, went bye-bye over a year ago.

No, I could NOT have "taken the same tests" as you - if you really DID take them (we can't identify your callsign of "JAY" so we have to put you down is just plain bogus). Each written test is CHANGED every two to three years by the Question Pool Committee of the National Council of Volunteer Examiner Coordinators. You can see all of that at www.ncvec.org.

On the other hand YOU NEVER took "the same tests as I did" either for an amateur radio license or a Commercial radio license. You are just making some uninformed, brainless posturing of "might" and "accomplishment."

> Apparently, you > were just waiting for them to lower the bar so you could get over it.

I've been admitted to bars since I was 18. :-) No problem.

I've explained WHY I got my amateur radio license. You will not believe it because that destroys your effort to call others names and denigrate them. Typical punk comment of yours.

I spent some time for ten years doing a POLITICAL thing on changing the amateur radio regulations in the US of A.
Primarily to campaign for eliminating that useless code test. The FCC had admitted in public that the code test was NOT useful to them in determining whether or not an amateur radio license applicant was worthy of being granted a license. See FCC docket 90-53 on the first of those admissions. [hint: by the docket prefix that would have been released in the year 1990]

In December 2006 the FCC announced that the code test would be eliminated...to be announced in the Federal Register...which took several weeks but that date was picked as 23 Feb 07. My campaigning efforts felt vindicated and I didn't do much about "getting a license."
At the beginning of February 2007 I thought it would be a neat idea to actually get one. I'd been licensed Commercially for 51 years, had a partnership for a while that had a business radio (PLMRS 'high band') and had retired from a successful career as an electronics design engineer. Why not? It might be fun.
Okay, so I planned, prepared for less than three weeks from the nearest available exam date locally. No real problem there. Took only part of a Sunday afternoon.

It was the same approach I'd used successfully in 1956 after release from Army active duty. The main difference was in having to take a train 90 miles to Chicago in order to take the test. No "conditionals" by any volunteer hams for a PROFESSIONAL license then. NO COLEMs then, the only test guides were "Q&A Books" which my home town didn't have in stock then...I borrowed a whole set of FCC Regulations and crash-memorized the appropriate Parts for a First 'Phone. All in a three-week time frame.

No problem on theory...I'd already had plenty of on-the-job experience in the Army. DoD radio use isn't regulated by any FCC so I had to learn those civilian laws in a hurry.
Apply yourself and it can be done. It worked for me. Twice.
Separated by 51 years.

> WIth the simplistic test they give today, I would be embarressed to > say that I did not pass it all at one time.

"Simplistic?!?" "Embarrassed?!?" :-)

Do you flagellate yourself also? Wear sackcloth and ashes? :-)

There was NOTHING in the old tests that could not be done in ONE DAY. About the only thing barring that would be the FCC Field Office closing early for whatever reason or you lived so far from a Field Office that travel was a "hardship." For a teenager, long travel time MIGHT have been a hardship...so the FCC obliged by having the "Conditional" class of amateur license. NO SUCH THING for Professional licenses. Amateurs got lots of breaks.

Look at the squibs in the ARRL Letter about youngsters getting amateur licenses at age 9 or even 6! Years ago.
You mean to say that the amateur tests were "so hard"
that a young adult or teeny-bopper "couldn't" take ALL tests in ONE DAY?!? Bullshit.

> Wow Len, you made a point that you drove to the exam all by yourself.

A whole mile down a familar boulevard...as opposed to taking a train 90 miles...as opposed to Boy Wonder N2EY taking three bus routes in a city as a teenage to get his.
An ARRL VEC exam team has monthly permission from the LAFD to use rooms at their Auxiliary Communications Station in "Old Firehouse 77" across from a supermarket.

> Can you change your adult diaper by yourself too?

Unlike yourself, I don't use those.

> Note: Old farts get all sympathetic and teary eyed because they know > their time is limited here on Earth, just in case they may be judged.

I have NO sympathy for young punks posturing as you do.
You get NO tears of any kind from me. EVERYONE's "time" on earth is limited. Really. NO ONE is immortal, not even your own punk self. Get used to it.

US amateur radio is SUPPOSED to be a hobby, an avocation done for personal pleasure involving the technology of radio and electronics. It is NOT for middle-school adolescent-mentality "males" fighting for supremacy, title, status, whatever.

Now, if you MUST try to beat up on someone, go down to your local skid row and beat up some homeless person, then brag to them all about how you took "six tests" (three of them being morse code cognition tests) and therefore had the "strength of ten" to vanquish the "weak." It might make you feel good. The rest of us are just disgusted at what you do.

I don't recall Steve ever not being able to say where or when they took

I've never produced a copy of my DD-214 for your perusal.
I don't intend to. Yet there are web sites which document my military service and which describe my work in Vietnam.

There were never any "six" written tests. He may have been counting the written tests he failed, then had to re-take. <shrug>

There were once three different rates of code cognition tests, that is true, but it was all reduced to just ONE in mid-2000. As boy wonder N2EY kept pointing out many places, there was a WAIVER system that "any doctor could sign off" to NOT take the slow-rate morse tests.

These nameless punks will use their "machismo" to berate anyone older than 30 as having "bad health" and "one foot into the grave" and other bullshit. It is typical of middle-school adolescent-mindset bragging and posturing. Can be seen on any schoolyard anywhere.

Those nameless punks just haven't done much of anything themselves so they get all upset at anyone ACTUALLY accomplishing something.
That's very typical of them. Usually they are emotional cripples, letting their emotions over-ride any sense of actually doing something worthy of an accomplishment. The end result is that they make much about insulting and defaming anyone who has accomplished something. They are just resentful, probably frustrated about many things, are looking for some object to take it out on...

> > Can you change your adult diaper by yourself too?

Mark, on second reading, it sounds like "JAY" has trouble changing his diaper. He might just resent that, therefore he charges that others, especially "old" people have the same trouble he has...

Just conjecture... :-)

> but even I can Len is NOT geting teary eyed or the least bit sympathic > to you

Well, Mark, if this "JAY" had written more, I might have had some tears.
But only from laughing so hard. :-)

Mark, I understand that. These young punk jackals and hyenas don't All they want to do is DESTROY. They can't "build" something themselves so their middle-school adolsecent-mentality "machismo"

Quite true. I was making an observation in this din of inequity.

Hyenas aren't impressed. They just keep on trying to dine on carrion.

WRONG. We have only Robeson's WILD CLAIMS.

An "18-year career with the USMC" and Robeson had NOTHING to show for it by HIS WORDS? No buddies mentioned, no copies of anything, not one damn bit of proof of any sort?

Well, as long as Robeson was a CODE-TESTED EXTRA he should be "excused" for telling tales, right? That's your only rationale for trying to challenge a bunch of us in old RRAP who were all convinced Robeson was LYING.

Mark, Robeson NEVER had any bit of PROOF of anything about his alleged "18-year USMC career." Quite probably because he never had one...or it was terminated for some other reason.

Look at what Robeson does now (or at least did a few months ago). He is a "Major" in the Tennessee Civil Air Patrol. His assignment is "Public Relations." He had a Licensed Practical Nurse (LPN) certificate with the state of Tennessee and said he worked in "ER." Like the TV show "ER" wasn't on TV and drawing a fair audience. Around here only RNs (Registered Nurses) work in Emergency Rooms. LPNs might help out but they are lower on the totem pole.

Years ago Robeson got a "commission" with the Tennessee STATE Guard as a First Lieutenant, listed as being "communications officer" with a brigade in TN. State Guards are NOT part of any National Guard. A TN State Guard "brigade" has a small group of personnel, roughly the size of two Army companies. According to the TN State Guard website they do the equivalent of Military Police work, assigned to guard armories of National Guard units that are mobilized.
Robeson is no longer on any TN State Guard listing. He said he "resigned his commission" after a family tragedy...but he was not on the rolls BEFORE his daughter died.

He made a number of statements about his off-duty activities (beyone ham radio) that didn't jibe or appeared to just copy statements from popular publications. All his USMC phrase writing was old stuff, known to many, and few REAL marines use those as much as Robeson did.
He FAILED to remember certain details of USMC training areas which any REAL marine would know, recognize.

He loved to be seen in UNIFORM. Any uniform....scrubs to cammies to old, worn flight suits. Title, rank, status were his "decorations."

He is a piece of work, a real CON MAN.

But, he was a CODE-TESTED EXTRA so all the code-tested hams loved him. They ate up is CON Man prose.

Look at the great Lenny. Mr. High and Mighty who wants to fight for truth, justice, and the American way, has not come here to post an on topic post. He is here because the moderated group kicked his ass to the curb. Welcome Lenny back, he will fit right in. There always is room for another Myna Bird in the zoo.

....

Len has no desire to be "another Myna Bird". He wants to be the ONLY Myna Bird.

Let's sit back and take a breather while Len, yet again, sings verse after tired verse of his alleged accomplisments.

Do you have an hour or so to spare? Prop your feet up and sit back. Relax. Grab a tall one. (no pun on Len's tall tales) Put some old Sinatra music on the vintage Victrola and reminisce as Len regales us "kids" with his never-ending and boringly repetitious braggadocio.

Then, if you dare show even a teensy bit of disdain for this Foghorn, be prepared for a six to eight paragraph response that will (you guessed it) once again remind us of Len's numerous "accomplishments" over the last six tenths of a century. As Len would say, Tsk, Tsk.

The most amusing aspect of Len's latest angst is the irrrefutable fact that Paul Schleck unashamedly tossed Len from the moderated group. What you have there, folks, is the result of two oversized egos clashing. Like a couple of mountain goats, old mountain goats, they locked horns and Len was rightfully thrown from his self-perceived high perch. Len now stands, wounded ego in hand, at the bottom of the rock pile and brays "foul" to any and all who are within earshot.

Len is now bereft of options, so enter him here.

But all is not lost, however. There is a small thread of hope for Len. He does have at least one apparent comrade in angry arms, someone with whom he can commiserate and who knows all too well the shame of being expelled from a forum or two. Enter the Keeper Of The Castle, another dysfunctional "brother" and self-described "Pagan, Jewish, Bisexual Ham".

So, Len. You lost a few dozen friends while traversing your angry road, but look on the bright side. You picked up a piece of detritus while en route.

Jews are to porn what Italians are to pizza parlours

Jewish Professor of American History at Aberdeen University in UK, Prof. Nathan Abrams. He boasts that Jews were the driving force of the modern pornographic industry and that their motivation is in part to destroy Gentile morals.

Jewish Professor Says Porn Industry is a Weapon used by Jews Against Gentiles

The following is an excerpt from one of the new additions to my book, Jewish Supremacism. It offers more powerful evidence that reveals the Jewish extremist war against Gentiles, a struggle that we Gentiles are not even allowed to know about, much less resist. The new edition of Jewish Supremacism will be available for purchase in about three weeks at www.davidduke.com

From the new 2007 Edition of Jewish Supremacism by David Duke

After learning about the inordinate Jewish involvement in organized crime, historical slavery and modern white slavery, it did not surprise me when I began to learn of their domination of pornography. Just as Jewish scholars faithfully recorded the Jewish domination of the African slave trade so they have also documented their prominent role in pornography.

In a respected and scholarly magazine of Jewish intellectuals, (The Jewish Quarterly, winter 2004) Jewish professor Nathan Abrams in an article titled, "Triple Exthnics," proudly documents the leading role of Gentile-hating Jews in pornography.

A story little told is that of Jews in Hollywood's seedier cousin, the adult film industry. Perhaps we'd prefer that the "triple exthnics" didn't exist, but there's no getting away from the fact that secular Jews played (and still continue to play) a disproportionate role throughout the adult film industry in America. Jewish involvement in pornography has a long history in the United States, as Jews have helped transform a fringe subculture into what has become a primary constituent of Americana. These are the "true blue" Jews.

Jewish activity in the porn industry divides into two (sometimes overlapping) groups: pornographers and performers. Though Jews make up only two per cent of the American population, they have been prominent in pornography. &#65533;

In the postwar era, America&#65533;s most notorious pornographer was Reuben Sturman, the &#65533;Walt Disney of Porn&#65533;. According to the US Department of Justice, throughout the 1970s Sturman controlled most of the pornography circulating in the country. &#65533; It was said that Sturman did not simply control the adult-entertainment industry; he was the industry. &#65533;

Many are entirely secular, Jews in name only. Sturman, however, identified as a Jew - he was a generous donator to Jewish charities. &#65533;

Abrams shows how the corruption and debasement of Gentiles and Christian morality is a primary part of their motivation for intentionally infecting the Gentile community with pornography.

Is there a deeper reason, beyond the mere financial, as to why Jews in particular have become involved in porn? &#65533;

Al Goldstein, the publisher of Screw, said &#65533;The only reason that Jews are in pornography is that we think that Christ sucks. Catholicism sucks. We don&#65533;t believe in authoritarianism.&#65533; Pornography thus becomes a way of defiling Christian culture and, as it penetrates to the very heart of the American mainstream (and is no doubt consumed by those very same WASPs), its subversive character becomes more charged. &#65533;

Extending the subversive thesis, Jewish involvement in the X-rated industry can be seen as a proverbial two fingers to the entire WASP establishment in America. &#65533;

Opposition to Jewish extremist subversion of Gentile, Christian or Muslim morality is frequently defined as anti-Semitic &#65533;hatred&#65533; in the Jewish dominated media. Abrams writing in a Jewish journal for a presumably Jewish audience writes matter-of-factly about the &#65533;atavistic hatred&#65533; against us by Jewish pornographers and their motivation to &#65533;weaken the dominant culture in America by moral subversion.&#65533;

Jewish involvement in porn, by this argument, is the result of an atavistic hatred of Christian authority: they are trying to weaken the dominant culture in America by moral subversion. Astyr remembers having &#65533;to run or fight for it in grammar school because I was a Jew. It could very well be that part of my porn career is an &#65533;up yours&#65533; to these people.&#65533; &#65533;

Obviously, there are no articles in the mainstream media exposing Jewish &#65533;atavistic hatred&#65533; against Gentiles by the promoters of pornographic depravity. Abrams even goes on to talk about the roots of this revolutionary Jewish attack on European values.

Jews were also at the vanguard of the sexual revolution of the 1960s. Wilhelm Reich, Herbert Marcuse and Paul Goodman replaced Marx, Trotsky and Lenin as required revolutionary reading. &#65533;

Pacheco was one Jewish porn star who read Reich&#65533;s intellectual marriage of Freud and Marx. &#65533;

In light of the relatively tolerant Jewish view of sex, why are we ashamed of the Jewish role in the porn industry? We might not like it, but the Jewish role in this field has been significant and it is about time it was written about seriously.

Notice that all those mentioned: Reich, Marcuse, Goodman, Marx, Trotsky, Lenin and Freud are Jews. From Freud to Goodman, all represent a Jewish revolution against traditional European values and morality.

When sick Jewish pornographers are part of the brutality of Jewish organized crime, the results can obviously be horrifically tragic for our people. In 2000, a Jewish &#65533;Russian&#65533; organized crime ring was uncovered that specialized in kidnapping Russian children, some as young as two years old, from parks and orphanages and then subjecting them to rape, torture and murder, all on video tape. These tapes were sold to thousands of Jewish and Gentile perverts all over the world. When police in Italy were frustrated by lack of action by the authorities they released some of the video footage to an Italian network which then showed some of the graphic images hoping to cause public outrage. Instead of outrage against the Jewish murderers the TV producers suffered outrage for showing the disturbing images.

In spite of the horror and obvious newsworthiness of this international Jewish child porn/murder operation, it received little coverage in the media in the United States. When Seth Bekenstein, the ring&#65533;s American distributor was arrested, there was little publicity, and in spite of being a part of one of the most horrific criminal activities imaginable, he was sentenced to only 18 months on guilty plea.

Porn is no longer 1950s pictures of voluptuous nude women on a deserted beach. It has become permeated with sadism, masochism, scatology, even sexual molestation, rape and murder of young children. I am no prude. I love the beauty of the human body. But, I do think that this kind of sick criminal activity, in which there is so much exploitation, so much degradation, so much catering to the depths of human depravity, should be fought with constitutional law.

Ironically, with Jewish influence over media, societal mores, and government today, it is legal, even chic to make and sell the sickest pornography showing the sick defilement of women. But, if you have unacceptable political opinions about Jewish supremacism, you may find yourself a political and social pariah, or at worst in prison. We live in a Jewish supremacist world where often the sickest porn is legal while political incorrect opinions will land you in prison.

I will start off with the following question:

Which is better for our present economy and WHY?

A car with a GASOLINE ENGINE or a DIESEL ENGINE

Sorry, I'm not your lover Lloyd. I am a former stump jumper, though, so I do know Lloyd. He has moved on to better things and is now part owner of a business. He doesn't have time to post much any longer, but is glad to see that you keep the flame lit for him. The next time he visits the DC area, I'll tell him you still love him.

Don't know if you know this, but you can now purchase Kosher computers! They are made in Israel by a company called DELL-SHALOM. The price is so low, even with the shipping from Israel! However, before you purchase a kosher computer of your own, you should know that there are some important changes from the typical non-kosher computer you are used to, such as:

1) The "Start" button has been replaced with the "Let's go!! I'm not getting any younger!" button.

2) You hear "Hava Nagila" during startup.

3) The cursor moves from right to left.

4) When Spell-checker finds an error it prompts, "Is this the best you can do?"

5) When you look at erotic images, your computer says, "If your mother knew you did this, she would die."

6) It comes with a "monitor cleaning solution" from Manischewitz that advertises it gets rid of all the "schmutz und drek."

7) When running "Scan Disk" it prompts you with a "You want I should fix this?" message.

8) After 20 minutes of no activity, your PC goes "Schloffen."

9) The PC shuts down automatically at sundown on Friday evenings.

10) It comes with two hard drives-one for fleyshedik (business software and one for milchedik (games).

11) Instead of getting a "General Protection Fault" error, your PC now gets "Ferklempt."

12) The multimedia player has been renamed to "Nu, so play my music already!" corner.

13) When your PC is working too hard, you occasionally hear a loud "Oy Gevalt!"

14) Computer viruses can now be cured with matzo ball soup.

15) When disconnecting external devices from the back of my PC, you are instructed to "Remove the cable from the PC's tuchus."

16) After your computer dies, you have to dispose of it within 24 hours.

17) But best of all, if you have a kosher computer, you can't get SPAM!!!

PROVE IT. Simply state your FCC-granted callsign.

Others do. Why don't you?

If you don't, at least say which brand of snake oil you are trying to sell or where your used-car lot is located... <shrug>

Heh heh heh...I've been admitted to bars for decades.

I grant you that you may have SEEN some news but you sure did not UNDERSTAND what you read.

By the manufactured-shame statement non-logic of yours I "spent 55 years waiting for a bar to be lowered." Not true. I went professional in radio in 1952...never thought it worth the trouble until 2007 to actually GET my own amateur license.

Your problem is that you spend so much time in saying bad things to others and can't understand the people you are trying to mean-mouth.

>> If you really have an Amateur Extra, why don't you post your >> license callsign? Why are you ashamed of it?
>
>Nothing to be ashamed about nor anything to boast about, no

Translation: Not enough GUTS to tell us what it is.

That leads us to one of two conclusions: 1. You don't have one; 2. You aren't really an Amateur Extra.

>I have no problem with death, I just won't be one of those folks like >you appear to be who spout that their life somehow has more >significance than any others.

Well then, you must not have ANY significant life...

Those who openly resent others' accomplishments will say things as you did. To avoid 'showing' their resentment yet still being wanna-bees, they try to talk their way out of it. Doesn't work.

>My occupation is none of your concern.

My sympathies on being without a job. Hope you get one soon.

>If you seen this all your life than apparently I am not alone in my >sumation of you, that in fact, you are a self-inflated horn tooting >bullshiter.

I've heard lots and lots of "fish stories" told in my life, seen very few fish. :-) I've heard others tell out and out lies and then try to back-peddle when they were disproven. All kinds of things. :-)

Sorry, boy, but everything I've stated in here can be PROVEN by third-party references, including documentation or the words of others far away. None of it is bullshit. It isn't 'great' or 'newsworthy' enough to make it to tabloids (ARRL Letter included, heh heh), but it is TRUE.

A problem with so many in here seems to be just plain resentment of others doing anything at all.
That results in the outright meanness in all the blabbing about "how bad" certain others are. It is the resentment and meanness surfacing.

Another problem may be in some who live vicarious lives via their computer screen and imagine to many things, create fantasies for themselves, fantasies that don't exist in reality. That's a much greater personal danger to those and they DO need professional help...but they have to admit it to some professional in order to get help.

Not my problem. Not my station in life to concede to others' fantasies or to praise their imaginations.

>And still I am waiting to see where the significance lies about >passing three simple exams where the answers are available on the net >and in print.

...and WE are still waiting to see what FCC-granted
callsign YOU have after "passing" ANY amateur radio license test. :-)

ALL, every single answer to ANY question on today's or yesterday's amateur radio license tests were ALWAYS "in print." They were "on the net" as soon as the Government Printing Office had digitized Title 47 C.F.R. to show
the official Regulations of US amateur radio.
They have been IN PRINT in thousands of text books on electronics theory. I've never checked to see how far back those go and am certain only of the period from about 1948 to present.

You say the NCVEC's questions are "simple."
If one is well acquainted with electronics theory (as I've been for years, working in it), yes, that MAY be so. The FCC establishes the total number of questions, has always done so.
Currently it is 35 questions for each of the Technician and General class tests, 50 for Amateur Extra. That is a total of 120 questions. The FCC regulates the MINIMUM (but not maximum) number of questions in each class question pool. As of 25 Feb 07 the NCVEC pool had 392 questions for Technician, 455 for General, 802 for Amateur Extra. The total number of pool questions was 1,679.
That is a ratio of pool:required of 13.99:1.
It is difficult to "memorize" ALL the possible correct answers for ALL pools. At least for ordinary humans like me. :-)

My effort for the amateur tests was the same as done 51 years prior for the commercial test: Memorize the Regulations. Theory I knew, but regulations vary among radio services and the military was never regulated by the FCC. A passing score for amateur radio license tests is about 70 percent. I passed by failing only 6 out of 120, or 95%. As far as I could read (upside down), the examiners marked only those involving regulations as wrong. That may not be correct but the ARRL VEC teams don't get into details and don't reveal exactly which test questions are wrong.

Here's where all the hoopla about old, allegedly "real" tests is wrong: US amateur radio is NOT an occupation, not a union, not a guild, NOT a craft. It is NON-professional. That's why the FCC defines that radio service as "amateur."
It is defacto a HOBBY, something one does for personal pleasure, at no charge for anyone else.
A Commercial radio license IS for professional work. The amateur radio license is NOT.

>Still waiting to see the significance of this self proclaimed >accomplishment

WRONG. It is not "self proclaimed." It is a statement of FACT...but the actual dates may vary by a day or so either way. It is FACT that written communications took longer well before the Internet existed.

In Part 97 today, the FCC allows new licensees to begin using their license privileges as soon as they see their name on an official database.
Before the Internet one had to wait until the license certificate was received by mail.

>Yes it is true and plain to see that you waited until they eliminated >the code exam before you obtained your ham license.

I could have gotten a ham license from the FDA or the local Health Department...to grow or sell ham. :-)

The FACT is that I DIDN'T BOTHER TO GET ANY amateur radio license, including the no-code test Technician when it was available in 1991.
It was not that great an interest to me.

The FACT is that I politically campaigned to END code testing for ANY amateur radio license for over a decade previous.

The FACT is that I changed my mind in late January 2007 and decided THEN to get an amateur radio license. It would be (almost) on the 51st anniversary of my testing for a Commercial radio operator license.

The FACT is that YOU will, for personal spite, find everything I do "wrong" and have to attack everything I do.

>No I am counter in showing that your first stated proclaimation that >you passed the elements for extra "out of the box" has no significance >and is just more self inflated horn tooting.

Awwww...still resentful and pissed, aren't you? :-)

You couldn't do it. I did it. Therefore (by your ill-logic) what I did was "nothing." :-)

>Take a breath and get a life, you have way too much to say and are >saying nothing of interest.

Then YOU should leave. Heavens to Betsy, we can't have an anonymous ham wannabe getting all UNinterested, can we? NOsIRREE! :-)

You just go on mean-mouthing anyone else while you remain hiding behind a pseudonym. [that way you won't get "hurt"]

>Look at the great Lenny. Mr. High and Mighty who wants to fight for WRONG. I've strongly disagreed with MOST of the moderators of RRAM for OVER 7 years, and done so in PUBLIC. Right in RRAP. It is in the Google archives. Go look.

Paul Schleck, K3FU, and I have never really "gotten along." That is NO SECRET. Yet, under the RRAM thread of "Fifth Pillar" SOME of the allowed posters are expressing the SAME opinions that I did for over a decade on RRAP. Go look.

I was expressing an OPINION of RRAM, one that was held by OTHERS on RRAP, well before RRAM was created. That is FACT. It is in Google archives.
Go look. If you dare.

The FACT is that moderators on RRAM will only ALLOW certain posters to post, almost always the olde-tymers who chant the same scripture as can be found in ARRL publications. They just don't want ANYONE with "revolutionary" ideas. Horrid

CHANGE should only occur with equipment designs, stuff done by OTHERS. Everything must remain the SAME as when all the olde-tymers were "young."
:-)

>There always is room for another Myna Bird in the zoo.

Now, now, lil birdie, your invisible plummage isn't showing. You don't have a plaque in front of your cage showing what species you are. Quit squawking.

Just tell us your amateur radio callsign. Let's see if you are "male" enough to do that.

true that your radio club is the ONLY one who has a portable hot tub set up on ARRL Field Day where all the operators can carry extra long mic cords and sit in naked while they make pointless points in the contest? You really should send a photo of that into QST you know. 5

How real need they be? They exist. They're run by veterans of various units.

They're exchanges of reminiscences by those who served. The man I same individuals I worked with.

As usual, you've read between the lines. I have condoned nothing. I've stated and restated that I found a web site which confirms Steve's USMC service. I've also stated and restated that you, Leonard H. Anderson, have no facts to back up your claims regarding Steve. All you have is suspicions.

> You and boy wonder N2EY.

For a PROFESSIONAL writer, you don't put many sentences together. Can you advise, O Wizened One, where I can find proof that N2EY condones claims made by Steve, of his military service?

No, he didn't, but you've offered no proof of your insulting claims. Many have seen the less than honorable things you've written about the military service or job situation of others. Who owes you proof of their military service, Len? Who are you supposed to be?

You can type "WRONG" until your fingers bleed. Steve made no WILD CLAIMS. He made statements concerning his military service. Now if you can disprove any of those claims, fine. Until or unless you do, it'd be the civil thing to lay off the accusations.

I've excused no one. I have no proof that Steve told any tales. The "bunch of us" you refer to is yourself, Brian Burke, the dysfunctional Mark Morgan and a couple of anonymous posters. That's quite a bunch, howling for Steve's head.

Is it your claim that those at the State Department are novices or that all the employees held Novice Class amateur radio licenses? Jews Burn Hundreds Of BIbles In Zionist Entity
BBC Broadcasts Images Of Hate Around The World

Tel Aviv, Occupied Palestine -- The British Broadcasting Corporation aired footage yesterday of a massive Bible burning conduted by Orthodox Jews enraged with hatred for the Christian faith. Orthodox Jews, responding to an effort by Christian missionaries to teach the faith of Jesus Christ, rounded up hundreds of Bibles and set them on fire while shouting anti-Christian slogans, according to the news coverage. Such events occur regularly in the Zionist Occupation, but are rarely captured on film and presented to the public.

Several Jewish newspapers published editorials today in support of the Bible burning and a ban on Christian missionaries in the Zionist Occupation. According to the Jerusalem Post: "violent reactions to the missionaries if their activities are not stopped" and "People here are threatening to resort to extreme measures, such as blowing up the missionary headquarters with gas tanks."

"We have a major missionary problem here, which is a direct consequence of an unregulated relationship with Evangelicals," the Zionist website IsraelNews.com concurred, "The simple Jews of Ohr Yehuda found themselves, inadvertently, in possession of idolatrous material - and American Christian sensitivities were not first and foremost on their minds. But getting rid of the stuff as quickly, efficiently and in an halachically permissible manner was."

Jews consider Christianity to be a false and idolatrous religion, and regularly attack Christians and burn Christian material in Zionist Occupied Palestine. Their faith teaches that Mary was a prostitute who was raped by the Roman soldier Pantera, producing Jesus, and that Jesus was a sorceror who was sentenced by a Jewish council to be boiled alive in excrement and condemned to hell, where the devil boils him in a pot of Satanic semen.

New Jersey Lawyer, New York Cultist Seek to Revive Kevin Alfred Strom's Career League Of American Patriots Purges Sexually Normal, Plans Reunion

5/14/2008 10:22:23 AM Discuss this story in the forum
Overthrow Staff

Garfield, New Jersey -- When convicted pedophile Kevin Alfred Strom is released from prison this September, one short, wiry attorney may be standing there with flowers and cake.
Alexander Carmichael, an attorney from Garfield, New Jersey who has described himself to members of his inner circle as "the next Adolf Hitler", has spent the past few months rebuilding Strom's National Vanguard, calling it the League of American Patriots, reuniting its members, holding meetings, planning a Strom "welcome home" party, and purging old National Vanguard leaders who objected to the molestation of children. Working with him is New York City cult leader Bob Blumetti, a longtime Stormfront contributor who dresses in Star Wars "Sith Lord" costumes while worshipping the "earth mother" Freya, part of a religion he calls "Vriloology".

According to long time associates of Kevin Alfred Strom, who left him when the charges of pedophilia became known, Carmichael, who has been involved with Strom and the National Alliance since at least 2002, began approaching white activists in the New Jersey and New York City area last year, uniting the old National Vanguard New Jersey unit, then branching out to absorb former National Vanguard units in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

As his first step, Carmichael purged Rich Lindstrom, the long time, twenty plus year leader of the National Alliance and National Vanguard chapter in New Jersey, and an outspoken opponent of Strom's pedophilia, having been the first to resign from the National Vanguard board when the child porn allegations became known. Others who agreed with Lindstrom quickly got the boot, as did Keystone State Skinhead leader Keith Carney, whom Carmichael described as "too criminal" and "too working class".

Strom, the former leader of National Vanguard, is serving a twenty three months sentence for manufacturing and possessing child pornography on his home computer. Others in his group were believed to be complicit, but only one, the former leader of his Boston unit, was ever charged with sex crimes against children.

After purging Lindstrom and his supporters, Carmichael built an alliance with other Stormfront contributors, including Blumetti, using long time Blumetti cult member and National Vanguard member Patty Rainsford as a go between, and Erick Wiegel, whom Carmichael has ordered to raid messageboards with pro-Strom messages and propaganda.

Blumetti is the author of several pseudo-Odinist books, including Baldur Rising, and worships a New Age version of ancient Norse religion, placing Freya and the "the earth mother" as the central figures of worship, replacing Odin, the sky father, Thor, and the other male gods. In photos on his website:

Blumetti is shown wearing a Star Wars "Sith Lord" costume overlaid with a red life rune on white background. Those who know Blumetti say he shares Strom's "artistic" and "school boy" love of teenage and pre-teen girls, and featured prominently in photos on his website is a young teenage girl that an associate of Blumetti's say he has a crush on.

Carmichael and Rainsford have reached out to other white activists, particularly at American Renaissance, where Kelso, who had never met Rainsford before, reportedly asked her to marry him to help conceal his homosexuality.

"I've reached an age where it just doesn't do not to be married," Kelso, who had never met Rainsford, is reported to have said to her, "I have plenty of assets, and you wouldn't actually have to sleep with me."

During AmRen, Carmichael also met with Jared Taylor and Don Black to seek support for his project, and is reported to have struck a deal to be the official heir of the National Alliance and the Strom legacy.

Carmichael's plans, though, have recently been derailed by a series of allusions made on this website's blog and on Vanguard News Network, where a number of Carmichael's followers had been implementing an internet plan to "discredit" our publisher Bill White and the American National Socialist Workers Party. Using a "secret" website messageboard, since shut down, the group had coordinated a smear and slander campaign they felt would "neutralize" White. White responded by hinting he knew more of their plans than they had thought.

The result has been a paranoid campaign against their own members, accusing activists of being "Bill White assets" and claiming they are being monitored by "informers" wearing "Zionist lapel pins" that have the power to record their voices and instantly transmit them to the FBI and Mossad headquarters in Tel Aviv.

The paranoia has alienated the group's few normal members, driving several away and compelling several, who has never previously contacted this website, to approach us as the "natural enemies" of the Carmichael group.

However, Carmichael's activities were well known outside their inner circle before anyone involved in the League had been expelled. Information leaked to the anti-Kevin-Strom legal forces late last year, and reached us through other members of Stromfront's "Sustaining Member" section as well. An anonymous "press release", apparently sent to numerous white activists two weeks ago, also provided additional details, including Carmichael's home address and phone number, the name of his wife, and his career and educational background. Carmichael is a Princeton graduate and formerly worked for a firm defending insurance companies against claims. When contacted, his former employer laughed when told he had started a "neo nazi" group and said they were not surprised.

The only unknown in the League of American Patriots equation is the depth of involvement of John Justice, a Chicago factory owner and long time supporter of white activism who has bankrolled Kevin Alfred Strom's legal defense, but has no overt ties to Carmichael's organization. Justice, a former associate of Revilo Oliver, denied any involvement in Carmichael's group in a phone interview last week.

Regardless of recent set backs and the "exposure" of his work, Carmichael seems intent on reorganizing the Strom group, allowing only those who have not objected to Strom's pedophilic instincts to participate, and uniting with Blumetti's strange cult religion to form a "new approach" that he believes will catapult him to supreme dictatorship over the United States. While his organization has not been formally introduced to the public, he has received a receptive audience from white nationalist leaders like Don Black and Jared Taylor, and appears to be the focus of their latest efforts to regain their relevance to the white racial struggle.

Five Words to remember: No one beleives you, Fatty

Leviticus 20:13 states:

“ If a man lies with a man as one lies with a woman, both of them have done what is detestable. They must be put to death; their blood will be on their own heads.

Later passages do address the consequences of your perverted lifestyle.

No, Fatty, you weren't around when the Torah was written.

Try it yourself, bound for hell when you die, hypocrite.

I detect a measure of sincerity in your question and your response so I will try to answer in kind.
This is a dumb question. It is on par with asking women "How has having a vagina affected you?" A better question would be "How has it not affected you?" But in the spirit of niceness I will offer this insight: A big difference in the experience of guys and dolls is that the dolls can hide the fact that they are having extremely urgent sexual feelings - which in my experience they definitely have - whereas guys often cannot and that can be very awkward. I mean, I remember in school being terrified of being asked to stand up and walk to the chalk board whenever I saw a hot girl or was having thoughts about sex. I hope I do not have to explain this in greater detail.

Ed and Dorothy met while on vacation, and Ed fell head over heels in love with her. On the last night of his vacation, the two of them went to dinner and had a serious talk about how they would continue the relationship.
'It's only fair to warn you, I'm a total golf nut,' Ed said to his lady friend. 'I eat, sleep and breathe golf, so if that's a problem, you'd better say so now.' Dorothy responded, 'If we're being honest with each other, here goes. . . . .
I'm a hooker.' 'I see,' Ed replied,
and was quiet for a moment.
Then he added, 'You know, it's probably because you're standing with your legs too far apart.'

OK, by your definition (as a loyal EX-worker) State is near-perfect, right? They are "professional" right? They have "accomplished much" right? WRONG.

Oh, oh! Here we go again. Anyone against the mighty Heil is a "commie" or "comm-simp" or other derogatory Heil-defined
"badness." Tsk, tsk, more of the same from the code-tested

Poor baby, all upset by your own "reading between the lines" when others note your own pomposity and arrogance spilling out like leaky garbage in here?

Tell us, oh mighty "ambassador" what the Department of State has DONE to promote world peace DURING your illustrious career with State (at several smaller embassies in the world).

AFTER Vietnam (which ended for the USA 35 years ago), the USA has managed to try to restore peace in Lebanon but killed a bunch of USMC personnel without restoring much of anything; has never been able to END the Korean War (it is still holding "truce talks" regularly after July 1953 and has continued for 55 years); invaded Panama to extract a drug criminal under the guise of "protecting" the Canal Zone; invaded Grenada to "protect some US college students"; interceded in Kuwait to drive Iraqi invaders out (arguably one of the "good" acts); interceded in Somalia with force (which hasn't helped much since that country is still in trouble); interceded in the provinces of what had been Yugoslavia by force; interceded in Afghanistan to attempt finding Osama Bin Laden and squash Al-Quaida; outright INVADED Iraq and occupied the country for five years, losing more military personnel than were killed in the "9-11" attacks on New York City and Washington, DC.

WHERE were the "diplomats" and WHAT were they doing to avoid all of those actions done by MILITARY FORCE and resultant LOSS OF MILITARY LIVES?!? How many of those actions by State have been "successful?" Damn near ZERO. North Korea is still making tuff-guy noises, is still separated from South Korea. Vietnam was handed over to communists. The various provinces of old Yugoslavia have settled down to old-time fighting among themselves. Bin Laden hasn't been found. Al Quida is still on the loose. We don't really know what Iran is doing since the "intelligence community" has been even more close-mouthed since its dumbshit analysis of "weapons of mass destruction" in Iraq was WRONG. Oh, and I didn't even mention the TAKEOVER of the US embassy in Iran during the Carter administration...where the USMC guards couldn't prevent anything. The USSR failed of its own accord and broke up into individual nations right after the UN coalition drove Iraq out of Kuwait in the FIRST Gulf War. "Coincidence?" Maybe, maybe not...USSR-supplied weaponry to Iraq wasn't all that superior.

"Diplomacy" by the USA Department of State has been, for the most part of the last half century, INEFFECTIVE in actually SOLVING any crisis. Lots of titles for embassy staff, lots of self-defined "success" with damn little to show for it in DIPLOMATICALLY SOLVING international crises.

You call that "lunatic fringe" commentary all you like. Having fancy titles before/after your name and a cushy pension from serving in the smaller embassies does NOT qualify you to be so damn judgemental on the rest of us citizens...including citizens who were military volunteers before you escaped the draft by joining the USAF.

In the FCC Definitions' and Basis of Purpose, the FCC says that radio amateurs have "inherent good will." So, where has all that "good will" gone? Have YOU ever done any "good will" via CW and DX contacts to make efforts at "good will" to help ease world tensions? Quite probably NOT. You sure as hell did a fine job of protecting the olde-tymer turf by trying to hold back US amateur radio regulations. You've been busy, busy alienating newcomers or potential US licensees from your pompous-ass commands issued on How Everyone Should Behave (and worship the olde-tymers for their "inherent" knowing-what-is-best-for-all bullshit).

>Your comment makes it sound as if you believe you know >more about Foreign Policy than others who worked in the

WE can all read and listen to news. WE can all see the RESULTS of all the wondrous "foreign policy" pronouncements. WE can all see the FAILURES as recorded in history of the last half century. So much for you "professional" diplomats and hangers-on who are only interested in cushy retirement benefits and fancy titles. So much for you "professional" peace seekers who accomplished LITTLE, resulting in the MILITARY having to have to act and incur casualties. Real "professionalism" there, just like real "professional" politicians, talking and making lots of fancy noises yet accomplishing NOTHING.

>You really are a horse's patoot, Len.

So, you are not an expert on fecal subjects? You seem to know lots about horseshit, old man. It must be your calling...

No pejoratives have any effect on me other than being irritated by your waste of bandwidth in calling your enemies names. Your name-calling does NOTHING to solve your own frustrations or that of the US amateur radio service. All it does is satisfy your own cravings for being a big hee-row and In Control of some situation by DICTATING how YOU think things should be.

You are a Professional Amateur. You are an oxymoron.

Enjoy your last hurrah. No one is cheering you.

Except maybe the other code-tested Professional Amateurs.

Mark, it's a simple rule: Code-tested extras can call anyone else anything but none of us can call them back the same way. We would be violating their innate "superiority" that they've always defined themselves as... :-)

I and uncounted readers saw NO evidence of PROOF given by ol' Dud anywhere. That much WE KNOW.

Tsk, tsk, I can show you a site where Robeson stated he was with a MARS station in Vietnam...in 1981! :-)

The US of A ended its military actions IN Vietnam in 1973.

>>> "Could never" is not the same as "would not".

>>
>> Real official websites?

>How real need they be? They exist. They're run by veterans of various >units.

There is only ONE official website for records, NARA.
Particularly the military records depository in St. Louis.
That's about as OFFICIAL as possible.

Anyone can access NARA websites. But, they have specific rules as to WHO can get information. If one isn't a recognized or approved agency, they will need specific info on the veteran's social security number or military service number (used before the all-branches use of social security number went into effect).

That kind of privacy is wonderful for Stolen Valor thieves. They can make up all kinds of stories and become web celebrities telling stories and tales of heroism and wonder...without anyone being able to disprove a thing about them.

>> Or just collections of reader submittals?
>
>They're exchanges of reminiscences by those who served. The man I >replaced in Vietnam responded to one of my posts. He worked with the >same individuals I worked with.

Just HOW is that OFFICIAL?

And just what did Heil DO in Vietnam? Heil never said.
All Heil did was babble about "being in a country at war."
Tsk, I was "in a country at war" for about 4 1/2 years, the country being the United States of America...between the end of 1941 and middle of 1945. :-)

Gee, that's so easy, isn't it? Just write where one was and say - honestly - they were in a country at war. Makes others think the writer is a great big bona fide hee-row.
It's just an UNspecific statement, saying NOTHING about the individual.

Heil was USAF. USAF didn't go out on patrol like USA or USMC did in Vietnam. USAF AIRCREW got into battle but, was Heil an aircrew man?

>...but you have no knowledge of Steve's service. All you've done is >toss some wild allegations.

"Wild allegations?!?" Tsk, tsk, those aren't any "wilder" than Dud's WILD ALLEGATIONS that he was in "seven hostile actions." Robeson never stated where or what those hostile actions were. He made a WILD unspecific statement...WITHOUT ANY PROOF WHATSOEVER.

>> As usual, you condone insulters as long as they are code->> tested extras.
>
>As usual, you've read between the lines. I have condoned nothing.

When did YOU challenge Robeson on anything? It certainly wasn't on Robeson's WILD ALLEGATIONS of his "military service." You said NOTHING. Ergo, you CONDONED his actions.

In fact, you probably enjoyed the hell out Robeson calling several of us names and insulting us. Saved you the trouble of doing so when you disliked all of us so much. :-)

>I've >stated and restated that I found a web site which confirms Steve's USMC >service.

You mentioned it only twice. Don't exaggerate. If the website is not one of the National Archives and Records Administration or one of the military branches (Army, Navy, Air Force, Coast Guard), it isn't OFFICIAL.

> Can >you advise, O Wizened One, where I can find proof that N2EY condones >claims made by Steve, of his military service?

The LACK of response to Robeson's avalanche of filth and insults to others is CLEAR ENOUGH EVIDENCE for condoning Robeson's actions. Boy wonder N2EY made a very few weak-sister-like "challenges" to Robeson but those had the effect of a wet noodle on a raging forest fire. Nothing came of them.

Boy wonder N2EY never served his country in any military OR governmental capacity. He is hardly anyone who will get out and FIGHT for any kind of truth, justice, or freedom UNLESS it involves morse code.

>> Robeson offered NO PROOF.
>
>No, he didn't, but you've offered no proof of your insulting claims.

Tsk, tsk, Robeson NEVER OFFERED ANY PROOF so anyone challenging his lies "insults" him?!? Wow! Logic and truth turned upside down!

Okay, here's the assessment of Heil's way of logic and truth: If one is a code-tested extra, ANYTHING they say is honest and truthful. Those who challenge the code-tested extras are insulting liars. Everyone is supposed to look up to code-tested extras and respect their bravery and just love them all to pieces.

Yawn. Heil's "argument" and theory of operation is the reversal of REAL truth and REAL logic.

>Many have seen the less than honorable things you've written about the >military service or job situation of others.

Just WHAT are those "less than honorable things I've written about the military service?" Name a few. As a veteran, as a VOLUNTEER veteran of the US Army (when draftees were going into the USAF or USN to avoid being IN battle), I respect ALL who wear the uniform of the United States military.

AS a veteran can, I CAN engage in INTER-SERVICE banter with another veteran (except when they are code-tested extra class amateurs). That's typical among service members and veterans alike. Practically SOP.

Very, very few of us veterans and present-day military service people condone STOLEN VALOR THIEVES. We KNOW that some will exaggerate their service records but we also expect them to back down when confronted with TRUTH about what these STOLEN VALOR THIEVES have done.

>... Steve made no WILD CLAIMS.

BULLSHIT.

>He made statements concerning his military service.

He made CLAIMS. HE HAD NO PROOF of his claims. NONE.

>Now if you can disprove any of those claims, fine.

Disproof of something THAT DOES NOT EXIST is PROVEN by the lack of factual evidence on the part of the claimant.

>Until or unless you do, it'd be >the civil thing to lay off the accusations.

Ya know, colonel, I'm beginning to think YOU are one of those STOLEN VALOR THIEVES. You tell everyone to lay off Robeson despite his very visible, voluble tirades in here, a showcase of personal insults and invective, and tell us to "lay off?" Robeson is a code-tested extra. See any coincidence?

No, I don't think you admit that.

>He may a trunk full of photos, letter, documents, uniforms and more.
>What he hasn't done is show them to you.

Has Robeson showed them to YOU?

How do you know he has only one letter?

Why can't you get him to digitize anything of it to show the world?

One good reason can be that he really LIED about his "service." That "trunk" probably doesn't exist. Until YOU SHOW THAT SUCH RECORDS EXIST, YOU CAN JUST LAY OFF all these admonitions and shut up about it.

STOLEN VALOR THIEVES dishonor the US military, the country and, yes, even the amateur community of code-tested extras.

Do you have no HONOR except to your buddies, the code-tested extras?

You seem to be a very learned person with a lot of life experiences.

I would bet that if you put all of your experiences down in an autobiographical form, instead of just little snippets with each of your answers in various postings, that the readers at large might flock to that activity, and learn something.

What are you yapping about Morgan? You aren't even a no-code kicked to the curb extra like old Lenny.

Why don't you explain why you can't seem to pass such a simple exam?

Perhaps it was spam, then again that's a matter of individual

Special Bulletin 5 ARLX005
From ARRL Headquarters

To all radio amateurs

SB SPCL ARL ARLX005
ARLX005 National Hurricane Center's WX4NHC Sets On-The-Air Station Test

The annual WX4NHC On-the-Air Station Test from the National Hurricane Center (NHC) in Miami takes place Saturday, May 31, from 1300-2100 UTC. "The purpose of this annual Station Test is to test all of our radio equipment, computers and antennas using as many modes and frequencies as possible. This is not a contest or simulated hurricane exercise. New equipment and software will be tested, and some operator training will also be conducted," says WX4NHC Assistant Amateur Radio Volunteer Coordinator Julio Ripoll, WD4R. He adds that WX4NHC also will be testing new computers and software as well conducting operator training.

WX4NHC will be on the air on HF, VHF and UHF, plus 2 and 30 meter APRS. Suggested SSB frequencies are 3.950, 7.268, 14.325, 21.325 and 28.525 MHz, +/-QRM; WX4NHC reports that they will mostly be on 14.325 MHz and will make announcements when they change frequencies. WX4NHC also will be on the VoIP Hurricane Net 1700-1900 UTC (IRLP node 9219/EchoLink WX-TALK Conference) and on South Florida area VHF/UHF repeaters and simplex.

Stations working WX4NHC exchange call sign, signal report, location and name plus a brief weather report, such as "sunny," "rain" or "cloudy." Non-hams may submit their actual weather using the On-Line Hurricane Report Form. QSL to WD4R and include a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Do not send cards to the NHC. Due to security measures, no visitors will be allowed at NHC during the test.

ARLS006 New Russian Satellite in Orbit

ZCZC AS06

Space Bulletin 006 ARLS006
From ARRL Headquarters
Newington, CT May 29, 2008
To all radio amateurs

SB SPACE ARL ARLS006
ARLS006 New Russian Satellite in Orbit

A Russian rocket launched from Plesetsk on May 23 carried a number of payloads to orbit, including a new Amateur Radio satellite named Yubileiny -- Russian for jubilee -- since christened Radio Sputnik 30 (RS-30).

Operational details are vague at this time. Amateurs throughout the world report receiving signals at 435.315 and 435.215 MHz; some report reception of CW telemetry while others report what appear to be image transmissions from the satellite. RS-30 is orbiting at a maximum altitude of 1500 km, creating a substantial communications footprint below.

The satellite will broadcast audio and video about the history of the Soviet and Russian space programs, as well as signals imitating those broadcast by Sputnik in 1957.

According to the satellite's launch team, "The motive for development of the Yubileiny small spacecraft was the 50th anniversary of the first space satellite. With the help of that satellite, the new space systems and equipment are expected to get flight qualification, and radio-amateurs all over the world will be able to receive information on the history of space development and domestic cosmonautics achievements."

The Department of State isn't a person. It consists of thousands of Civil Service and Foreign Service employees as well as appointed members. I've made no claim of perfection or near-perfection.

"It", Len, not "they". It is a professional organization. Almost every employee acts in a professional manner. It has accomplished much by any standard. It conducts the business of the United States overseas and it carries out U.S. Foreign Policy.

mention badness.

I did nothing at government expense. I received a paycheck for my work.
The government did not subsidize my amateur radio operation from anywhere. It has been pointed out to you and others that no complimentary callsigns were received. I paid license fees in each and every country from which I operated. Unlike in the United States, the license fee in the countries from which I operated were paid yearly.

You make silly attempts to make something stick. You make yourself look foolish and small.

I wasn't an ambassador, Len. I've claimed no illustrious career. I had two assignments at mid-sized embassies and four at smaller embassies.
Those assignments come about because I bid on each of those assignments except for the first.

What would you have done to handle the situation with Manuel Noriega, Len?

How would you have handled the presence of Cuban troops in Grenada, Len?

Arguably? Who would call driving the Iraqis out of Kuwait a bad thing?

Do you have a workable solution concerning Somalia?

In all of 'em? If you mean that we stepped in to stop what had become a blood bath, I think that was a good thing. Don't you?

Most countries seem to think that was a good thing. Don't you?

> ...outright INVADED Iraq and occupied the country for

I see the invasion of Iraq as a necessary event. Saddam had made too many claims of having chemical and biological weapons. He had, in fact, used chemical weapons against Kurds in his country. He had invaded a neighboring country.

While the loss of any military member is tragic, the U.S. action in Iraq has resulted in relatively few casualties. How many U.S. servicemen did the U.S. lose in WWI? WWII? Korea? Vietnam?

In World War I, the British often lost in excess of 3,000 men per week.

There has been no second major attack on the U.S. since the invasions of Afghanistan and Iraq.

Now, how would you have handled these events, Leonard?

> WHERE were the "diplomats" and WHAT were they doing to avoid

Where were the diplomats? They were in Washington, D.C. and at each U.S. embassy and consulate worldwide. For a listing, see:

http://www.usembassy.gov/

The Department of State does not conduct military operations. Use of the military is another foreign policy tool of the sitting President.

It didn't happen on my watch. We were firmly in control at the time of my departure.

What took place in the United States which resulted in the departure of the American military, Len? How would you have handled things?

> The
> various provinces of old Yugoslavia have settled down to

No, Len, they haven't. We've seen the breakup of an artificial country into what they were before--smaller independent nations. What Tito held together by force, is no more.

> Bin Laden hasn't been > found.

Do you have a plan, Len. It is evident that he is in hiding in mountainous western Pakistan's tribal areas where he has much support. What would you do to find him? What political lines would you cross? Is it the job of the Department of State to catch him?

He is?

We don't know what is going on in Iran or no one has told you what is going on in Iran?

We certainly had Saddam's claim of WMD. We know he used such weapons on Kurds in his country.

> Oh, and > I didn't even mention the TAKEOVER of the US embassy in Iran

Let me lay something on you, Len: The Marine Security Guard detachments do offer some protection to embassy employees but that is not their primary duty. That is to protect classified information. In small embassies, there might only be six MSG's. In medium embassies, you might find ten. In large embassies there may be twenty. You might find a single MSG post at an embassy or you might find three or four. The rest of the detachment may be sleeping, training or off duty. A Marine Security Guard detachment is not for withstanding a mass attack on an embassy.

That's your revisionist view of history and you're stuck with it.

Was that the cause for the Iraqi troops to throw down their weapons and run?

I think you'd better look at those links I provided above. Your view seems a bit distorted.

> Lots of titles for embassy > staff, lots of self-defined "success" with damn little to > show for it in DIPLOMATICALLY SOLVING international crises.

Your wild claims above seem to mix the Department of State with the military actions. I can understand your statement about titles for the embassy staff positions. I seem to recall that you have problems with rank, titles and privileges.

> You call that "lunatic fringe" commentary all you like.

I've read your claims above. I consider them lunatic fringe. At the very least, they are the views of someone who knows few facts.

> Having fancy titles before/after your name and a cushy > pension from serving in the smaller embassies does NOT > qualify you to be so damn judgemental on the rest of us

"Judgmental", Len.

I never had a fancy title, Len, only a few ordinary ones. Retirement income is base upon a formula which includes years served and an average of high three years of pay. Under FERS, part of the retirement package is the Federal Thrift Savings Plan which equates to a 401-K.
The size of the embassy does not enter into the picture.

I may be judgmental if I perceive that I have more knowledge on a topic than you possess and if I observe that you behave in a less than civil manner.

> ...including citizens who were military volunteers
> before you escaped the draft by joining the USAF.

Earlier, in another post you asked me to provide proof that you had denigrated other veterans. Your statement above, provides that proof. No USAF veteran was other than a volunteer. The Air Force has never drafted anyone.

> In the FCC Definitions' and Basis of Purpose, the FCC says

You'll not find any statement about "inherent good will". The clause says, "(e) Continuation and extension of the amateur's unique ability to enhance international goodwill."

The good will hasn't gone anywhere, Len. I observe it daily on the amateur bands. I can understand your confusion as a relative newcomer.

> Have YOU ever done any > "good will" via CW and DX contacts to make efforts at "good > will" to help ease world tensions?

Yes, Len, I have. Are you doing your part?

> Quite probably NOT.

That's quite a silly assumption on your part. Quite a number of us gathered for the annual DX dinner at Dayton just recently. Later that evening, a fellow from Belarus, a Russian, a Bulgarian, two Mongolians, a ham from Hawaii and I talked into the wee hours. Earlier in the evening, DXers from all over the world socialized at the NJDXA's hospitality suite. Did you make it? Did I miss you there?

> You sure as hell did a fine job of protecting the olde-tymer

Hold them back? No, Len, I see amateur radio as having lost something important. At any rate, a change in the U.S. regulations does not have any large impact on international good will. You're simply wandering now.

No, Len, I have not. If I've alienated you, I don't mind. You were obnoxious before you became a radio amateur and you're obnoxious now that you've passed the exams.

None of that is evident from reading the things you wrote above. You may read and listen without understanding. You may look and not see.

> So much for you "professional"

I know what a professional diplomat is. What is a professional hanger-on? Who works under some really difficult conditions in places which can be dangerous, unhealthy, isolated or otherwise unpleasant for many years while only thinking of "cushy retirement benefits and fancy titles"? Why is some other guy's pension simply a pension but a Foreign Service member's pension "cushy"? Why does some fellow in private industry have a title, but a Foreign Service member's job description a "fancy title"? You sometimes provide a window into your twisted perspective.

> So much for you
> "professional" peace seekers who accomplished LITTLE, > resulting in the MILITARY having to have to act and incur

The military is simply another tool of foreign policy. Each administration makes decisions about whether to pursue only diplomacy or to threaten or actually use military force. The Department of State is tasked with carrying out the foreign policy of the sitting administration. What part don't you understand?

> Real "professionalism" there, just like real

The dissolution of the Soviet Union is NOTHING? Protecting American citizens is NOTHING? You write like some bitter, old man, Len.

I think it is incumbent on one to be able to recognize it when we see it. I've recognized not only the matter, but the source in your posts.

I beg to differ. If they had no effect on you, there would be no multi-paragraph rants such as the one to which I'm responding. [No bandwidth has been wasted or harmed in the making of this response.]

> Your name-calling does NOTHING to

I've written nothing to indicate that I am frustrated, Len. I know how to deal with you. I'm puzzled about your comments on the frustrations of the U.S. Amateur Radio Service. Can a radio service be frustrated?

> All it does is satisfy your own cravings for Okay, Len. What have I DICTATED concerning the U.S. Department of State? How does my control of the Department of State manifest itself? At which point did I declare myself a hero or "hee-row"?

> You are a Professional Amateur. You are an oxymoron.

I've made no such claim--ever, therefore there is no oxymoron on my part. The error would be yours.

> Enjoy your last hurrah. No one is cheering you.

This is by no means my last hurrah, Leonard and I think you may bee wrong about the last part of your statement.

> Except maybe the other code-tested Professional Amateurs.

The only person writing about "Professional Amateurs" is you. You've created another oxymoron.

Is this the only place you can find some action, Len? Won't the other radio amateurs play with you?

That might be your assessment, but there is nothing to indicate that it

Well, there's you. Challenging code-tested Extras isn't what gets you factual errors. You've been disingenuous and you have outright lied.

There's another. You equate the service of those who joined the USAF or USN as having done so to avoid battle. You made a ridiculous claim that draftees were going into the USAF or the Navy. No one was ever drafted into the Air Force. The only Navy personnel who were drafted, entered the Marine Corps a number of times. You volunteered but you never went into battle. There is a pattern to your attempts to twist fact.

That's peculiar.

I've offered you no proof of my Vietnam service. I have loads of photos, orders and other military documents and a DD-214 which say that I served. I've offered none of it to you and choose not to reveal it to you. You're saying that by failing to provide proof to you, my service have.

find yourself sitting on the floor despite your advanced years.

Steve Robinson has as much right to post here as you do. Your total word output, much of it consisting of personal insults, invective and denigration, vastly outweighs Steve's. You had no amateur radio license at all until a little over a year ago. See any coincidence?

One difference I note between you is that you have repeatedly offered to

You don't give orders and I don't shut up on your say so. You've told me to shut up before and have gone on about my having tried to stop you from posting here. That was an outright lie on your part.

> STOLEN VALOR THIEVES dishonor the US military, the country

I was with you right up until the last clause. That has not been demonstrated. I've seen nothing about radio amateurs as "STOLEN VALOR THIEVES".

> Do you have no HONOR except to your buddies, the code-
> tested extras?

What do you think, Len? My buddies are not all radio amateurs. Some of my buddies are friends from school years. Some are former and present neighbors. Some are fellow military veterans. Some are current or former State Department employees. Some are radio amateurs. Some are from my church. Now, let's look at your question and see if it makes any sense at all.

Now did you reappear in this newsgroup to discuss amateur radio policy, to moan about your perceived slight at the hands of the moderators of r.r.a.m. or to simply stir the pot? Have you joined the community of radio amateurs and can you act like it or are you only a fellow who obtained an amateur radio license recently but who plays the role of instant expert?

At the moment, you're acting like Mark Morgan with better spelling.

Recall -- Firm Press Release
FDA posts press releases and other notices of Recalls and market withdrawals from the firms endorse either the product or the company.

International Pharmaceuticals, Ltd. Issues a Voluntary Recall of all Viril-Ity-Power (VIP) Tabs, a Product Marketed as a Dietary Supplement Contact:
International Pharmaceuticals, Ltd.
admin@iplvip.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE -- Bradford, MA -
May 29, 2008 - International Pharmaceuticals, Ltd., P.O. Box 5165, Bradford, MA 01835, announced today that it is conducting a voluntary recall of all the company's supplement product sold under the brand name of Viril-Ity-Power (VIP) Tabs, 560mg/serving.

International Pharmaceuticals, Ltd. is conducting this recall after being informed by representatives of the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) that lab analysis by FDA of a sample from one lot of the product revealed that it contained a potentially harmful undeclared ingredient, hydroxyhomosildenafil.
FDA asserts that this ingredient is an analog of sildenafil. Sildenafil is the active chemical ingredient of an FDA-approved drug used for Erectile Dysfunction (ED) in men to enhance sexual performance. The use of undeclared chemicals pose a threat to consumers because they may harmfully interact with nitrates found in some prescription drugs (such as nitroglycerin) and may lower blood pressure to dangerous levels. Consumers with diabetes, high blood pressure, high cholesterol, or heart disease often take such nitrates.

VIP Tabs are sold in retail outlets nationwide and are packaged into 2-capsule blister packs and 8-capsule bottles.

Customers who have this product in their possession should stop using it immediately and contact their physician if they have experienced any problems that may be related to taking this product.

The Company advises that any unused portions be returned to CB Distributors in Benoit, Wisconsin, in accordance with return instructions/questions obtained by calling (800)-273-4137, Ext. 3.

Any adverse events that may be related to the use of this product should be reported to the FDA's MedWatch Program by phone at 1-800-FDA-1088
or by fax at 1-800-FDA-0178 or by mail at MedWatch, HF-2, FDA, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852-9787, or online at www.fda.gov/medwatch/report.htm.

The Company is working closely with the FDA in the recall process and is taking this voluntary action because it is committed to the quality and integrity of it's products, and is always concerned with the health of persons who may have consumed this product.

The Company sincerely regrets any inconvenience to consumers, and is reviewing the procedures and policies of all firms involved with the manufacture of this product to ensure that there will be no subsequent issues with regard to the composition of this product in the future.

Supreme Cuts Announces Voluntary Recall of Small Sample of Off The Cob Fresh Kernel Corn
Contact:
Lucy Rosen
(516) 222-0236

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE -- Mahwah, NJ, May 27, 2008 - As a precautionary measure, Supreme Cuts LLC has announced that it is voluntarily recalling 87 cases of Off the Cob Fresh Kernel Corn in 12 oz bags. The product may be contaminated with Listeria monocytogenes, an organism which can cause serious and sometimes fatal infections in young children, frail and elderly people, and others with weakened immune systems. Although healthy individuals may experience only short-term symptoms such as high fever, severe headache, stiffness, nausea, abdominal pain, and diarrhea, listeria infection can cause miscarriages and stillbirths in pregnant women.

The recalled product comes in a 12 oz clear plastic bag marked with a "best if used by" date of May 26, 2008 and lot # 5343. Off the Cob Fresh Kernel Corn with other lot numbers and "best if used by" dates are not affected.
Package instructions call for cooking this raw corn product. While thorough Cooking would be an effective control of Listeria monocytogenes contamination, consumers are urged to dispose of the product to avoid risks of undercooking or contamination of other foods. Other Supreme Cuts products also are not affected.

The recalled product was distributed to a small number of stores in New Jersey and Massachusetts.
No illnesses have been reported to date. All retail outlets carrying the product have been notified, and the bags affected by the recall are believed to have been removed from store shelves.

The potential for contamination was discovered when the company, during its standard company testing procedures, found a sample containing a very small amount of Listeria monocytogenes. [Production of Off the Cob Fresh Cut Corn has been suspended while Supreme Cuts investigates the source of the problem.

No other products from Supreme Cuts are involved in the recall. Supreme Cuts packages each of its products on separate production lines, so no other products are affected. Supreme Cuts is committed to rigorous product testing And food safety, and has a strong history as a premier processor and distributor of high quality pre-cut vegetables.

Any consumers who may still have "Off the Cob" with a "best if used by" date of May 26 should dispose of the product.

Consumers with questions can contact Lucy Rosen
at 516-222-0236.

In lieu of this monmumental event, will the congregation please stant and sing hymm #27 in your Prayer Partners Handbook. Ready? And a 1...and a 2....

Verse 1
I Heard An Old, Old Story, How A Savior Came From Glory,
How He Gave His Life On Calvary, To Save A Wretch Like Me;
I Heard About His Groaning, Of His Precious Blood's A-toning
Then I Repented Of My Sins And Won The Victor-y

Verse 2
I Heard About His Healing, Of His Cleansing Power Re-vealing,
How He Made The Lame To Walk Again, And Caused The Blind To See
And Then I Cried, "Dear Jesus, Come And Heal My Broken Spirit," And Somehow Jesus Came And Brought To Me The Victory.

Verse 3
I Heard About A Mansion, He Has Built For Me In Glory,
And I Heard About The Streets Of Gold, Beyond The Crystal Sea;
A-bout The Angels Singing, And The Old Redemption Story,
And Some Sweet Day I'll Sing Up There, The Song Of Victor-y.

* Chorus *
Oh, Victory In Jesus, My Savior, For-ever,
He Sought Me And Bo't Me With His Redeeming Blood,
He Loved Me Ere I Knew Him, And All My Love Is Due Him,
He Plunged Me To Victory, Be-neath The Cleansing Flood

;)

What part of "This blog is in violation of Blogger's Terms of Service and is open to authors only" don't you understand?

I'd say Todd's blog has been yanked all right, but you have to attempt to spin it in some other direction, and that tells us a lot about you.

To everyone else: Just keep on hitting the "flag this blog" button when you visit an objectional blog, and then hit the reload button to be sure that Blogger has been left with a log entry.

In the meantime, visit http://n90glv0ice.blogspot.com/ for a laugh at Todd's expense.

ARRL FILES COMMENTS IN TWO MATTERS BEFORE FCC

On Tuesday, May 27, ARRL filed electronic comments concerning two matters that the FCC has under consideration. The first set of comments concerns a company that filed a request for a waiver of Part 90 of the FCC rules; ReconRobotics, an electronics manufacturer, wishes to sell, and for its public safety customers to use, a robotic device that operates in the 430-448 MHz band. The primary allocation in that portion of the spectrum is United States government radiolocation (military radars). The Amateur Service has an allocation on a secondary basis. The second matter deals with GE Healthcare and their request for allocation of spectrum (as a secondary user) in the 2300 MHz band; the Amateur Service has a primary allocation in a portion of the requested band.

On January 11, 2008, ReconRobotics filed a request with the FCC for a waiver of Part 90 of the Commission's Rules with respect to the Recon Scout, a remote-controlled, maneuverable surveillance robot designed for use in areas that may be too hazardous for human entry. This device can be thrown, dropped or launched into hazardous areas and can provide an operator located a safe distance away with video and audio, along with infrared, biological, chemical, heat, radiation or other data. According to the FCC, ReconRobotics seeks a waiver to permit equipment authorization of the Recon Scout, and its use by state and local law enforcement and firefighting agencies and by security personnel in critical infrastructure industries.

The FCC said a waiver is required to permit licensing of the Recon Scout because "the device operates in the 430-448 MHz band." ReconRobotics asserts that because the Recon Scout operates with 1 W peak power, it is "unlikely to cause interference to these services."

The ARRL contends that "Because [this device] operates on a channelized basis, each of the three channels being six megahertz wide, the necessary bandwidth of the device is apparently close to 6 MHz. [ReconRobotics] asks that it be granted an unspecified series of permanent waivers to allow the marketing and sale to, and use of this device by law enforcement and fire department personnel for public safety applications. The Amateur Service, which has a heavily occupied, secondary allocation in the 420-450 MHz band...would be potentially substantially impacted by grant of these waivers."

The ARRL's comments also state that ReconRobotics "fails to establish that the 420-450 MHz band is the only viable choice and that no other band would be suitable; an obligation of the Petitioner in order to entitle it to a waiver." In requesting the waiver, ARRL asserts that ReconRobotics only claimed, but did not show, prove or demonstrate, that other bands were not suitable for its purposes. In other cases before the FCC as recent as 2006, the Commission denied such waivers, saying, "We do not believe that the public interest requires grant of a waiver merely to accommodate a manufacturer's choice of a specific frequency when others are available."

The ARRL contends, in its comments, that "nothing in the four corners of [ReconRobotics'] request indicates anything that would verify the factual conclusions offered. The waiver request boils down to 'trust us, we have checked into this.'"

The ARRL points out in its comments that there are differing amateur operations throughout the 420-450 MHz band. One of the channels ReconRobotics is requesting use of -- 442-448 MHz -- is used by amateur repeaters (with band plans varying by locality) and also for Amateur television repeater inputs. "These repeater inputs, both for voice and video, are at high locations where line-of-sight to [ReconRobotics] devices should be expected anywhere in the United States. Repeaters in this band are routinely used for emergency communications via amateur Radio for numerous served agencies including FEMA, and so at times when [ReconRobotic's] device may be expected to be used, the repeaters may be expected to be in operation in the same areas," ARRL comments state.

For this reason as well, the ARRL maintains that interference to [the Recon Scout] device may be expected on a regular basis from Amateur Radio operations: "While it is all well and good for [ReconRobotics], a manufacturer, to suggest that it understands that operation of the device would be subject to interference received from licensed users in the band, such interference is not a comforting thought for licensed radio amateurs who could very easily be perceived to be, or held responsible for the failure or malfunction of these analog devices in

given application and the danger to public safety officers who are relying on them. It is also too much to expect that a Public Safety licensee will understand that the use of the device is unpredictable because interference to the device is unpredictable. [ReconRobotics] is correct about one thing: Amateur Radio operators take their relationship with First Responders very seriously. Creating fundamental incompatibility between Public Safety communications and Amateur Radio operations serves no one well at all, and for this reason, [ReconRobotics] should reconfigure its device to operate in a different allocation."

The ARRL urges the FCC to deny the waiver request, "either permanently or even temporarily," and calls on the Commission to require ReconRobotics to "initiate a rulemaking proceeding if it feels that
the Part 90 or Part 15 rules governing analog devices are not sufficiently accommodating and should be changed, and could be changed consistent with interference avoidance. Repeatedly granting waivers for analog devices which do not meet the fundamental interference avoidance requirements of the existing rules is bad spectrum management and ill-serves the Amateur Service."

In December 2007, GE Healthcare filed ex parte comments in response to a Notice of Inquiry (NOI) in the pending "MedRadio" proceeding, proposing that the band 2360-2400 MHz be allocated on a secondary basis for
"Body Sensor Networks" (BSNs). These systems are apparently to be used for wireless patient monitoring. They are very short-range networks consisting of multiple body-worn sensors and nodes, connected via wireless to nearby hub stations at medical facilities and in homes.
The Amateur Radio Service is currently allocated 2390-2400 MHZ on a primary basis.

In its comments, the ARRL states that it does not expect a "significant amount of harmful interference to Amateur operations at 2390-2400 MHz from BSNs." GE Healthcare's proposal, however, makes "erroneous assumptions about Amateur uses in these bands, and the interference potential of the devices to Amateur Radio stations in residential
is not known."

According to GE Healthcare, they propose an allocation of the entire 2360-2400 MHz band for use of the BSN devices, but the ARRL contends that "in any given area, only 20 MHz of that band would be used. [GE Healthcare's] proposal specifically mentions Amateur Radio and claims that, because the band 2390-2400 MHz is 'designed [sic] for fast scan video, high rate data, packet, control and auxiliary applications' and not weak signal communications, it is well-suited for sharing with the BSN systems."

The ARRL argued that this is a misconception on GE Healthcare's part: "The fact is that there are no limitations on the type of Amateur uses to be made in these bands. The band may in fact be used in some areas for weak signal communications, on a completely unpredictable basis. The uses of this band by radio amateurs, though guided overall by a national band plan, are very much subject to local variation dictated by custom and usage. Weak signal Amateur communications utilize long propagation paths, very low received signal levels, and very high transmitted signal levels. The band is also used for long distance data, voice and television communications using relatively weak received signal levels."

The ARRL, in its comments, said it "is far more concerned" about potential interference to BSNs from licensed Amateur Radio operation in the 2390-2400 MHz band: "The ramifications of radiofrequency interference (RFI) to these systems in terms of danger to medical patients are obvious, and potentially severe." The ARRL contends "that the potential for interference from Amateur Radio operations, which are in this band occasionally itinerant and mobile, but most often fixed in residential areas, to BSNs operated at a patient's residence would be...a problem."

In light of the possibilities of harmful interference, the ARRL requested that the FCC "not proceed with the proposal of GE Healthcare as proposed in the 2390-2400 MHz band."

Not true, but there is no reason to discuss anything with you at this compromise with moral principle as the price of posting at some forum

I as not willing to pay that 10 yars ago here 2 years ago at QRZ a month roughly ago at QRZ or now at the isalnd

The Island was more usfull than say QRZ but the politics were increasingly over wheming

The lesson I mentioned was the fact that just like QRZ and Eham, the Island also is a private site, and there are certain posting guidelines that folks are expected to follow, which do include compromises. Just like in life, follow the rules and everything is fine, break the rules and you will find yourself in trouble with the powers that be. Not everyplace on the web is like the wild west, in a civilized society we are expected to act civil, even on certain forums on the net.

Limbaugh nailed this one~

Incredible, unforgivable and shameful?? Read Below Love him or loathe him, he nailed this one right on the head.....

By Rush Limbaugh:

I think the vast differences in compensation between victims of the September 11 casualty and those who die serving our country in Uniform are profound No one is really talking about it either, because you just don't criticize anything having to do with September 11. Well, I can't let the numbers pass by because it says something really disturbing about the entitlement mentality of this country. If you lost a family member in the September 11 attack, you're going to get an average of $1,185,000. The range is a minimum guarantee of $250,000, all the way up to $4.7 million.

If you are a surviving family member of an American soldier killed in action, the first check you get is a $6,000 direct death benefit, half of which is taxable.

Next, you get $1,750 for burial costs. If you are the surviving spouse, you get $833 a month until you remarry. And there's a payment of $211 per month for each child under 18. When the child hits 18, those payments come to a screeching halt.

Keep in mind that some of the people who are getting an average of $1.185 million up to $4.7 million are complaining that it's not enough. Their deaths were tragic, but for most, they were simply in the wrong place at the wrong time. Soldiers put themselves in harms way FOR ALL OF US, and they and their families know the dangers. (Actually, soldiers are put in harms way by politicians and commanding officers.)

We also learned over the weekend that some of the victims from the Oklahoma City bombing have started an organization asking for the same deal that the September 11 families are getting. In addition to that, some of the families of those bombed in the embassies are now asking for compensation as well.

You see where this is going, don't you? Folks, this is part and parcel of over 50 years of entitlement politics in this country. It's just really sad. Every time a pay raise comes up for the military, they usually receive next to nothing of a raise. Now the green machine is in combat in the Middle East while their families have to survive on food stamps and live in low-rent housing. Make sense?

However, our own US Congress voted themselves a raise. Many of you don't know that they only have to be in Congress one time to receive a pension that is more than $15,000 per month. And most are now equal to being millionaires plus. They do not receive Social Security on retirement because they didn't have to pay into the system. If some of the military people stay in for 20 years and get out as an E-7, they may receive a pension of $1,000 per month, and the very people who placed them in harm's way receives a pension of $15,000 per month.

I would like to see our elected officials pick up a weapon and join ranks before they start cutting out benefits and lowering pay for our sons and daughters who are now fighting.

' When do we finally do something about this?' If this doesn't seem fair to you, it is time to forward this to as many people as you can.

you know to even pretend to converse it might help if you responded to what I have wrriten in some fashion

I have never denied the power to ban for whatever reason the private site holder wishes

I treated other as they treatted me I simply disagreed with them on principled points

I mention that MY fellow islander in there own were harrasing abusing and Threatening but tstil Mike had every right to ban with or without reason

No rule was broken my mem on the island the owner simply and lawfully used his power I got no complaints about that

It was a simple matter I could choose to not to defend my pricples or be banned givenn the choice I several asked offered to leave even but no he decideds to ban me in fit of rage or anger , his right I fully agree

But while the sitie was slightly more usefull than say the QRZ
although it was going down hill fast on that score as well but resspectfull disagree emtnwas simply not premited dispite the conatnsc alims it was I even did favors for one fo the mods and at the risk of turning Todds anger at MYSELF but in agratitude is within the mans rights too

you care to help some more spread this arround on the net as service I feel to those looking over the sight now or in future

I only staarted the thread so as to not be accused of hiding the banning Indeed I am now amoug I belive 3 people the Island is afraid to face in open deabate even witht he their powers as mod to back it up

BTW why did you bring up Eham I post their fine not often since the place is pretty slow sometimes

The lesson I mentioned was the fact that just like QRZ and Eham, the Island also is a private site, and there are certain posting
guidelines that folks are expected to follow, which do include compromises. Just like in life, follow the rules and everything is fine, break the rules and you will find yourself in trouble with the powers that be. Not everyplace on the web is like the wild west, in a civilized society we are expected to act civil, even on certain forums
on the net.

Compromises? Mark? Naahhhhh....
Act civil? Mark? Naahhhhh....

It thoroughly irks Mark that he has been banned from these sites, yet he continues to obfuscate the REAL reasons why. He continues to play the role of "victum" when he alone is at fault.

He just doesn't get it.

1. Country “A” plans to provide end to end Internet connectivity to its residents at affordable cost. Though, it is as small as New York State, but the estimated population is almost 150 million. Country “A” is concerned that the Internet penetration rate is as low as 0.4 percent till date. The country is connected to only one submarine Internet backbone, installed at a cost about 94 million U.S. dollars back in 2006, but almost 90% of its capacity has remained un-utilized, due mostly to its initial high tariff rates, lack of proper nationwide telecommunications backbone infrastructure and its pricing model which failed to promise the ability to reach it’s prospective subscribers in under-privileged areas. As usual, the state owned incumbent phone/ Internet company could not reach those unconnected as expected and they long ago amortized the cost of their fewer copper network, as they hardly added new connections over the years, and spent barely anything on expanding it. The e-commerce could not start, as you have guessed it right - where is the connectivity?

2. Let’s get to some of the basic facts which will determine the Internet business cases viable for this country. The country is very flat, I would say, it is the radio propagation heaven. The population is heavily dense, which means you get to meet more than 2700 people in a square mile. This will bring the thought in your mind that investment on infrastructure will have its return over night. That’s why the local subsidiary of foreign cell phone companies is earning their fortune here. The single radio BTS don’t even need to reach out to cover cell planning area, because it gets filled up way before half of its expected coverage.

3. The per capita GDP is close to US$ 470 (as estimated in 2007) which will depict the baseline of affordability of the common people. I would say, the lowest Internet connectivity tariff may start at 4 USD, because that really can be termed as affordable for this country. I understand Maintaining QoS of Internet at this price can be challenging, but the existing broadband policy sets 128 kpbs as a minimum for time being. Here most of the existing (mostly unlicensed) ISP’s don’t care about the contention ratio for the home users, because with the existing higher bandwidth pricing, it is nearly impossible to provide good contention ration like 1:20 or 1:30 with 8-9 USD. The taxation on CPE (modems) is also arbitrarily high to get the cost down.

4. Say, right now, the policy makers of this country really want to connect all the unconnected like providing universal access services obligation. Let’s set the initial connection speed to 64 kpbs for some time to get the initial cost down. While there is very less infrastructure on copper or fiber (FTTH and ADSL relies heavily on infrastructure) in this country, Broadband Wireless Access (BWA) technologies can be life saver for reaching everyone. The population density, the vibrant private sector with state support for ICT should be able to deliver when it comes to connecting those unconnected. Here technologies like WiMAX/Wi-Fi and HSPA can be good contenders for connecting everyone wirelessly. For most countries, these BWA services are complementary to those offered by ADSL/cable and FTTH, but here the scenario is different now. For reaching everyone, it (BWA) has to be the primary stop gap solution before the real infrastructure comes up. We have to give it a time. With regard to spectrum costs and charges, telecommunication experts sometimes opine that charges paid for radio spectrum exceeding the costs for administrative spectrum management - either caused by auctions or set in beauty contest's spectrum fees - should be avoided as far as possible and in any case should flow back into the telecommunications sector for the benefit of the information society of a country. The attribution processes should be judged on merits how the country is benefited, and not to consider this as an opportunity for governments to withdraw additional money from this sector in order to reduce their budget deficit. For future expansions, experts generally support the principle of "technology neutrality" as proposed by other regulatory authorities for the optimum delivery of BWA services.

5. Now, let's say, we have devised BWA services to be the best methodology to bridge the digital divide quickly. Before opening up these BWA operations to private sector, the country needs to figure out what is best way to reach its goal. That is why the authorization of Telecommunications Services to the companies and right to use radio spectrum and licensing rural and universal access services should be dealt differently. Other countries which has ADSL and FTTH up and running might have the luxury to earn extra cash by auctioning, but we have be little careful about that. Let me put something from ICT regulatory toolkit document ….

"There are significant differences in the authorization practices in force in different countries. At one end of the spectrum are wide-open authorization regimes, where no form of governmental approval is required to start a telecommunications service business or to operate network facilities. At the other end are individual licensing regimes with lengthy licence documents customized to the circumstances of a specific service provider. In between are many forms of general authorization or "class licences" that authorize and provide generally applicable regulatory conditions for classes of telecommunications service providers."

6. We hear loads of good thing about spectrum auctioning but it does not work when it comes to using it for universal access services. But, it is true that as per the Telecommunication Regulatory Handbook, in least-cost subsidy auctions, a selection is made based on which qualified applicant requires the lowest subsidy to provide a non-economic service. The services authorized using a least-cost subsidy auction is generally subsidized as part of a country's universal access program. This country "A" is yet to work on that kind of program right at this moment. Others would say, prices for mobile communications services in the United States continue to drop despite the billions of dollars paid for licenses in FCC auctions. Those who claim that bid prices will be passed through to consumers have yet to provide a sound economic argument or to show any empirical evidence that this has occurred anywhere in the world. It's confusing, it is!

7. On the contrary, beauty contest seems to the most adequate method to allocate the spectrum licenses because the regulatory authority is in a position to design the comparable criteria around the country's need. It (merit based comparative evaluation approach) has its downside for not being that transparent like auction. Most of the comparative evaluations require the applicants to make the best use of the limited resources associated with the license to serve the public. That saves the hidden cost passed on to the subscribers. It also relies in part on quantitative measures, such as the time it might take to cover the whole area (coverage obligation), the number of years of operational experience. Others rely on more qualitative (and thus subjective) criteria, such as the management skill. But, it brings out the applicants technical competence, experience, and cost efficiency. Some regulators might even put specific criteria like the lowest tariff for Internet connectivity to the home users. This requires the applicants to review their business case to offer the lowest tariff based on its ROI. This exercise makes the prospective service provider to open up its business case to the evaluator. The evaluation committee might have to get down calculating the cost per Hz per population, which seems a great idea to minimize the cost as this will be passed on to the subscribers. But, its success largely depends on building a smart merit based comparative evaluation metrics (criteria) with some pre-set list of selection criteria with the distribution of weight-age. Those can be listed under some broad head like, Business Plan, Telecommunications Sector Experience and Financial Strength and Stability and Network roll-out obligation.

8. Here's how I thought of building one from some of the regulatory consultation papers …

Merit Based Evaluation on Defined Performance Metrics

1. Past Performance (should the country consider licensing from existing operators).

a) Service Roll-out and Coverage

aa) Coverage Provided (a. Number of transmitters, b. Number of base station sites and their demographic distribution, c. Percentage of Land mass and Population receiving coverage from Applicant's network, d. throughput)

bb) Spectrum Efficiency (a. Earlngs per MHz of spectrum allocated, b. Quality of Service based of allocated spectrum, spectrum reuse schemes)

b) Delivered Telephony Penetration

aa) Number of subscribers served, Subscriber Growth, Subscribers per MHz of spectrum.

bb) Urban Penetration (Contribution to penetration over 5 Year period, Spectral efficiency in terms of cell planning in dense area)

cc) Rural Penetration (Contribution to penetration over 5 year period, aggressive pricing scheme to reach the under privileged area)

c) Investment

aa) Financial Standing (Audited financial statements for the past 3 years to assess operational track record)

bb) Investment Record (Annual investments on network and non network capital assets over the last 5 years)

d) Regulatory Compliance

aa) Compliance Confirmation (Minor and major violations if any, show causes also to be considered)

e) Technology Development

aa) New Services (Number of new services introduced over last 5 years)

bb) New Technologies (Pioneering technologies introduced over the last 5 years)

cc) Local R&D (Locally developed products and the contents)

dd) Technology (development contribution to ICT sector partnerships established to promote/assist local ICT sector)

f) Quality of Service

aa) Network Performance, Fault Incidence and Repair, Customer service complain handling, throughput as promised

bb) Ability to provide broadband service with the expected contention ratio

9. Now, when inviting new players it to this BWA regime, we need to evaluate their business case to evaluate their capability to roll-out throughout the country.

a. The Business Plan

1) Pricing of services, the introduction of services and distribution plans.

2) Local employment, skills transfer and training.

3) The involvement of local businesses either as shareholders, partners or as suppliers of goods and services leading to reinvestment in the Country “A”s economy, and minimizing the exportation of economic benefits.

4) Geographical coverage and coverage in terms of population, of network and services, and rate of roll out. (Number of transmitters and roll out plan, number of base station sites and their demographic distribution along with implementation time-line, i.e. service launch time-line of pilot service, full commercial service, network deployment plan etc.)

5) Promotion of applications and content services development,

6) Promotion of Human Resource Development such as job creation, knowledge development etc.

7) Range and quality in the BWA services provided by the Applicant.

8) Evidence of primary and secondary market research supporting forecasts and financial plans.

9) Financial aspects related to the planned BWA network, particularly evidence of the necessary funding and commitment to funding the business.

10) Experience and track record under comparable conditions, and proven ability and capability to deliver commitments made in competitive markets.

11) The overall soundness and quality of the business plan.

b. Miscellaneous Obligations

a) Country “A” would love to have proposals from the applicant to provide free basic 256 kbps wireless broadband services to all the public schools for the first year. This enables all the schools to be connected to Internet. It makes a CSR (corporate social responsibility) case for them.

b) Valued users to be provided the enhanced mobility services including voice-over-IP, video conferencing, online gaming, location-based services etc.

c) Right to share its own infrastructure and should not invest on newer infrastructure when competitors have that already.

9. Some experts says that new operator should not be barred from providing some services like voice when home broadband phone can never take away Cell Phone’s position, at least for next 10 years here in this country “A”. Voice is still a prime service here in this country. This can be done in order to allow new operators to join the market simply without constraints until a SMP state is reached. In this later case, some constrains might be imposed to guarantee that the free competition is in conformity with the free competition regulatory framework. Also, required modification in regulations to make spectrum available and harmonize use of spectrum across international boundaries can only pave its way to connect the unconnected.

10. Please provide me some feedback on making a great Merit Based Evaluation form on defined performance metrics. What more should I include to make it somehow full proof to get the widest coverage of Internet with the lowest tariff?

[Consultation papers from NTRA, OFCOM, TRCSL, Maravedis, TRA (Bahrain), CSK, OECD, OFTA, Industry Canada, MCA, ECC, GSA, HTLL, IDA, ETNO, IEEE 802 LMSC, MPT and NTA were really helpful to make these metrics]

Sincerely Yours,

How many people will die, not because of me, but becaue a group of amateur radio operators decied to remove my blog off the internet?? how many mother and fathers will cry that their loves are dead because amatuer radio felt the need to remove from the web??? No, it isn't my fault, no instead it is those amateur radio operators and google who is to blame, I only wish I could see the suffering on those people faces and tell them that this wouldn't of happened if google and the amateurs would of just left me alone. I am happy that I will be able to retur to radio, without interference from the FCC and any one else, after all teh emergency frequencies aren't in use, much so it should be pretty quiet down there and up there on VHF. I hope you hams enjoy your victory while people die.....I hope google is happy and is celebrating my removal while people are dying. I hope the FBI is getting their NUTS off in celebration of my removal of my blog, while people die.....see you on the radio :)

According to Mark, your site wasn't removed. It's permissions were just changed.

Feel better now? Mark thinks you should, because your site is still there.
